CRUCIBLE STEEL DIRECTORS CHOOSE W. G. PARK CHAIRMAN AND SECURE ADDITIONAL FUNDS

More Than $2,000,000 Is Quickly Raised to Provide Working Capital for Clairton and Care for Its Indebtedness.

U. S. STEEL CORPORATION FAILED IN ITS CONTRACT

After All-Day Session of Board President Frank B. Smith Issues Statement Telling Situation and Forecasting Discontinuing of Preferred Dividends If the Larger Operations of Clairton Should Render It Necessary.

By reason of the failure of consummation of the sale of the Clairton Steel Company property, under the contract which had been executed between the Crucible Steel Company and the United States Steel Corporation, and which the officers of the Crucible Steel Company had every reason to believe up to the last moment would be carried out, it became necessary to obtain additional funds as working capital for the purpose of operating the Clairton plant and taking care of its indebtedness.

At a meeting of parties interested, sufficient subscriptions have been obtained to effect this purpose.

It has also been considered advisable to effect a reorganization of the officers of the company, and it has been arranged to have Mr. William G. Park become chairman, in full control, so that the reorganization will show the following officers:

WILLIAM G. PARK, Chairman.
FRANK B. SMITH, President and General Manager.
REUBEN MILLER, First Vice President.
HERBERT DUPUY, Second Vice President.
ROBERT E. JENNINGS, Third Vice President.
JULIUS BIELER, Treasurer.
ALEXANDER THOMAS, Secretary.

Executive Committee.

W. G. PARK.	W. P. SNYDER.
REUBEN MILLER.	JAMES H. PARK.
HERBERT DUPUY.	A. W. MELLON.
FRANK B. SMITH.

It is probable that the larger operations of the Clairton Steel Company may require the company to discontinue the dividends on the preferred stock. If this proves to be so, the directors will not hesitate to suspend dividends while this necessity exists.

The above statement was issued by President Frank B. Smith of the Crucible Steel Company of America at the conclusion yesterday afternoon of a meeting of the directors of the company lasting throughout the day. The meeting was held in the directors' room of the Clairton Steel Company in the Frick building and during its progress the entire subject was exhaustively considered and others interested were called into conference.

Several points stand out prominently in the statement. The election of William G. Park as chairman of the board, "in full control," adds to the active management of the company one of the brightest men in the crucible steel industry.

Mr. Smith Remains President.

The success of the Park Steel Company, with which he was prominently identified and which is now one of the constituent properties of the Crucible, is well remembered. Mr. Park takes the place made vacant by the choice of Reuben Miller as first vice president. Mr. Miller has been eager for a long time to be released from the arduous duties of the active occupation of the position of chairman and gives up the position gladly to Mr. Park.

Frank B. Smith remains president and general manager, a position for which he is acknowledged to be eminently fitted and which he has filled well since his choice about six months ago. He had been in training for the task before and succeeded Mr. Miller, who accepted the presidency temporarily upon the retirement of the former president.

Subscription Over $2,000,000.

The statement gives as the cause of the new plan the failure of the United States Steel Corporation to carry out its contract to acquire a half interest in the Clairton Steel Company. The additional funds which were subscribed at yesterday's meeting amount to a little more than $2,000,000. This, it is believed, will furnish the needful working capital for the operation of the Clairton plant and for taking care of its indebtedness.

It can be stated positively that all of the subscriptions came from interests identified with the company. Individuals who are stockholders and who are confident of the bright future of the company subscribed amounts making the total of over $2,000,000. It is believed that if more is required it can be had from sources equally closely identified with the company.

Changes Made Harmoniously.

The changes in the official roster by which W. G. Park and Herbert DuPuy become members of the executive committee are accomplished with the voluntary consent of those whose place is taken in each case. Benjamin Atha, who lives in New Jersey and is, therefore unable to attend frequent meetings of the executive

POLICY OF CONGRESS TO BE VERY CONSERVATIVE

Republican Leaders Unite on Program for Coming Session—Dalzell May Be Supplanted on Committee on Rules.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 14.—Word has been passed along the line that the policy of the speaker and the Republican leaders in the forthcoming session of congress will be one of rigid economy and greatest conservatism. There will be no new public building bills, but only the continuance of appropriations for projects hitherto authorized. There will be no general river and harbor bill, but only provision for contract work provided for by previous sessions. There will be no tariff legislation and no reciprocity except for Cuba. There will be no financial legislation and no changes in or expansion of anti-trust legislation already on the statute books, and congress will adjourn by April or in May at the latest.

This is the program outlined to date and it has the sanction of President Roosevelt and the committee on rules of the house. It is said that the pruning of expenditures will be in large measure dictated by the state of the public finances. There is reason to expect a decrease of receipts for the next fiscal year. There is also occasion to fear a falling off in exports, which would reflect upon trade conditions.

The new speaker, it is said, realizes fully the situation in that regard. He is determined to hold the situation well in hand, however, and in his own hand at that. The committee on the rules and the committee on appropriations are the two instruments of paramount influence in shaping the record of congress. These two committees the speaker will organize to suit the purpose of the administration.

Mr. Hemenway, the prospective chairman of appropriations committee, is thoroughly in accord with the speaker and the administration.

There has been considerable gossip to the effect that Representative Dalzell is to be supplanted on the committee on rules by a man who is closer to Speaker Cannon than the Pennsylvania member. So far as known, it is only gossip, as Mr. Cannon has made no public statement that would indicate that he had any such intention. However, the committee on rules is looked upon as the cabinet of the speaker and it is conceded that the speaker has a perfect right to fill that committee with his close personal friends.

Mr. Dalzell and Mr. Cannon have always been on the best of terms, although they have not been what might be called close personal friends. It is not believed that Mr. Cannon would be influenced in this matter by the fact that Mr. Dalzell was a formidable opponent for the speakership, since that race was an open one, free for all and was not characterized by anything to engender harsh feelings.

Mr. Dalzell's standing in the house is such that even if the speaker should see fit to drop him from the committee on rules, his prestige in congress will not be affected. He is the ranking member of the committee on ways and means and it has been as a member of that committee that he has made his influence so widely felt in the legislation that has brought prosperity to the country. There is no suspicion that Mr. Cannon would think of disturbing Mr. Dalzell in this position.

SURPRISE BY GOVERNMENT

BIG CROWD AT TRIAL

INSPECTORS TO TAKE STAND

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 14.—Standing room was in demand in the United States district court room on the second day of the trial of Miller and Johns for conspiracy in connection with the recently exposed postal frauds. Nine witnesses were examined today and the government has four more to call, so that the defense will not begin until the afternoon of the third day, and the case may not go to the jury until the last day of the week.

The principal witnesses were Ryan and the officials from Washington. The defense was not taken by surprise until the afternoon, when the stenographic reports of the private secretaries of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow and of Gen. Robb of interviews with Miller were introduced as evidence.

Joseph T. Watson, secretary and stenographer to the fourth assistant postmaster general, testified to being concealed in the office of his chief while Gen. Robb and Chief Inspector Cochran had their first interview with Miller about the reports of the postoffice inspectors regarding the decisions in the Ryan cases and the discovery of his relations with Johns. He then read from his original stenographic notes all that was said during the two hours, and before that, that these officials were thus questioning Miller regarding the case.

The sensational appearance of Watson on the stand was followed soon afterward by Charles R. Robb, assistant attorney general for the postoffice department, being called and he produced a copy of the transcribed stenographic notes of his secretary, Mr. Tullis, of another long interview with Miller when the same parties were present.

Judge Thompson decided that a prima facie case had been sufficiently made out to permit the testimony of Ryan to be admitted. Ryan reported in detail the alleged conversation between Johns and himself in the room at the Terre Haute hotel during which the witness claimed to have made a contract with Johns for $4,500, for favorable ruling from Miller. Ryan said this sum, $1,100 of it in cash and the balance in two checks, he gave to Johns in the Gibson house at Cincinnati, last winter.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Senator George E. Green was arrested today and arraigned before United States Commissioner Hall on an indictment found October 8 in Washington, charging him with conspiring with George W. Beavers and William D. Doremus to sell the government, through Beavers, stamp cancelling machines, known as the Doremus machine, in which Green was largely interested. Green demanded an examination and the case was set down for trial November 9, when the previous indictments will come up. Bail was fixed at $5,000 which was furnished.

SOLDIERS WILL NOT BE TRIED BY COUNTY COURTS

U. S. District Attorney Says Status of Arsenal Case Will Be Changed at Proper Time.

"The department of justice and the department of war agree with me that the county courts have no jurisdiction in the cases of Lieut. Ralph W. Drury and Private John W. Dowd, held by the coroner's jury of Allegheny county for the murder of William H. Crowley. At the proper time the proper methods will be employed to take the case out of the county courts."

This statement was made by United States District Attorney James S. Young on his return from Washington last night. Mr. Young, while at the capital held a conference with Attorney General P. C. Knox, at which the arsenal case was thoroughly discussed and a plan of action determined upon.

Mr. Young refused to state whether habeas corpus proceedings would be instituted, but it is supposed this is what he meant by his statement. He said there is plenty of time for the action to be taken, since the men are out on bail and could not possibly be held by the grand jury until the December term. If the case is taken out of the local courts there is a possibility it may never be tried.

H. J. HEINZ HELPS SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK

Gives $1,000 in Response to John Wanamaker's Appeal for an Increased Fund.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SCRANTON, PA., Oct. 41.—At the annual session of the State Sabbath School association with John Wanamaker presiding, $15,000 was raised today for carrying on the work during the coming year. Mr. Wanamaker stated that expenses would increase and that contributions should be increased 25 per cent. The appeal was successful.

Mr. Wanamaker, who gave $3,000 last year, made his contribution this year $3,750. H. J. Heinz of Pittsburgh gave $1,000. The sum of $8,990 was pledged by the county associations. The extra money is needed as salaries for 50 field secretaries who are to be put at work next summer in the leading cities of the state. The force is to be recruited from theological students.

The reports show a decrease of 50 in the number of Sunday schools. The officers will be elected tomorrow and the convention will come to a close tomorrow night.

DEATH IN THE STREET.

Prominent New Yorker Run Down and Killed in Crowded Broadway.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Gen. Henry Harrison Boyce, secretary of the Navy league of the United States, and having offices at 32 Broadway, was knocked down and run over by a surface car in front of his office late this afternoon, receiving injuries which caused his death shortly afterward in the Hudson Street hospital, where he had been taken in an ambulance.

Gen. Boyce was for many years a prominent figure in financial and political circles in California. He came to New York eight years ago. During the Hanna senatorial muddle he became involved in an alleged plan to bribe members of the Ohio house to vote for Hanna and later left for Canada, where he remained for some time. He was an officer in the union army during the civil war. He was a member of the military order of the Loyal Legion of the United States.

HE BOUGHT AN ISLAND FOR THIRTY-NINE CENTS

HARRISBURG, PA., Oct. 14.—(Special.) Senator John E. Fox of this city secured a title from the state for an island, containing one acre and 44 perches, for the sum of 39 cents. It is in the Susquehanna river opposite Harrisburg. Senator Fox recently filed a claim for it, and, as he was the only claimant, Secretary of Internal Affairs Brown today issued a permit to him.

BIG FIRE FROM LACK OF WATER

BURNED TO GROUND

Spectators and Occupants of Houses Were Powerless to Save the Buildings.

WATER COMPANY ARRAIGNED

Hundreds of persons stood idly by and watched four of the finest residences in Crafton burn to the ground last night. They were powerless to do anything, as there was not a drop of water to be had. For three hours the flames burned skyward and ate up property valued at $20,000. The homes destroyed were situated in Josephine street, in what is known as old Crafton terrace.

They were located on the same side of the street and within short distances of each other. All were built of frame and once the fire gained headway they burned like tinder. Three of the houses were owned by E. D. Steinman, city ticket agent of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Pittsburgh, and the other by W. Miller of the East End. The houses owned by Steinman were occupied by J. W. Howells, Ray Forcer and a negro family named Sammons. The fourth house was occupied by H. D. Griffiths.

The fire originated in the Sammons house and started about 9 o'clock, although the alarm was not turned in for about 12 minutes afterward, from the home of Prof. T. C. Blaisdell, principal of the Pittsburgh high school. Chief Alfred Tuttle of the Crafton fire department had a line of hose promptly trained on the blaze but water refused to come.

The fire, which originally had been confined to the bath room, gradually spread over the entire house, and the firemen and the spectators were powerless to save the building. The adjoining houses presently caught fire and the occupants of all the houses in the vicinity quickly removed their household goods into the streets and joined the crowd in watching their homes being burned to the ground.

The fire gradually died away, a mass of ashes and cinders marking the spots where a few hours before handsome and comfortable dwellings stood. At one time it looked as though houses in the rear of the burning buildings would ignite, and the light wind, more than anything else, probably prevented Crafton from being the scene of the greatest conflagration this section has ever witnessed.

Mrs. Blaisdell, wife of Prof. Blaisdell, was removed from her home shortly after the fire began, in a dead faint. She had just arrived from Chautauqua, where she became convalescent after an attack of typhoid fever. She was greatly fatigued by her journey and was in a weak physical condition. She was removed to the residence of R. L. Foulks, a short distance away, and a doctor summoned. Her condition is said to be serious.

A severe arraignment of the Chartiers Valley Water Company was made during the progress of the fire by the entire populace of Crafton. This company supplies, or rather, is supposed to supply, the borough with water. Josephine street and vicinity has been without a drop of water for three days. All those who witnessed the fire were bitter in their condemnation of the company for its inefficient service.

The Chartiers Valley Water Company's pumps have been idle since Monday, and yesterday morning the last water was drained from the supply tanks in Mt. Oliver. All day and last night the residents of Knoxville, Mt. Oliver and Lower St. Clair township were without a supply. The prospects for betterment are not known.

JAPAN PUTS IT UP TO RUSSIA

Demands an Assurance That Czar Will Not Gobble Korea.

BEAR SHOWS POWER

Army of 76,000 Reviewed at Port Arthur—More Men and Ships on Way.

CHINESE MAY PLAY PART

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, Oct. 14.—The Russian-Japanese entanglement in the far east is rapidly approaching a crisis from which either war or peaceful settlement may result. Japan has asked Russia for an official statement as to her intentions. On the other hand Russia is hurrying 50,000 additional troops into the disputed territory, where she already has an army of about 100,000 men, and is also sending additional war vessels to the Korean coast.

While official assurances come from Tokyo and St. Petersburg that there is no danger of war between Japan and Russia there comes at the same time news that Russia is hurrying 50,000 men and several additional warships to the far east; that Japan is negotiating with Italy for the purchase of naval vessels and that Admiral Alexieff, who is the highest representative of the czar in that section of Asia, has reviewed more than 75,000 troops in Port Arthur, which is only a portion of the men under his command in these regions.

There comes news that China is mobilizing an army in the north for the presumable purpose of co-operating with Japan in case of hostilities. It is noticeable that military men are beginning to pay more attention to the Chinese equation in the problem.

It is held by some of them who are familiar with the east that the Chinese under the leadership of Japanese officers and steadied by seasoned, disciplined Japanese troops might quickly and easily be developed into a fighting force not to be despised.

In this case it might be possible, in the event of early Japanese successes at sea, for the Japanese to so organize and drill the Chinese as to offset in great measure, if not entirely, the Russian preponderance on land.

One of the most hopeful signs of a peaceful settlement is the earnest work of the British and French governments in that direction. England is working with her ally, Japan, and France with her ally, Russia, and their efforts may be crowned with success.

One of the features of the day's news is the pro-Japanese sentiment developed in Rome. This is due to the czar's canceling his engagement to visit the Italian capital.

Japan has asked Russia for an assurance that the latter power will not seek to include Korea within the sphere of her influence.

This demand has not been presented as an ultimatum, but Japan has explained that the recent events, particularly in the neighborhood of the Yalu river, have caused the mikado's government great uneasiness, which can only be removed by Russia giving up such an undertaking. This is, according to what the Morning Post believes to be excellent authority, the keynote to the far eastern situation.

Japanese demands for guarantees respecting Korea have been the subject of extended negotiations which are still in progress.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS

PERTIMENT FACTS ARE GIVEN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Oct. 14.—The inquiry before a referee into the affairs of the stranded shipbuilding combination at the instance of the Bondholders Protective association was resumed today and was productive of fresh developments. Yesterday D. Leroy Dresser, late president of the Trust Company of the Republic, who last week divulged much of the inner history of the formation of the combination, made an effort to communicate with Charles M. Schwab with a view to obtaining some concessions as to the Bethlehem steel works that would render easier the scheme for rehabilitating the partly wrecked concern.

The message of Dresser was delivered to Schwab by Mr. Harris of the brokerage house of Harris, Gates & Co., which marketed part of the shipbuilding stock, but Mr. Schwab declined to see Mr. Dresser.

W. D. Guthrie, counsel for Mr. Schwab, brought the facts of the incident out at the hearing in a series of questions directed to Dresser. His aim was to show that Dresser had sought to plead with Schwab and had threatened to make certain disclosures when recalled to the stand that would reflect upon Schwab. Dresser denied that he had gone to plead with Mr. Schwab or to threaten him, for he had no additional information to divulge, but had sought to approach him in the hope that something might be done to save the shipbuilding company.

Blame Placed on Schwab.

Dresser asserted the shipbuilding company had been wrecked because Schwab had withheld the profits of the Bethlehem company. This declaration he twice spiritedly repeated when at the end of the cross-examination by Mr. Guthrie, he was given an opportunity to explain.

Mr. Untermeyer, in behalf of the bondholders, produced two of the resident directors obtained in New Jersey formally to carry on the affairs of the shipbuilding company, but only finished his examination of one of them. He claimed they were merely "dummy" directors, who voted upon questions involving millions of dollars of the securities of the company without other information or inquiry than the orders of the lawyers of the corporation.

There was produced and offered as evidence a memorandum said to have been prepared by Col. McCook and given by him to Mr. Dresser. It contained the figures upon which the trust company of the republic undertook the underwriting of the shipbuilding company and while its purpose was not explained, it is expected that it will cut an important figure at a later stage of the proceedings.

It is said that, besides the division of stock detailed last week by Mr. Dresser, there was a division of money. The memorandum shows an allowance for "expenses of $200,000 cash, $300,000 in bonds, $500,000 in preferred stock and $500,000 in common stock.

Schwab Gave Half Million.

Mr. Guthrie first questioned Dresser as to the reports he had received or seen on the value of the plants included in the shipbuilding combination. Dresser said

BIG CONTRACT FOR ARMOR PLATE TO BE DIVIDED

H. C. Frick Secures Part for the Carnegie Steel Company—Bethlehem and Midvale Companies Also Get Their Share.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—H. C. Frick of Pittsburgh was here today to consult with Secretary Moody of the navy department regarding the bids offered by the Carnegie Steel Company on 16,670 tons of armor plate for the battleships Vermont, Minnesota, Kansas, Idaho and Mississippi. While in the city Mr. Frick was the guest of Attorney General P. C. Knox. He called at the navy department and had a long talk with the secretary.

Although Mr. Frick has no official position with the Carnegie Steel Company, he is a director of the United States Steel Corporation, and his long experience in the steel business made him competent to give Secretary Moody a clear idea of the capacity of armor plate plants and what the Carnegie Steel Company can do in the way of deliveries of armor if the contract or a portion of it should be awarded this company.

Although Secretary Moody has not said as much, it is now generally understood that the contract will be divided between the Carnegie Steel Company, the Bethlehem Steel Company and the Midvale Steel Company of Philadelphia. Bids were opened on October 1 and it was found that the first two concerns named had bid the same, the figures being $6,944,000, while the bid of the Midvale Company was $6,650,932.

However, the latter company has no armor plate plant, and, being obliged to build and equip one if given the contract, could not begin deliveries of armor under the contract before 20 months, while the Carnegie and Bethlehem companies agree to begin deliveries in eight months. Time being an important factor, it was at first thought that the bid of the Midvale Company, even at the greatly reduced price, would not be sufficient inducement to give it the contract.

But it now transpires that the Carnegie Steel Company has contracts for 17,000 tons of armor and the Bethlehem Company has contracts for 12,000, while together they are delivering but 918 tons per month. At this rate it will require 32 months for them to complete the contracts they now have on hand. This, however, does not make allowance for the increased output of the Carnegie plant by reason of recent extensions made there.

But in the light of these facts it appears that the Carnegie and Bethlehem plants will require at least more than two years before they can begin on the new contract if they get it, while the Midvale Company agrees to begin deliveries of armor in 20 months, and having no other contracts on their books, can push the work through to completion.

It is for this reason that Secretary Moody has in mind the division of the contract, probably giving to the Midvale Company the armor for the two 13,000-ton ships, the contracts for which have not yet been let. These are the Idaho and Mississippi, and the navy officials have not yet agreed upon the plans for their construction. It is Mr. Moody's wish to divide the contract in a way that will be satisfactory to all parties concerned, and to that end he is conferring with representatives of all the bidders. Last week President Harrah, of the Midvale Company was here to see him and today Mr. Frick presented the case of the Carnegie Company.

A. O. C. Acker of the Bethlehem Steel Company is in the city and will probably call upon the secretary tomorrow. It is concluded that if the Carnegie and Bethlehem companies were to insist upon all of the contract or nothing the navy department would practically be in a position where they would be forced to give in, since they need the armor and would scarcely be willing to entrust such a large and important order to a new concern.

The great subject of speculation in this matter remains the question of how the Midvale Company intends to make armor that will come up to the specifications. The Krupp secret process is controlled in this country by the Carnegie and Bethlehem companies, and is the only armor, so far as known by experts, that will meet the requirements of the government's specifications. The process is not patented and the conclusion is that in some way the Midvale company must have obtained possession of the great Krupp secret, else it would not furnish a $50,000 bond guaranteeing to fill the contract. These include all the changes made.

The ability of the Clairton plant to compete with any steel plant in the country is acknowledged. Its independent sources for raw materials, its magnificent new furnaces, capable of using a larger proportion of the low-priced Mesaba ore than any other furnaces ever built and the size of the plant allowing the most economical production of billets possible anywhere all tell in its favor.

The frank and open statement by President Smith ends all the misleading guesses that have been made as well as the false reports started by those who for one purpose or another were eager to "bear" the company's stock. The statement also carries out the exclusive announcement in The Gazette of the contract being made between the Crucible company and the Steel Corporation for the sale of the Clairton Steel Company.

Not a word bearing the seal of authority had been given out by the officers of the Crucible until yesterday, despite the alleged authentic reports printed.

President Smith said last night that so far as can be expected now the annual report of the company showing the results of the year's operations will not be made public until the annual meeting of the company on October 21. Various guesses have been made as to the total earnings, but these, like the other statements regarding the company made during the last few days, are entirely without official basis.

JAPAN NOW PUTS IT UP TO RUSSIA

by the viceroy, Admiral Alexieff, on Sunday, of 76,000 soldiers participating in the maneuvers was the final act of last week's "war game." This force, the greatest Russia has ever concentrated in the far east, was massed on the plains outside this city. It included infantry, cavalry and artillery. Every infantry regiment is partly mounted, in accordance with the recent regulations.

Foreigners were given every opportunity to witness the display and the statements of officers regarding the total force were verified by count of the visiting experts. It was also officially announced that the entire force within easy operating distance of Port Arthur numbers 100,000 men. Two months ago it was 80,000. Sunday's spectacle demonstrated that the reports regarding the reinforcements arriving in Manchuria had underestimated the real increase. The army assembled Sunday was greater than the Peking diplomatist believed Russia's entire force in Manchuria to be. Officials here are taking pains to advertise Russia's strength and proclaim that the maneuvers are intended as an object lesson.

Admiral Alexieff, speaking to an American official, said:

"War would be a great calamity. Here we believe that the best way to prevent it would be to strengthen ourselves as much as possible. Therefore we have left no steps untaken for that purpose."

Two battleships and two cruisers are on their way here from Russia. When they arrive Russia's naval force on this station will be stronger than Japan's, according to the views of the Russian officers.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 14.—A thousand marines belonging to the Baltic fleet left St. Petersburg today for Port Arthur.

COLOMBIA NOW TAKES STEP FOR NEW TREATY

Senate Presents Plan by Which One May Be Made With United States.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BOGOTA, COLUMBIA, Oct. 14.—The senate committee charged with drawing up a bill authorizing the president of the republic to negotiate a new canal treaty with the United States today presented the project to the senate. It provides that the latter must approve or disapprove the extension of the concession for six years granted to the new Panama Canal Company in 1900.

If this is disapproved Colombia will return $1,000,000 to the company, with interest, and will take possession of the canal works next year, in which case this republic will then be able to negotiate a new treaty with the United States. If the extension of the concession is approved by the senate the new Panama Canal Company will have until the year 1910 to fulfill its obligations.

The senate will take up the bill on Monday. It is pointed out that authorization given to the executive by the senate to negotiate treaties is valueless, as the executive, according to the constitution, can negotiate treaties without authorization from the senate and present them to congress for approval, and any law amending the constitution to this or any other effect must be sanctioned by two consecutive congresses.

BIG COAL COMPANY REDUCES PRICE OF FUEL

BALTIMORE, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—The Consolidation Coal Company will make a reduction of 25 cents a ton on all its local contracts for soft coal. This cut will be effective on all shipments from tomorrow. As this company supplies a large quantity of the soft coal consumed by Baltimore factories and other consumers, the reduction will make a considerable saving. The cause of the reduction is due to the congestion in the coal market caused by a temporary over-supply of the small sizes of anthracite coal.

MURRY A. VERNER HELD TO ACCOUNT

Political Orphans Ask Him to Use His Influence on Select Council.

A MEETING MAY BE HELD

Want the Linear Tax Ordinance Considered by the Upper Branch of Councils—President Lamble Says He Will Issue the Call.

Restive under the popular impression that they are being made the catspaws of the leaders of the Citizens-Democratic party, the "Orphans" exerted themselves last night to secure the reform legislation which they have been vainly trying to induce the Citizens party to allow council to adopt. The rocky road which the linear tax ordinance is traveling they desired to have smoothed out, and knowing that Murry A. Verner is the man who can do it if he wishes, they penned a letter to Mr. Verner.

In this epistle Verner is asked to use his influence to have select council meet, so that the linear tax ordinance may be adopted. The "Orphans" know that it lies with Verner and Thomas S. Bigelow to pass or defeat the legislation mentioned. In one of their manifestoes they said "it was reported" that the Citizens leaders controlled select council. By writing direct to Mr. Verner the request to have a select council meeting they assert that he is responsible.

Request Upon Lamble.

A letter was also written to John S. Lamble, president of select council. Mr. Lamble is asked to call a meeting of select council to have the linear tax ordinance considered. The ostensible leader of the air-tight select council combine, Samuel J. Wainwright, was not written to, as the orphans are convinced that he will obey Verner's wishes.

The letter to President Lamble is merely a Machiavellian touch. The "orphans" had already received assurance from Mr. Lamble that he would call select council after tomorrow's meeting of the public works committee, which is to consider the widening of Virgin alley. Knowing that Lamble will call a meeting, the orphans, it is asserted, wish to let Mr. Verner know that if a quorum cannot be secured the blame will lie with him.

The statement in The Gazette yesterday morning that the call would be issued, but that the Citizens party leaders had planned to prevent a quorum on account of the Baltimore & Ohio ordinances was confirmed by developments of yesterday. Murry A. Verner promised members of the combine that the Baltimore & Ohio railroad ordinances would not be permitted to go through select council.

Instructions to Councilmen.

Instructions to this effect were delivered yesterday to a number of Citizens members of select council. Director E. M. Bigelow saw a number of select councilmen, among whom was John Costello of the Thirty-fifth ward.

Common Councilmen W. C. Reitz, one of the "Orphans," does not like the manner in which Bigelow and Verner put the blame upon his colleague, W. H. Stevenson, for the fiasco of select council Monday, and he said so yesterday in the following emphatic language:

"Mr. Bigelow, Mr. Verner and Mayor Hays had no business trying to place on the shoulders of W. H. Stevenson the failure to pass the corporation tax ordinance in select council on Monday. Mr. Stevenson discovered that the ordinance contained a fault that might endanger its legality and he sought to have the ordinance amended so as to remedy the defect. The 'Orphans' will hold the leaders of the Citizens' party to strict account for the action on the tax measure, just as they did before the meeting on Monday last. We are not deviating one inch from our pledge and we insist just as strongly as ever that not only shall the tax bill be passed, but also the Baltimore & Ohio ordinances and the other measures we mentioned in our pledge."

PITTSBURGHERS WIN CONTROL OF STOCK

Reorganize Horseshoe Mining Company of Milwaukee and Force President to Resign.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

MILWAUKEE, WIS., Oct. 14.—The Horseshoe Mining Company, which on September 30, defaulted interest on its bonds, is once more to be reorganized. Milwaukee stockholders, who also sold bonds of the company issued at the time of its first reorganization last summer, learn that every effort is to be made by persons now in control to pay interest due as soon as it is possible.

Pittsburgh capitalists, headed by Mark Watson and Ralph H. Binne, are in control. E. M. Holbrooke of Chicago, president of the company, has, it is said, been forced to resign. It is expected that properties of the company will pass into the hands of the Pittsburgh syndicate early next week. It is said that when William McLaughlin, general manager of the company, went east last week he stopped at Pittsburgh, where he held a conference with capitalists of that city who control large blocks of stock as well as own much of the company's bond issue.

The visit was for the purpose of arranging for the payment of dividends on the bonds, due September 30. The Pittsburgh men gave McLaughlin to understand that Holbrooke must resign, in which event they would raise money for payment of dividends.

FIGHT FOR OIL LANDS.

Lease of an Indiana Farm May Result in Bloodshed.

HARTFORD CITY, IND., Oct. 14.—The farm of Samuel Welch is tonight guarded by 28 armed drillers of the Ohio Oil Company. The company has held a lease on the farm for nine years, but has not drilled. Welch, desiring to have the farm developed for oil, refused the lease renewal and leased to Austin Lewis, who today hailed derrick timbers on the lease preparatory to drilling.

The Ohio company started to haul the timbers off the farm, insisting that it held the lease. Welch got a shotgun and a vicious dog to help him resist the removal. His daughter climbed on the timbers, but although the dog bit the company's foreman, the timbers were dragged off the farm with Miss Welch sitting on top of them. Welch is summoning the farmers to his assistance and the Ohio company has rushed the drillers from Montpelier, who are guarding the property. More trouble is feared.

Created New Position.

The postoffice authorities have created the position of assistant superintendent of city delivery. Postmaster George L. Holliday received word yesterday to transfer Carrier J. W. Elder to that position. The new office was created upon the recommendation of the postoffice inspectors who made a recent examination of the Pittsburgh office. Carrier Elder has had experience both as a clerk and carrier and has been in the service here for 10 years.

HANNA SPEAKS IN HIS OWN DEFENSE

PROUD OF BEING ITS AUTHOR

The Ohio Senator Denies the Law Was Created to Put Money in Pockets of Magnates, but to Revive American Commerce.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 14.—Senator Hanna, in a speech here tonight defended at greater length than heretofore his action in reference to the ship subsidy bill and incidentally took occasion to verbally lash another member of the Johnson regime, Newton Baker, city solicitor of Cleveland.

The speech of the senator was brought about through an attack made upon him by Baker in a Democratic meeting here on Monday night in which, among other things, he said Hanna had voted for the ship subsidy bill in order to place money in the pockets of shipbuilding magnates of the company.

"That is false," the senator declared tonight. "It only shows that this fledgling in politics don't know what he is talking about and that he has never read the bill. I want it understood now that when any man attacks my public record or my character I propose to answer him. My record and life are an open book that all may read and if I have done one thing that has not been for the best interest of the people, as I see them, I don't know what it is."

He then renewed the causes which led to his support of the measure, how he had observed that 80 per cent of the American export trade was carried in foreign vessels and the steady decrease in the building of American boats. Continuing he said:

"It was a fine business proposition. Every maritime country in Europe is paying heavy subsidies. I felt that the United States should regain the place it had lost. To do this it was necessary that the United States should give assistance to those who were willing to invest their capital and build ships. This young man says the bill carried with it $180,000,000, which was to be taken from the people. It did nothing of the kind. Such a statement simply illustrates his ignorance.

"It carried but $9,000,000 a year for 10 years and gave to any man the right to build a ship. Ninety per cent of all the money expended in the building of a boat goes to the payment of labor and my desire was that boats might be constructed in this country and labor receive the benefit. It was in behalf of the workingmen of the United States, as well as a patriotic desire to see the American flag float from the masthead of a great fleet, that I presented and urged the passage of the measure.

"There is no act of my public life as of my public record, of which I am more proud."

The remainder of the senator's speech was in the nature of an appeal in the name of continued prosperity, for Republican success. The meeting was held in Tyner Hall on the South Side and was largely attended. J. Adam Bede of Minnesota also spoke. Tomorrow Hanna and Herrick address three meetings at Ravenna, Kent and Youngstown.

FUNERALS BROKEN UP.

Undertakers Have a Grievance Against Sanitary Inspectors.

The Funeral Directors' association of Allegheny county is aroused over the recent actions of some persons connected with the Pittsburgh board of health. A sanitary inspector, it is alleged by a well-known East End undertaker, attempted yesterday afternoon to break up services over the body of a person who had died from diphtheria. The undertaker was able to keep the inspector out of the house, however, and the services were concluded.

At a meeting of the association Monday two similar cases were reported. Each of these funerals was broken up by sanitary inspectors. A committee of undertakers has been appointed to interview the officials of the board of health this morning. The committee is composed of: F. C. Beinhauer, James Lowry, J. J. Carney, Thomas Herschberger and William C. Semmelrock.

THE MAILED FIST IS THERE TO STAY

that he had seen the reports of Alexander and Green, and Riddle and Common, the accountants, but denied that he had ever seen a report on the plants made by Admiral Bowles of the United States navy.

"From the time the prospectus was first prepared until the transaction was finally consummated had there been anything suggested to you that affected the soundness of the company?"

"I suspected nothing until I came back from Europe," said Mr. Dresser. I made a very careful inquiry at that time. Trouble occurred during January and February, and I believe it was due to the control by Mr. Schwab of the Bethlehem company."

The witness then explained that he had appealed to Mr. Pam for assistance from the Bethlehem company and said that even after the Sheldon reorganization the earnings of the several shipbuilding properties and the Bethlehem company were sufficient to pay fixed charges.

The witness said he had not talked to Schwab about taking a part in the underwriting. Mr. Nixon did that, he said, and brought him Mr. Schwab's subscription of $500,000. Mr. Schwab later paid the full amount of the allotment against him. He said there were a series of assessments and that he believed Mr. Schwab paid in full.

The witness was then led over the circumstances attending the call which he and Mr. Nixon made at the office of Mr. Schwab on June 14, 1902. He testified that Schwab had showed his reports of the operations and earnings of the Bethlehem Company. "Mr. Schwab said it would earn $2,000,000 a year," the witness said, "and as a matter of fact it did."

Tried to Reach Schwab.

"Do you remember what you did yesterday," asked Mr. Guthrie.

"My memory is good enough for that," answered the witness.

"Did you pay two visits yesterday to the office of Charles Harris?"

"I did," said the witness.

"Did you not seek a private interview with C. M. Schwab?" asked Mr. Guthrie.

"I certainly did not," said the witness, and then in response to a series of questions put to him rapidly the witness denied that he had sent word to Mr. Schwab that it would be well for him to see him, or that he had threatened to make disclosures that would injure Mr. Schwab. He also denied that he had said that it would be better for Mr. Schwab to quiet the matter, or that he, Dresser, had nothing to lose in the way of reputation or that it would be better for all concerned to straighten the whole matter out.

When Mr. Guthrie finished his questions, Mr. Dresser said: "Now will you ask me what I did say?"

Mr. Untermyer, attorney for the bondholders, told the witness to go ahead and tell what did happen, and the witness went on:

Six weeks ago I saw Mr. Gates and told him that if Mr. Schwab would take his grip off Bethlehem the Shipbuilding Company would be all right. I went to the office of Harris, Gates & Co. in the interests of the Shipbuilding Company. Mr. Schwab has taken this means of putting it before the public to show that I was there to plead with him. I went there not to plead with him, but to ask him to take his grip off Bethlehem, and that if he did so it would make the Shipbuilding Company all right. I said that if he would give us any decent plan of reorganization and not the confiscation plan that has been proposed the company would be all right. I went over all this Shipbuilding matter with Charley Harris six weeks ago. I told him then that the wrecking of the Shipbuilding Company was due to Mr. Schwab withholding the profits of Bethlehem instead of letting them flow into the Shipbuilding Company, where they belonged. I asked Mr. Harris to telephone to Mr. Schwab and he did so. If out of the mess and mire the United States Shipbuilding Company can be rehabilitated that is what I want to see. I have no financial interest, but I feel that it will help me.

Pam Was the Boss.

"No, I did not," said the witness. "That is a legal question and I know nothing about it."

Mr. Dresser said that when he undertook the Shipbuilding project for the Trust Company of the Republic he believed that $6,000,000 had been underwritten in France.

Mr. Dresser said that he saw the name of J. P. Morgan jr. the list of members of the Sheldon syndicate, but did not know if Mr. Schwab was a member. The witness made no independent investigation of the shipbuilding plants but accepted the reports of others. Mr. Pam showed him reports which indicated that the earnings of the Shipbuilding corporation for the first three months were about $1,100,000, about half of which came from the Bethlehem property. The witness said that when he told Mr. Pam that he, Dresser, must make an assignment, Pam had told him he must resign at once from the Shipbuilding board. Mr. Pam, he said, seemed to be running the whole company.

The witness said he had not known the constituent companies were in debt when the prospectus was issued. When the Bethlehem property was bought he knew it was subject to mortgages of about $8,500,000. Mr. Schwab, according to the witness, said that the Bethlehem had earned $1,400,000, which had not been taken from the business.

Had Dummy Directors.

Mr. Dresser was succeeded on the stand by George P. Dalley, assistant treasurer of the Corporation Trust Company of New Jersey, and one of the resident directors in New Jersey of the Shipbuilding combination. He testified that his company made a practice of furnishing resident directors for corporations organized in New Jersey, and that he and two of his fellow clerks, Messrs. Newman and Seward, had been made directors of the Shipbuilding company. He did not know who had asked him to act as a director. He said a share of stock had been bought for him in order that he might qualify. After much fencing he said that he did not have a personal bank account at the time he acquired the qualifying share. He said he and the others acted on the direction of the attorneys for the company. He knew of the Union Iron works, through the press, but did not know where the Bath iron works is.

Frederick Seward, a lawyer, and the second of the New Jersey directors, was also called as a witness, but the examination had only proceeded a short distance when the hearing was adjourned until tomorrow.

John F. Harris, of Harris, Gates & Co., made the following statement this afternoon, with reference to Mr. Dresser's visit to him yesterday:

Mr. Dresser wished it distinctly understood that he did not want to plead with Mr. Schwab. He said he believed that an amicable discussion of the situation might induce Mr. Schwab to "release his grip," and that the United States Shipbuilding Company could then be rehabilitated. I repeated Mr. Dresser's statement to Mr. Schwab, who said that he must decline to meet Mr. Dresser.

Mr. Harris asked to be excused from stating Mr. Schwab's reasons for declining to see Mr. Dresser. "Mr. Dresser," added Mr. Harris, "made it perfectly plain to me that the idea of seeing Mr. Schwab and talking things over was all his own and that he had taken the step without consulting anybody."

MUST STAY IN NEW YORK.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—By the unearthing of an old indictment against Larry Somerfield in New York the plans of the police to get him here on requisition papers to answer the charge of swindling John A. McLean of Pittsburgh out of $21,000 have been temporarily defeated. The requisition papers for Somerfield and John M. Wilson, said to have been an accomplice, were honored only to the extent of permitting Wilson to be brought here.

Detective Tate went to New York today for the purpose of bringing Wilson to this city to plead to the indictment recently found against him. As to Somerfield, the local authorities will have to play a waiting game. It is not expected that he will be surrendered by New York until the indictment against him there is disposed of by trial or otherwise.

CREW TURNED ON OUTLAWED OFFICERS

One Survivor Killed Four of Assailants, Abanoned Vessel, and Escaped to Land.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

MANILA, Oct. 14.—The crew of the boat in which Johnston and Herman, the runaway constabulary officers, accompanied by one constable, started from Gulbal for Cagayana island, attacked the outlaws on nearing the latter place, killing Johnston and wounding Herman and the constable.

Herman killed four of the crew and the other two jumped overboard. He then put back to Negros, where he sent guns and ammunition to the police and abandoned the boat off Nabalva Bayauan, where he was in hiding when the last was heard of him.

On last Saturday night the police captured the boat, recovering guns, ammunition and some money. They buried Johnston, whose body was found in the boat. It is supposed that the crew intended to kill the outlaws and secure their money and arms.

A Really Good Piano for $90

Not new instruments, of course, but what is a great deal more important, they are all of well-known standard makes. These pianos are either shop-worn or have been used more or less. They are all in perfect condition, however, and the names of the makers amply guarantee their quality.

This sale is attracting a great deal of attention. Such remarkable values have never before been offered. Think of being able to buy for a mere fraction of the regular prices such pianos as Schumann, Smith & Barnes, Knabe, Sterling, Arion, New England, Schirmer, McPhail, Willard, Chickering, etc.

In used grand pianos, also, we have some wonderful bargains. They include a number of high grade instruments at $350.

This opportunity to secure a first-class piano at much less than the regular price is so unusual in respect to the indubitable merits of the instruments offered, that intending purchasers should act promptly, as a great many people are taking advantage of this sale every day, and the number of bargains is limited.

THEY ANALYZED BOLD STATEMENT

Citizens Party's Claim of Kindness to the Old Soldier Scrutinized.

THEIR JOBS HANG BY THREAD

Dr. Christopher P. Seif and John W. Moreland Show Hollowness of Citizens' Pretensions—Big Meetings of Nation's Defenders on Saturday.

Old soldiers yesterday analyzed the statement of the Citizens party's managers, claiming that as many old soldiers are now employed in the county and municipal service as under Republican rule. Although the statement is characterized as misleading and in large part untrue, the veterans have noticed that the Citizens do not treat the old soldier subject as cavalierly as they once did.

Dr. Christopher P. Seip, taking up the statement said: "The Citizens say that 218 old soldiers are employed under Citizens rule, 116 in Pittsburgh, 58 in Allegheny and 44 in the court house. It is evident that they count to their credit the old soldiers employed in the sheriff's office, which is managed by a Republican; in the prothonotary's office, which is also Republican, and in the courts, where the appointments are not political, although nearly all the judges are Republicans. There may be 116 veterans employed in Pittsburgh, but under what terms? All city employes were discharged in April, and then were allowed to served by sufferance, their places hanging by a thread. Only within the last few weeks, since the Soldiers' Civic league was started, have some of the old soldiers received a regular appointment. Among the alleged 116 are no doubt old soldiers who were discharged from their places in some of the departments and have since been appointed temporarily as quarantine guards."

John W. Moreland said: "Suppose, counting the quarantine guards and the old soldiers who are serving by the uncertain whim of the city administration, that there are 116 veterans in the municipal service, how many of those men would have been retained had not the old soldiers' movement started?

Pledge That Has Been Broken.

"In the first place, the Citizens party's leaders promised that no old soldiers would be discharged, except for absolute incompetency. It was further agreed that in case a veteran was discharged for that reason, a committee of five old soldiers should select some other veteran for the vacancy. That promise was not kept. The administration's record in this matter proves that the places of the few old soldiers still retained on sufferance would be given to ward workers, but for the Soldiers' Civic league. The administration is afraid to discharge a veteran now; it was not afraid when it believed that the old soldiers had no political power left and were 'd—d old nuisances,' an expression used by Mayor Hays when talking to one of his friends, who repeated the remark to me."

The Republican meeting at old city hall on Saturday will be memorable for the number of the nation's defenders who will gather to hear their comrades speak. It will be under the auspices of the Soldiers' Civic league, and the colonel of the organization, Capt. A. B. Hay, will be the chairman. The league will attend in a body. Other veterans who may not belong to the organization, but are in sympathy with its objects, will be present, and the Allegheny Veterans' association will march to the hall, headed by a band, from its headquarters in North Diamond street.

Gen. Stewart to Speak.

Speeches will be made by Thomas J. Stewart, adjutant general of Pennsylvania; Thomas V. Cooper, the veteran state legislator from Media; Maj. A. P. Burchfield, the Rev. Dr. T. N. Boyle and John W. Moreland.

A Republican meeting will be held in the Franklin school house tomorrow night, under the auspices of colored Republicans. E. L. Mills, Walter Billows, John W. Moreland and L. B. Cook will speak. On the same night a Republican meeting will be held in the Ross street school house, Thirteenth ward, and will be addressed by Dr. A. J. Burchfeld, H. J. Riley, Maj. J. B. Hamilton, John A. Reed and L. B. Cook.

A big meeting will be held in White's opera house, McKeesport, on Saturday night. James Francis Burke, A. J. Edwards and Maj. Robert E. Stewart will speak.

John Hanlon, who has been distributing lithographs of the Republican candidates, reports Republican headquarters that out of 93 stores visited he received permission to hang up the lithographs in all but three. A druggist said he never allowed political lithographs in his store, but he intended to vote the Republican ticket. A grocer said the same, and in the third store a young woman was in charge.

Simon Cannot be Bought.

Charles W. Simon of Allegheny, who left the Citizens party and joined the Republicans, said yesterday that a millionaire supporter of the Wyman administration had asked him what his price for returning to the Citizens party would be.

"I told him he hadn't enough money to buy my honor," Simon says.

Director Harry Moore of the department of public safety has already begun to crack the whip over the heads of his employes. Yesterday fire bureau captains were summoned before him. They were told to return to the fire stations and instruct the firemen to work for the Citizens ticket. The captains informed Moore they had not been appointed by the new administration, according to the provisions of the new city charter, and unless they received permanent appointments they could not pledge their support.

The firemen yesterday sent a committee to Chief Miles S. Humphreys and asked him to confer with Director Moore as they do not care to work in the interest of the Citizens ticket unless their positions were made more secure. Moore said the men must see Mayor Hays.

Supt. John P. McTighe is resorting to the same measures in the police bureau. Patrolmen are retained in the same uncertain way.

The Prohibitionists of Allegheny county will meet this evening in room 1320, Farmers bank building, with State Chairman Charles R. Jones of Philadelphia. Plans will be made for closing the present campaign with a number of meetings and the presidential campaign next year will be considered.

Meeting of Conferees.

The Democratic conferees of the Twenty-fourth congressional district will meet at the Monongahela house on Monday, October 19, to nominate a candidate for congress. There are three conferees from each of the three counties that compose the district, Beaver, Washington and Lawrence.

The Republican executive committee of the Second ward, Braddock, met last night and organized by choosing Assistant Postmaster John F. Lowers chairman and John O. Hones secretary. After the meeting for organization a public meeting was held in the hall of the fire department. Maj. Robert E. Stewart, Fred E. Edwards, Joseph L. Campbell, Charles Watts, Wiliam Meigs and Peter McDonald made speeches. The Republicans of Rankin borough held a meeting in Katchmar's hall.

An enthusiastic meeting of Republicans was held in the Thirty-eighth ward school house. Thomas Boos, a former Citizens party man, was the chairman, and Charles Barr was secretary. Speeches were made by Maj. J. B. Hamilton, Dr. James W. Dickson, Maj. Robert E. Stewart, John T. Harvey, John W. Moreland and John A. Reed.

The conflict between the two factions of the Citizens party in the Fourteenth ward will come to a head today, when the committee on contests, which has heard the evidence of both factions, reports the roll of the ward committee. The committee heard more testimony of the Breck faction yesterday. The report will be handed to Murry A. Verner today.

Weather—Cloudy.

JOSEPH HORNE CO.

Thursday, October 15, 1903.

There is little doubt but that the fame of Damrosch and his talented players will draw big excursions today. We venture to say that about every excursionist, from whatever direction he may come, has some knowledge of our big store. Those favoring us with a visit today will note that we are about to take over our new addition, which, when it is finished, will contribute to making this the most handsomely appointed store in Western Pennsylvania. The public conveniences we offer our shopping visitors are so well known it is scarcely necessary to refer to them, but lest you forget, they are the Public Restaurant, Public Parlor, Rooms for Checking Packages, Rest Rooms for Women.

Our Variety of Store News Today.

The great business of this store requires large space in our newspapers. It is a pleasure for us to pay for this space. By using liberally of newspaper columns it has brought us an enviable business. We believe we owe it to the public to give it our best news each day. Through the newspapers immense crowds are attracted to our store; through these immense crowds we have a great outlet for our goods; in this great outlet we are enabled to dispose of goods quickly, and are further enabled to sell the goods for lower prices than such goods can be sold for around Greater Pittsburg. The public can rest assured that when we have anything good we shall not stint ourselves by way of space in publishing it. Look over our newspaper talk of today's doings, and we daresay you will find many things that will interest you.

Misses' and Children's Wear.

Just as much time and thought given to the fashioning of garments for the tiny girl or young lady as to that of grown-ups. Just as much care to have them absolutely correct as to style and suitable as to material. Somebody has said that ribbons were not going to be used much this season—that the ribbon market is somewhat "sick." Perhaps. But if anyone had been around our special ribbon table one day last week they would have thought ribbons were about the healthiest thing that could be found. Simply a scramble to get in on the low prices. A like sale today.

Surprisingly Small Prices for Women's Handkerchiefs.

That's what they are—prices so small as to cause some surprise. There would be nothing unusual if the handkerchiefs were part cotton, but as it is a rule with this store never to sell a cotton handkerchief, the grades here offered are all pure linen.

10c each for pure all-linen Initialed Handkerchiefs, the initial hand-embroidered. 15c is the regular price.

12½c each for all pure linen Handkerchiefs, and choice is either from sheer or heavy weight, as well as choice of either one-fourth or one-half-inch hem. 15c is the regular price.

12½c each for women's pure Linen Handkerchiefs, having a combination border of tape effect and drawn work. These handkerchiefs are unlaundered. If we had had them washed and ironed before going to you we could have said 25c.

12½c for women's unlaundered Initial Handkerchiefs, the initials surrounded by neat embroidered spray. Like the handkerchiefs immediately preceding this initial handkerchief is also worth 25c.

Writing Paper, 25c a Box.

Not an unusual price. No, it's the quality that's unusual, and the quantity for that same, 25c.

60 Sheets of Paper, 50 Envelopes. To match, of course, and your choice of Irish Linen, Ivory Finish or Vellum. Note size, prettily boxed and just twice the usual quantity.

100 Visiting Cards, $1.00.

The plate goes with the cards, of course. When the plate is yours you can have the order for cards duplicated as often as you like. The above price covers cards engraved in Script, correct as to size, finish and lettering, finest work for a very little.

As to the cut of the coats, many different ideas, among them the full box medium length sack, full box extra long coats with broad shoulders and long narrow lapels, belted coats, double-breasted tourist coats, long single-breasted frock paletots, long double-breasted frock paddocks; and in the foregoing the gamut of style is fully run.

Dowie and his host have descended upon New York with spectacular flourish and the announced intention to convert the metropolis. They will probably find the metropolis in need of religious influence, but too busy to give more attention to the Dowie gospel than to any of the other shows in town. With that understanding the matter may be allowed to rest. Dowie will be permitted to preach, expound and plead as long as he confines his efforts to orderly methods. He may enlist a few converts out of the great city, and it is just possible he may get enough money to pay the expenses of the ambitious tour.

The situation in the Far East is presenting a more pacific aspect and an adjustment of interests between Russia and Japan seems attainable. The probable basis would be Manchuria for Russia and Korea for Japan, with the exception of the section nearest Manchuria, including Port Arthur. That some agreement will be reached is indicated by the changed attitude of the Japanese press which is now preaching concord. If Japan secures possession of the peninsula of Korea she will gain as much as she would expect to do by war and can live on friendly terms with Russia. Korea is thinly populated as compared with Japan so that it provides a field for Japanese settlement, and it has undeveloped resources which will furnish occupation for Japanese capital and enterprise.

Allegheny select council has put an end to the proposition to have the city appropriate $5,000 from its treasury for the construction of the relief map of the Pittsburgh district to be exhibited at the Louisiana Purchase exposition next year. The ground for refusal to adopt the bill is that there is grave doubt concerning the legality of the step. It remains to be seen whether the citizens of Allegheny will come to the rescue with a private purse to cover the North Side share of expense, or whether they will let the matter die with the action of select council. The map is a good thing and the work on it has made progress. If it is not completed Pittsburgh will lose something on the account, but we hope it will be completed and exhibited.

The annexation act which was miscalled the Greater Pittsburgh bill while it was pending before the legislature, has so far been of no advantage whatever to Pittsburgh, but it has been serviceable to other communities. Although the passage of the bill was resisted on the ground that Braddock was opposed to it, Braddock is now making use of the law to enlarge its own boundaries. A movement has been begun to bring Braddock, North Braddock and Rankin into municipal union. This is a movement in the right direction and we wish it success, but the best arrangement that can be made for the interests of all the urban settlements of the Pittsburgh district is to include them all in one municipal government, so organized as to be able to provide efficiently for the welfare of the people whose interests are inseparably connected.

The arbitration treaty between England and France signed yesterday is substantially an instrument of the same character as that which was negotiated by Secretary Hay at the instance of congress and then defeated by the senate. It provides that if any disputes occur between the two countries they shall be referred to arbitration for settlement and it will have consequences of immediate practical importance. It is understood that the negotiation of the treaty is accompanied by an understanding between England and France upon various matters, among them the settlement of affairs in Morocco, the native government of which is breaking up. The practical annexation of the greater part of the country to Algeria will probably take place to the great advantage of civilization. France has accomplished a great deal in establishing order and encouraging peaceful industry in northern Africa and if Morocco passes under French control the whole Sahara region will eventually be redeemed from the brigandage that now oppresses it.

Mr. Stevenson is evidently getting himself thoroughly disliked by his party associates because of his efforts to secure the fulfillment of party pledges to the people. The party leaders have been unable to convince Mr. Stevenson that those pledges having served their purpose in securing party control of the municipal government, there is no use for them now and ought to let bygones be bygones. The inconsiderate behavior of Mr. Stevenson and his adherents is making Mr. Murry Verner realize that his position of party chairman has its vexations, even although it secures for him the close companionship of Mayor Hays and the air-tight combine. If Mr. Stevenson doesn't stop his annoying conduct it may be necessary to suspend the meetings of select council until after election. Unless the Orphans behave themselves they will find that although they may call council meetings they won't get a quorum to attend. Chairman Verner as a business man of extensive experience has taken the impregnable position that when a claim has been repudiated it is settled, so that it is a mere waste of time to press it further.

The discrimination of the Canadian tariff in favor of England has had no visible effect upon the trade of the United States. In 1897, when the preferential tariff law was passed, Canadian imports from the United States amounted in value to $61,649,041. The amount has gone on rapidly increasing ever since, reaching $127,605,195 in the fiscal year of 1903. There has been a moderate increase of imports from England, but from 1900 to 1901 there was an actual decline, and the only year in which there was a marked increase was in 1903, when the amount reached $65,007,080, as against $49,206,062 the year before, but the increase of imports from the United States during the same period was even greater. The figures do not indicate that trade between Canada and the United States would be hurt much if the policy of imperial reciprocity advocated by Mr. Chamberlain should be adopted, but an English tax upon breadstuffs would probably stimulate grain production in the Canadian northwest, and to that extent affect the English market for American grain.

"Alum Water" Brown.

If public opinion had any effectual means of expressing itself upon the matter the obstacles to the purification of the water supply would promptly disappear. The community is well aware that the typhoid fever epidemic is the result of municipal incompetency and the cost of a filtration plant would be cheerfully borne by the taxpayers, but the politicians take good care not to consult them. In a report on the subject presented to common council July 7, 1902, by Mr. Thomas M. Brown, chairman of the sub-committee on filtration, it was argued that councils could do nothing about the matter without further grant of authority from the people. The report declared: "The matter is up to the people of Pittsburgh and we believe that they should be consulted and given an opportunity to express their wishes as to what they want and are willing to do in the matter." No such opportunity has ever been given, nor is there any sign of such intention. The people must provide their own method, and the present appearance of Mr. Thomas M. Brown before the people as a candidate for sheriff, is a fine chance for the expression of public sentiment.

First as chairman of the sub-committee on filtration and later as chairman of the entire committee, Mr. Brown has had charge of the subject since April 14, 1902, and he has practically shaped municipal policy in regard to it. The ordinances referred to his committee April 14, were not reported upon until July 7, when they were returned to councils with a negative recommendation, on the ground that councils were not "justified in proceeding further with the work" until the matter had been again referred to the people. This ended all proceedings under the plans recommended by the filtration commission, after an expenditure of $283,732. Just a year elapsed before the subject was again considered.

But while all action toward the purification of the water supply had been ended through Mr. Brown's efforts, there was no let up in the typhoid fever epidemic, and public agitation of the matter finally stirred up Mr. Brown to resume consideration of the matter. On July 8, 1903, the sub-committee again met and adopted a type-written report prepared by Mr. Brown. The recommendation that the matter should be referred to the people was now abandoned. An ordinance for an additional bond issue to be submitted to the people was laid aside with the recommendation that it should be sent to the finance committee. Mr. Brown was now of the opinion that —"We should turn at once to seek relief in some other system, if any, that will meet and relieve the present atrocious conditions of our water supply, which are a shame and disgrace to the city and unworthy of her wealth, greatness and Christianity. * * * Other systems of filtration now in operation on a large scale in American cities can be studied with advantage and quickly. They are said to be giving excellent results, and it is claimed that we can build a perfect filtration plant, with sufficient capacity to supply the whole city for the amount of money now on hand for such purpose. Whatever we do, let us proceed."

The report was presented to common council July 27, and Mr. Brown moved that it be received and filed. Mr. Wasson moved that it be referred to the finance committee but Mr. Brown's motion prevailed. Meanwhile as the estimates which Mr. Brown's committee had had under consideration had become obsolete, a fresh start was made by the passage of a resolution calling upon the director of public works for new estimates, which estimates have since been made and are now the occasion of fresh controversy and delay. This record of Mr. Brown's labors may be summarized as follows:

July 7, 1902: Let us stop where we are until the matter is referred to the people.

July 8, 1903: Let us proceed; unnecessary to go to the people, as there is enough money for mechanical filtration.

Result of 15 months of Mr. Brown's management: Nothing done; estimates out of date and a new start necessary on the whole business.

During those fifteen months 612 deaths from typhoid fever were reported to the health department. At the established ratio of typhoid fever mortality this number of deaths implies 6,120 cases. Estimating burial expenses at $60, the average cost of medical attendance at $40, and the average wage loss at $1 50 a day for six weeks we have the following typhoid fever bill of expense:

Burial expenses 612@$60 00.....$	36,720
Medical expenses 6120@$40 00.....	244,800
Wage loss 6120x36@$1 50.....	330,480
	$612,000

On election day the voters can express their appreciation of Mr. Thomas M. Brown's care of public interests entrusted to his charge.

The Crucible Statement.

The announcement made by the Crucible Steel Company, which appears in our local columns this morning, has a significance greater than that which touches the stockholders of the company. If there has been any lack of confidence in the management—and it has not been apparent so far as net results are concerned—the return of Mr. William G. Park to full control of the property will completely restore it. That gentleman was the founder of the Park Steel Company, the products of which not only successfully met British competition on its own grounds early in the last decade, but served to spread the fame of Pittsburgh as a manufacturing center.

The most significant thing, however, in the announcement, is the statement that local financiers connected with the company have subscribed sufficient funds to furnish additional working capital and take care of the indebtedness of the Clairton Steel Company. This is the best answer that could be made to the rumors that have been circulating in the East as to the financial standing of Pittsburgh, and it reflects credit upon this city that in times of monetary stringency, when there is a general disposition to contract credit, this enterprise could be financed without aid from the outside. This is also an answer to the unfounded rumors that were in circulation on Tuesday attacking the credit of the Crucible Steel Company, and which resulted in a temporary slump in the market value of its stock.

The present need of the Crucible Steel Company for additional funds to carry out its plans in relation to its Clairton property is due to the failure of the negotiations which contemplated the joint ownership of the furnace plant by the Crucible Steel, the United States Steel and other interests. Reading between the lines of the official announcement, one is justified in inferring that the original scope of operations of the Crucible-Clairton plant is to be greatly enlarged. The outcome will be to still further fortify the position of Pittsburgh as the leading iron and steel manufacturing center of the world, containing the principal plants of the three greatest producers—the United States Steel Corporation, the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, and the Crucible Steel Company of America.

The statement that in carrying out the plan for larger operations by the Clairton Steel Company it may be necessary to discontinue dividends on the Crucible preferred stock is sound financial policy. The dividends on Crucible Steel preferred stock are cumulative, and any additions to the property of the company made out of earnings increase the intrinsic value of the stock. It is by no means certain that future dividends will be reduced or deferred, but should this become imperative, it is infinitely better to withhold dividends than to reduce the status of the stock by issuing a mortgage.

A Sinister Suggestion.

Advices from Bogota give the draft of the new canal bill reported by the committee to the senate. The provisions are as indicated in previous dispatches and it may be pointed out that no act is necessary to authorize the president to negotiate treaties, for he now has that power. The new feature in the report of the committee is the suggestion that it is in the power of the senate to decide whether the extension granted the Panama canal company in 1900 is or is not valid. If not the government must return $1,000,000, with interest, to the company and take over the canal property.

This suggestion of the committee is of sinster character and fully indicates the rascality of which the Colombian senate may be capable. An attempt to repudiate the extension of 1900, however, will almost certainly involve Colombia in serious difficulty with France. It is not to be supposed the French government will stand idle while Colombia is endeavoring to wrest from the citizens property salable at $40,000,000 and which has cost much more than that sum.

It is a serious question what should be the attitude of the United States if Colombia and France should go to war over the canal concession. Clearly the Monroe doctrine will not permit France to seize territory as compensation; equally clear is it that the interpretation put upon that doctrine in the Venezuelan case by the present administration, will not permit interference with any attempt of France to enforce the just claims of its citizens. The purpose of the Colombians is, no doubt, to create complications and, if possible, to steal the fruits of French enterprise and to mulct the United States in double sums for property and concessions. We believe, however, that the more rope the Colombian political brigands are given the sooner will they bring about conditions that will give the United States the power to construct and operate the canal. There is no feud between this country and France and we doubt not, they may easily reach an agreement upon the matters in hand, to the disadvantage of Colombia's schemers.

Bit of Practical Forestry.

A step in practical forestry is announced by the Pennsylvania railroad, which is about to set out 75,000 locust trees on property owned by it in this state. The railroad has been driven to this step by the scarcity of timber suitable for cross ties, and intends hereafter to supply its own wants in that matter. Other railroads may profitably follow the Pennsylvania example and, no doubt, will be compelled to do so ere long.

The railroads of the country have been large users of timber, particularly of white oak. Small trees answer even better for cross ties than large, so that while the forests have been robbed of the larger growth for heavy timbers, the smaller growth has gone to the railroads where, after a few years' use to hold steel rails together, they are wastefully piled up on the right-of-way and burned. Until the present movement of the Pennsylvania road it has, apparently, never occurred to any of them that their barren rights-of-way would look better for a tree covering and at the same time could be made to grow timber for cross ties.

The locust is a rapid growing tree and the wood is durable in exposed and damp situations. It is much in favor with farmers for fence posts, and the agriculturists are far in advance of the railroads in growing it for their own uses. Recent investigations by the department of agriculture at Washington have proven that certain varieties of the eucalyptus grow quite as rapidly as the locust, under favorable climatic conditions, and that the wood is more enduring. The department recommends the eucalyptus particularly for railroad ties and has advised the railroads of the southwest to undertake its culture.

Such practical forestry will help the situation somewhat, but it falls far short of all that is needed for the welfare of the country. Railroads, at best, own narrow strips of ground. Their trees will cast a grateful shade and probably serve as windbreaks for bleak fields occasionally. But the real need is for systematic reforestation at the headwaters of our streams. Experiments in India tend to prove that timber does not increase the total precipitation during the year, and other observations show it does not avail to prevent occasional disastrous floods. Yet all inquiry demonstrates its value in conserving water supplies and maintaining their comparative purity. Moreover, heavily timbered regions have a salutary influence upon the health of nations.

When the bears announced the discharge of 3,000 men by a concern which employs only 2,000 it is an attempt to apply to the labor market the short sale principle of stock speculation which is not so likely to prove as effective in the reduction of rates of wages as it has proven in reducing the prices of securities.

Since the astronomers are agreeing that the sun is in charge of the weather the man who keeps guard for Old Probabilities at the top of the government building is beginning to travel the main streets again, instead of dodging around through the back alleys and having his meals served in private.

Of course, it isn't Tom L. Johnson's fault that the people of Ohio remember that he once asked the Ohio legislature to place all taxes on land values instead of assessing them against the corporations. So far as he is concerned he would be glad to have them forget all about it.

Senator Hanna declares that his rival, John H. Clarke, has been on all sides of all questions and doesn't know where he is today. However, November 3 ought to be a great enlightener to him in revealing beyond a doubt that he is on the outside.

That English commission which is examining the Philadelphia traction system ought to come to Pittsburgh to see how popular the Pittsburgh traction system is, especially just after breakfast, and just before the evening meal.

Senator Platt, who has had some success in both business and politics, is now learning late in life that there is truth in the old saying that it is well to be off with the old love first.

The Erie, Pa., fishing tug that goes too often to the Canadian fishing grounds may catch the fish, but sometimes it doesn't bring them back, and even remains with them.

Again it may be remarked that a United States senator is just as young as he feels, especially if he is a United States senator from New York.

Mr. Bryan has been at sea politically for so many years that he ought to feel quite at home with himself on that voyage to Europe.

That far eastern war cloud doesn't seem to be as black as it has been painted.

CURE FOR THE BLUES.

That ever drove man to commingle with booze.
I've tried it myself quits as numerous times
As I've fingers and toes or occasion for rhymes.
'Tis this: When a purpling horizon I see
I jolly some fellow that's bluer than me.

You never have felt in your life, I'll assert,
So deep and so strong a sensation of hurt
But that, if you sought 'mid the men that you knew,
You'd find some poor devil whose tinting of blue
Would make your own color seem tame by its side—
So try on this rule I so often have tried.

When next the blue devils have camped on your trail,
And all you can see for yourself is to fail,
Who's muddled to death with some terrible muss—
Just size up his trouble, forget you are blue,
And jolly the fellow that's bluer than you.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

"Why was there not some one on this field, like Gordon Granger at Chickamauga, who could recognize in the boom of cannons and volleys of musketry an imperative order from God Almighty to march to the front and join in the battle?" asked Gen. John Beatty at a reunion held on the field of Perryville in 1886.

So far in this series there has been no departure from the records found in the field diary of a private soldier in order to make a greater story. To have done so would have spoiled the story intended by reducing it to the level of a story told by a story-teller.

That which has been set forth is what one soldier experienced, and what he noted down in a pocket diary from day to day. These notes were extended in a journal while the soldier was undergoing repairs in a hospital in Louisville. From this account of the battle as seen by one in the ranks, and of what followed, you may get a better idea of what real war means to the men individually, than from regulation accounts of battles.

But now, having left for Louisville by way of Lebanon, the nearest railroad point, the writer of the notes in the diary has no further personally acquired facts to record, thus bringing his own story of the battle of Perryville, as he saw it, to an end.

Tucked away between the pages of the journal was discovered the printed copy of an address by Gen. John Beatty, delivered on the field of Perryville, October 8, 1886, from which a few extracts will be in order, both by way of entertainment and instruction.

* * * * *

Many of you may recall, or at least have learned through reading, Gen. Carlos Buell, who commanded the union army, was afterward court-martialed, or investigated, rather, having been charged with failing to conduct this battle even reasonably well. He was on the suspended list for a long time, Gen. W. S. Rosecranz succeeding to the command of his army.

"With 58,000 troops well in hand and ready for battle, how did it happen the battle was so disastrous to the national arms?" asked Gen. Beatty.

"The explanation is simply this: The three divisions on the right of the line—Wood's, Van Cleve's and Smith's—owing to the direction in which a stiff wind was blowing, heard no musketry, and not being notified that a battle was in progress, they concluded from the artillery firing alone that no serious engagement was taking place, hence took no part in it.

"The three divisions of the center corps, however, and a portion of the cavalry under Gen. Gay, whose line was a mile in our rear, stretching from the Springfield road to the Mackville, were spectators of the conflict, and knew from personal observation how furious and terrible it was, but this infantry and cavalry were unfortunately in the hands that day of lieutenants or captains of the regular army, who held their impatient soldiers in check, while Polk, with Cheatham's division and Wharton's cavalry, assailed, and after a vigorous assault, scattered Terrell's brigade, composed mainly of raw recruits, and thus holding one brigade (Many's) and the cavalry to keep up the fight with Starkweather, sent Donelson and Stewart to reinforce Buckner and Anderson, who with one division and three brigades, were pounding away on Lytte's and Harris' brigades.

"While these two brigades of Rousseau's division were being assaulted and hammered into a state of exhaustion by over two divisions of confederate troops, and while 3,500 union soldiers were falling either dead or wounded on the crest of this ridge, and while the enemy were swarming on our front, and on our right, Gen. Sheridan (now the general of the United States army), with a strong division, lay near by to the south of us, menaced and held by a single confederate brigade (Powell's), which subsequently was driven by Carlin's brigade of Mitchell's division pell-mell through the streets of Perryville.

"But Sheridan, alas! could not move to the assistance of McCook without an order from Gen. Gilbert, and Gilbert could not permit him to move without an order from Gen. Buell, and, although Buell was not far away and ready to received information from his various corps, and if need be, help them, he was not advised of the situation by his lieutenants, and did not know until 4 o'clock that the battle was on.

"Why was there not some one on this field like Gordon Granger at Chickamauga, who could recognize in the boom of cannon and volleys of musketry an imperative order from God Almighty to march to the front and join in the battle?"

* * * * *

"It would not be true, however, to say that with 40,000 idle men at hand no help at all was extended to us, for Gooding's brigade of Mitchell's division was finally sent to our assistance. It was a brigade of veteran soldiers and bravely led.

"The confederate army was within the grasp of the national forces, if the hand of the latter had been put vigorously forth the former would have been crushed. None saw this more clearly than Bragg and Polk, and so, having struck their blow and ascertained our strength, they hurriedly left us to weep over the loss of friends, and to curse the martinets who permitted victory to be snatched away when by the exercise of a little common sense it might have been secured with even fewer casualties than we sustained.

"But these captains and lieutenants on the roster of the regular army should, perhaps, not be too severely censured. They probably did the best they knew how. The only thing they had at that time in common with great military leaders was their uniforms—the gold lace, buttons and stars. They appeared well on dress parade, and subsequently acquired some practical knowledge of the art of war, and rendered valuable service to their country, but it cost the lives of thousands of brave men to qualify them for the high positions to which they were prematurely assigned. They were in fact, no better fitted to command corps and divisions than the youngest graduate of a law school to sit on the bench of the supreme court of the United States.

"If Bragg had been a great general he would have abandoned Kentucky without fighting the battle of Perryville, and if after the battle was begun the Union forces had been in competent hands the confederate army would have been annihilated.

"It is difficult just now to decide which side—federals or confederates—is entitled to the credit of having rendered conspicuous the biggest fool in the history of the war. But with its customary generosity the north is, I am quite sure, willing to concede this honor to our confederate friends."

* * * * *

Gen. Beatty has long been noted for saying things, and saying them plainly and clearly. In this address he fairly expressed the views and conclusions held by most of the soldiers engaged in that battle.

He is willing to excuse Gen. Buell in a measure, because he had been injured the day before by his horse falling with him, which prevented him from riding along the front, but it did not prevent Gen. Gilbert from sending word to him, which he could have done by signal in a minute, or by courier in 15 minutes. Why Gilbert did not do this when he knew McCook more than had his hands full, has never been explained. He was a martinet of the first water, and a captain in the regular army. No one dared to move—scarcely to breathe—without his permission. A year or two later Sheridan would not have watched Lytte's brigade being mowed down without going to the rescue.

Col. Dan McCook, commanding the Fifty-second Ohio, said in his report:

"I saw the barn on Gen. Rousseau's right in flames, and saw the rebels, three lines deep, in line of battle. They were so near I could see daylight through their ranks with no glass. I saw them envelop and drive back Lytte's right. At that time our division, with two batteries, was lying idle. I begged Gen. Sheridan to allow us to open with the artillery. The answer from Gen. Gilbert through him was that it might concentrate the enemies' fire on our troops."

Those who knew Dan McCook need not be told that there was a good deal of military language flying around there about that time.

However, the fact that the army was not well handled did not make our losses less severe; nor did it spoil, or even mar, the fine fighting records made that day.

And then we must consider that our generals, as well as the men, were new at the business. Almost any field or line officer, and many of the rank and file of Sherman's army, would have made better records than either Buell or Gilbert.

Or if Gen. Beatty, then colonel of the Third Ohio, had been in command, there would have been action all along the line, for he had a reputation for doing things, as well as for saying things.

But the war is over now.

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Tammany realizes that it must make a supreme effort at its ratification meeting this evening to offset the effect of District Attorney Jerome's ringing denunciation last night. The gathering in the wigwam tonight is an immense one. Whether it is larger than that in Cooper Union hall yesterday, when Mayor Low's nomination was clinched, is a question, but there is more noise to be heard from in East Fourteenth street, while the oratory is progressing inside than woke up the Bowery when Jerome was in the midst of his effort. This is not because Tammany is more enthusiastic than the Fusionists, but simply that Tammany makes as much noise as it can on all occasions, and that it can howl with greater volume than any other body of men under the sun. Where there were two or three "overflow meetings" last night, there are more than half a dozen now and each speaker seems to be trying to outyell all the others. Logic is all well enough, but the great desideratum at a Tammany ratification is noise. East Fourteenth street is getting it tonight.

Fire Fiend's Tongue Touched Scarlet.

The Rialto is wondering whether the destruction of Leonard Scarlet's scenery in a fire in Baltimore yesterday is a judgment on him for wanting to kiss an actress on the lips against her will. It is remembered that a young woman who had been playing leading business opposite Mr. Scarlet in his stock company, had been discharged because she declined to be kissed on the lips in the first act of "Resurrection." Now Mr. Scarlet has been burned out. The unkissed young woman said this afternoon, "Poor fellow."

Orange Blossoms and a Wounded Heart.

It is said that Miss Mae C. Wood has entered suit against Senator Thomas C. Platt for breach of promise, placing her damages at the money value of $25,000. Whether this be true or not it is certain that preparations for the nuptials tomorrow are going on gaily. The Marble Collegiate church in Fifth avenue will be the scene of the ceremony. It was understood that it would take place in a private house, but the bride wanted a church wedding, provided it could be unostentatious. Senator Platt can have pretty much anything he wants in New York, so it was easy for him to promise that with the assurance that it would be fulfilled. Only relatives and close friends will be present. Miss Wood may stry to get in, but the police will be on the lookout for her to keep her out.

Goosebone Man Will Bob Up Next.

Although the weather is beautiful at present, with no official likelihood of its being anything else for a while, there is an omen of another storm which is regarded seriously by many suburbanites. Crows are flying low over the meadows while sea-gulls are almost dipping their wings in the waters of New York harbor as they sweep to and fro. These low flights are considered indubitable signs of dirty weather, and one may hear predictions even of more floods, and that before the week is out.

Bruce Delivers Heart to Heart Talks.

Spellbinders who have been engaged to help in electing the Fusion ticket do not know whether to be grateful or indignant over the determination of M. Linn Bruce to give them a few "pointers" on cart tail oratory. Mr. Bruce is chairman of the Republican county committee of New York. He is a tall, well-built man, who has delivered some hundreds of political addresses, and who knows something about the art of swaying audiences by persuasive eloquence, with fierce denunciation for the other side. Mr. Bruce gathers his orators about him for a few minutes every day, giving them instructions as to the most effective arguments to use in particular cases, with a few general hints thrown in. He warns them against "chestnuts" and advises them that they are engaged to get votes rather than to display their talent as speakers. If they can make the audience believe they are fine orators while getting the votes, there is no objection, but they must always keep in mind that vote-getting is what they are there for. The lesson is a useful one in any campaign.

Big Bill Grows Epigramatic.

Wonder what Richard Croker will think of this latest outburst from Devery: "Some folks has milked this town so long that England seems healthier."

Just a Glance at the Master Mind.

In Madison Square garden today the most important work in progress was the building of a huge creche for the accommodation of babies. While the mothers are in the garden listening to the exhortations of Dowie or his aids, joining in the singing and taking a general part in the religious exercises, their babies can be in the nursery. Each baby will be numbered, and the mother will hold a brass check bearing a corresponding number. If a child becomes so fractious that the nurses cannot restore it to equanimity, or if it should be so ill as to require its mother's care, its number will be flashed upon a blackboard at the back of the speakers' platform. Each mother can refer to her check, and when one finds that it is her baby in trouble, she can go to the nursery and take care of it. This is only one of many arrangements showing that Dowie is a man of great executive ability, whatever he may be as an evangelist.

Is Able To Keep the Pot a "Boilin'."

Although trains are not running on the Erie further than Paterson, the service, so far as it goes, is almost as regular as before the flood. The waters have gone down so rapidly that Passaic is almost dry, while the low parts of Paterson are beginning to peep forth again. Mayor Hinchliffe is pleased that he was able to bring his city through without taking outside help. Hinchliffe is a very rich man, owning a brewry which supplies most of the beer in that part of New Jersey, and he has gone deeply into his own pocket in caring for the needy, as well as passing the hat to good effect among his fellow citizens. But he wants it understood that Paterson can take care of itself, even under extraordinary circumstances like the present.

Just Like the Gridiron Hero.

When one is riding across country after the hounds, one must not be afraid of a broken collar bone. That is the sentiment of W. Scott Cameron, who came a cropper while returning from the Meadowbrooke hunt yesterday. He remounted his horse and rode home, with his broken collar bone grating its rough edges together. There a surgeon patched him up. He was walking about his home today, but does not expect to be able to ride for a month. Still, as he says, a broken collar bone is nothing to a huntsman.

Monk Tells His Story.

"Monk" Eastman was on the stand in the assault case today. He had his story ready, and told nonchalantly that he had been engaged by David Lamar to protect him against his coachman, McMahon, and not to give that functionary a vengeful beating. "Monk" was the star witness this morning.

Poor Consolation.

Cuban Reciprocity.

The approval of the reciprocity treaty with Cuba is apparently the only work of importance to be done at the extra session of congress to be called by the president. Currency legislation, at one time deemed necessary, now appears to have been dropped. Wise action by Secretary Shaw has averted any trouble in the money market, and that relieves the pressure for immediate legislation.

There is no reason to believe that any Republican opposition will be offered to a joint resolution approving the Cuban reciprocity treaty. Representative William Alden Smith of Michigan, who was one of the active opponents of the reduction in the duty on sugar in the last house, says that he will not oppose such a resolution. The treaty was ratified by the senate and by the Cuban congress, and factional opposition now would be extraordinary. A resolution to approve it will probably pass the house without much delay, and as the senate ratified the treaty it would be mere filibustering to delay in that body approval of the house resolution.

There is need of prompt action on the treaty. United States exports to Cuba declined in value nearly $5,000,000 in the last fiscal year. The imports from Cuba were in value $62,942,700, while the exports aggregated only $21,761,688. As no other nation will get the 20 per cent reduction in duty allowed Cuba her sugar will all come here, instead of that of Java and other countries to which we sell practically nothing. Under the reduction in rates on American goods in Cuba there should be an immense increase in the exports from the United States. There is $100,000,000 of American capital invested in Cuba, and the close relations already established will rapidly increase under the reciprocity treaty.—Philadelphia Press.

Our exportations to Cuba last year were less than in 1899. They were $29,000,000 in 1899 as against only $26,000,000 in 1902. In the meantime Germany has increased her exportations to Cuba from $2,000,000 in 1899 to $3,000,000 in 1902. England can also show an increase in her exportations to Cuba, as well as France. The exportations of Spain to Cuba have fallen off since 1899 only $1,000,000, the figures for 1899 being $11,000,000 and for 1902 $10,000,000. Consul Steinhart says that if something isn't done to push American trade it is going to be hard to break off the connections which Cuba is establishing with Europe.

This puts the question of reciprocity on another basis than a matter of charity. We must begin to figure on helping our own industries in making trade treaties with Cuba. As things go now we are buying the most of Cuba's sugar and tobacco, but are selling her less than half of her articles of import. Since 1900 the Island has increased its trade by something like $15,000,000, and yet our own trade with the Cubans has fallen off $3,000,000. It is obvious that we are getting the worst of a commerce in which we buy more than twice as much as we sell. There is no possible way in which we can equalize this traffic except by increasing our sales, for we must go on buying more and more of Cuba's principal products. And thus it comes home to us that Cuban reciprocity, means help for American industries as well as for those of Cuba, and it is in this light that the question will present itself to congress.—Kansas City Journal.

+ + + +

In anticipation of the president's call for a special session of congress, to meet on November 9, the leaders of the majority take pains to declare that no business of importance will be considered at this extra session except the treaty of reciprocity with Cuba. That is, indeed, a matter of sufficient urgency to justify alone the assembling of congress a month earlier than the customary date. It was discreditably abandoned at the adjournment of the regular session, and the national duty toward Cuba, and not less the duty of congress toward American commerce and trade, required it to be disposed of early and promptly.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

+ + + +

There would appear to be no reason why the Cuban business should not easily be disposed of at the special session of congress. It will not only have the right of way, but will be the only thing on the track. The Republicans, it is understood, have done with their opposition. Representative Smith of Michigan, who was prominent in the fight against the treaty in the last congress, recently told a Star reporter that he and his colleagues would not renew the contest. As this is probably the attitude of the other Republicans who were in opposition in the last congress speculation centers solely on what the Democrats will do.

The Democrats want some discussion of the tariff question for use in the presidential campaign, and will be within their rights in provoking it. But an excellent opportunity for this will come later. They need not bring on the debate at the special session. They cannot hope for anything but debate. No tariff legislation will be possible before the presidential election. Gov. Cummins, the leading representative of the Iowa idea, agrees with Senator Hanna, the leader of the standpatters, as to that. No good partisan purpose, therefore, would be served by obstructing the Cuban treaty at the special session, and the Democratic leaders may decide upon postponing the introduction of the tariff issue until the regular session, when there will be time enough to make every point they may have in mind.

Fitting in with this topic is the story from Havana giving an account of the return of President Palma from a tour of the island, and his views of the situation. He was cordially welcomed everywhere, and found much to encourage the hope of both permanency and prosperity for Cuban independence. The people are at work, the crops are good, the prices are looking up, and peace prevails. This happy condition of affairs grows out of the progress of the closer business relations with the United States. And so it is that we are dealing, not with a country districted by horrors and sunk in wretchedness, but one on the up grade, whose people desire our friendship and are rapidly increasing wants which it will more than pay us in a money sense to supply. Cuba's importations should come almost wholly from the United States, and will, if our legislation on the subject is prompt and wise.—Washington Star.

What May Happen.

The continued occupation of Manchuria by the Russians is not a matter with which the United States has any immediate concern. That is China's business, and if the Chinese choose to put up with it we needn't care. But we have just made a treaty with China which confers upon this country certain privileges in Manchuria as in other parts of the Chinese empire. It is possible that the Russians will in some way or other, either direct or indirect, undertake to interfere with our enjoyment of these privileges, and should that happen some vigorous diplomacy at Washington of the shirtsleeves kind will be in order.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Spanish Discrimination.

All agricultural implements and other goods exported to Spain from the United States pay the maximum rates of the Spanish tariff. But similar goods coming from almost all European countries enjoy lower rates. The recently concluded commercial treaty between the United States and Spain makes no change in rates; that is, the United States will continue to pay the maximum rates while European countries pay the minimum. It would appear about time for the United States to adopt maximum and minimum tariff in self-defense.—Philadelph

FACTIONAL WAR AGITATES PITTSBURGH'S CHINATOWN

Mongolians Are Quietly Taking Sides, Either for or Against Yee Que Jung.

LEE FAMILY HAS ASSISTANCE

William S. Lee, a Student in New York Nautical College, Here Assisting His Relatives in Their Fight on Rules of Chinese Court.

William S. Lee.

Lee You.

Chinatown is greatly agitated over the efforts of the Lee family to overthrow the Yees from the dominant rule of their countrymen here. Local Chinamen are quietly taking sides, and the test will come when Yee Que Jung appears in court to answer the charge of aggravated assault and battery, preferred by Frank Lee. Yee Que Jung was arrested on Tuesday, together with two other Chinamen, all on the same charge. The three were yesterday released on $800 bail.

Yee Que Jung is regarded as the leader of the Yee faction and he is the man whose overthrow is most desired. Que Jung is an intelligent Chinaman who conducts a restaurant in Grant street, near Third avenue. He speaks English fluently and is very well educated. He is not popular among his countrymen, but he is greatly feared. The sympathy of most of Chinatown's denizens is with the Lees, but they are afraid to openly declare themselves, lest Yee Que Jung may not be sent to jail.

The Lees claim Yee Que Jung exacts tributes from the timid among the Chinese merchants. Lee, however, refused to pay the tribute and there the quarrel started. Frank Lee is at present quite sick from the injuries received during the riot in the Chinese court, for which Yee Que Jung and his fellows were arrested. Associated with Frank Lee here in his fight against Yee, are Lee You, who conducts a restaurant at No. 511 Second avenue; Ben Lee, and William S. Lee of New York.

William S. Lee is in this city assisting his relatives in their fight against oppression. Lee is a full-blooded Chinaman but has complete command of the English language. He has been a student at the New York Nautical college for two years and he intends to return to China shortly to establish there a naval academy modeled after the one he is attending, to teach Chinese officers the navigator's art, after the most improved methods.

AUTOMOBILE RACERS TO REACH HERE TODAY

Machines in the New York-Pittsburgh Endurance Run Will Reach Sewickley Shortly After Noon—Receptions Are Planned.

At Sewickley the leaders of the New York-Pittsburgh automobile endurance run will receive their first welcome to Pittsburgh. Shortly after noon today the machines in the van of the racers are expected to loom in sight along the Beaver valley road, and there the reception committee from the Automobile club of Pittsburgh will be on hand in special cars to escort the tourists to the local garage at the Hotel Schenley. There will be no speeding after the Allegheny suburbs are reached, and the run through the city will be made in dignified procession.

The cars will leave Youngstown at 6:30 o'clock this morning, and the run to Pittsburgh will require about six hours. On account of the rough condition of the roads there will be little effort to make a time record. From Sewickley the route is through Glenfield, Emsworth, Avalon, Bellevue, over High bridge, following the trolley line to Chartiers street, to Franklin, to Fulton, to Ridge, to Stockton, to Federal, across the Sixth street bridge to Fifth avenue, to Grant and out the boulevard to the Hotel Schenley. Three special cars bearing the reception committee and the newspaper representatives will leave the Frick building at 10 o'clock this morning to meet the tourists. James F. Burke, William C. Temple and W. Linford Smith will represent the committee.

The two pilot cars arrived at New Brighton at 5:45 o'clock last night and remained there ready to proceed to Pittsburgh early this morning. The cars were in charge of Harry Unwin, secretary of the Automobile Manufacturers' association; Windsor White, president of the White Company; Fred Nickerson of the Pearce Company; Frank Brown and Edward Retling. They made the run from Youngstown in less than three hours. The leaders among the contestants are expected to reach New Brighton about 11 o'clock this morning.

Not all the machines will reach here at noon. For some of the competitors the road out of Youngstown will be the hardest test of the entire journey, and some are expected to be compelled to make haste slowly. In consequence, machines will come struggling in until late in the afternoon. In the meantime officers and members of the American Association of Automobile Manufacturers will proceed to Pittsburgh by rail.

After dinner the visitors and members of the local Automobile club will attend a theater party at the Avenue. The auditorium will be gaily decorated for the occasion and about 500 will occupy seats in the boxes and the orchestra. A smoker at the Hotel Henry will follow the theater.

CALL SENT OUT TO PROPERTY OWNERS

If the Objectors Do Not Sign Waiver, Virgin Alley Will Not Be Widened.

MEETING IS SET FOR FRIDAY

Unless a Compromise Is Effected Repealing Ordinance Will Be Introduced in Councils—Director Bigelow Announces Action Will Be Soon Taken.

The select council committee on public works failed to get a quorum yesterday, and another call for tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock was issued. The committee was one vote short of a quorum. Those present were Chairman Charles Stewart, Samuel J. Wainwright, John H. Voskamp, T. O. Atkinson and President John S. Lambie.

Chairman Stewart instructed the clerk to summon Virgin alley property owners to appear at the meeting tomorrow. The clerk sent out notices to 18 property owners. Chairman Stewart stated that his object in summoning the property owners was to get them to sign a paper waiving the right to appeal from the awards of the board of viewers, otherwise the widening of the street might be stopped by the introduction of a repealing ordinance, as the committee did not want to make the city liable for any increase in damages or decrease in benefits that the court might allow the property owners. Mr. Stewart said this had been done in the case of the Diamond alley widening.

Assistant City Solicitor Thomas D. Carnahan was present and asked to be excused from attending tomorrow's meeting. He thought there was no necessity of him attending, as the only object of the communication from the mayor and city solicitor was to inform councils of the progress of the improvement. Wainwright and Lambie asked Carnahan a number of questions as to the difference in the benefits and damages that had been assessed the largest property owners. He told them also that the city had been assessed $78,000 for benefits on the city hall property and $23,000 to make up the difference between the total benefits and damages, amounting to about $101,000 that the city would have to pay.

Director E. M. Bigelow has stated that an ordinance to repeal the widening of Virgin alley will be introduced in councils unless the property owners signed a paper waiving the right to appeal to the courts.

Leaky Boilers Cause Bad Service.

But 11 of the 21 street cars operating on the South Side were running yesterday. The cars were run six minutes apart and much complaint was made by residents on their way to the city. Repairs on the boilers at the power house, which have been leaking badly for several days, are being made. The work is expected to be completed by this morning.

CATARRH THE CAUSE OF MOST KIDNEY DISEASES.

FRED R. PENNELL.

A Prominent Pianist Went to Hot Springs for Kidney Trouble but Pe-ru-na Cured Him.

Fred R. Pennell, Pianist, Grand Opera House, Hot Springs, Ark., writes:

"Two years ago I came to Hot Springs to take the baths and be treated for bladder and kidney trouble. After spending two months here under the care of one of the most prominent physicians and receiving little or no benefit, I was persuaded to try Peruna. I had little faith in it, but after using one bottle I noticed a marked improvement. Three bottles entirely cured me. I can cheerfully recommend Peruna to any one afflicted as I was"—Fred R. Pennell.

Catarrh of the Kidneys a Common Disease—Kidney Trouble Often Fails to be Regarded as Catarrh by Physicians.

Catarrh of the kidneys is very common indeed. It is a pity this fact is not better known to the physicians as well as the people.

People have kidney disease. They take some diuretic, hoping to get better. They never once think of catarrh. Kidney disease and catarrh are seldom associated in the minds of the people, and alas, it is not very often associated in the minds of the physicians. Too few physicians recognize catarrh of the kidneys. They doctor for something else. They try this remedy and that remedy. The trouble may be catarrh all the time. A few bottles of Peruna would cure them.

Peruna strikes at the very center of the difficulty, by eradicating the catarrh from the kidneys. Catarrh is the cause of kidney difficulty. Remove the cause and you remove the effect. With unerring accuracy Peruna goes right to the spot. The kidneys are soon doing their work with perfect regularity.

Thousands of testimonials from people who have had kidney disease which had gone beyond the control of the physician, are received by Dr. Hartman every year, giving Peruna the whole praise for marvelous cures.

Peruna cures kidney disease. The reason it cures kidney disease is because it cures catarrh. Catarrh of the kidneys is the cause of most kidney disease. Peruna cures catarrh, wherever it happens to be located. It rarely fails.

President Louisiana Commercial Club.

Hon. William Watson Washburn, President of the Louisiana Commercial Club, and a very well known man of New Orleans, La., writes from No. 637 Canal street:

"I am satisfied that there is not a finer medicine placed before the public today than Peruna. I have been troubled for nearly twelve years with kidney and liver trouble, and at times I have been a pretty sick man, unable to attend to my duties.

"I had about made up my mind that no medicine could help me when one of your booklets was brought to my office which I read in a leisure hour. I then decided to give Peruna a trial and found that I had at last secured the right medicine for me.

"For two months I used it faithfully and then felt so well that I was like a young man once more. This was over a year ago and I have not had any trouble since.

"Although I am in the seventies, I feel better and more active than I did thirty years ago."—W. W. Washburn.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

VISIT TO INDIAN SCHOOL

[From a Staff Correspondent.]
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CARLISLE, PA., Oct. 14.—The delegates of state federation of women's clubs woke this morning to a busy day, after a long night's rest, disturbed by no sounds of factory life or bustling city activity. They were aroused by the crowing of the roosters and the singing of the birds in the immense trees which line the streets of the quiet Pennsylvania town. The morning session was followed by a hurried lunch and an afternoon trip to the Carlisle Industrial Indian school. This evening the program was resumed in the First Lutheran church. At the opening of the morning session, nominations were received for state delegates to the general federation in St. Louis, next year.

The nominations were: Miss Mary Knox Garvin, Philadelphia, for working delegate, whose expenses will be paid by the federation; Mrs. Samuel I. Ammon, Pittsburgh; Mrs. George A. Kelm, Reading; Mrs. Scheide, Thrasville; Mrs. Ella L. Campbell, Wayne; Miss Jane Pressley, Erie; Mrs. P. L. Newell, Bradford; Mrs. Hugh White, Williamsport; Miss Jane Campbell, Philadelphia; Mrs. B. L. Brundred, Oil City; Mrs. Edward W. Biddle, Carlisle; Miss Kate C. McKnight, Pittsburgh; Miss Ida H. Boyer, Philadelphia; Mrs. Horace Brock, Lebanon; Mrs. Hunter, Phoenixville; Miss Graighead, Pittsburgh; Mrs. W. F. Abel, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Joseph Schimpf, Philadelphia; Miss Myra L. Dock, Harrisburg; Mrs. George Rhodes, Bethlehem; Mrs. Ada Young, Smithport; Mrs. Edwin Linton, Washington, and Mrs. Charles D. Armstrong, Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Edward W. Biddle, Carlisle, was the only nominee for state secretary of the general federation. The election will be held tomorrow morning from 10 to 12:00. The board of tellers was appointed this morning, the western members being Mrs. Mattie Patterson of the New Erie club, and Mrs. W. E. Lincoln of the Wimodausis. The morning program included addresses upon the club movement and its work in securing better legislation.

Working Women in Clubs.

Miss Jean Hamilton, secretary of the League of Women Workers, spoke on "The Club Movement Among Working Women." She told of the better social, mental and moral influences which are offered girls employed in stores and factories through the day by the organization of clubs. The National League of Women Workers comprises 104 individual working girls' clubs, while many of the others are still outside the league and their number cannot be counted. The number of women and girls who may be reached by such organizations is very great.

In Pittsburgh there are 5,298 girls and women employed in factories; in Reading 3,215, Carlisle 550, Harrisburg 2,139, Chester 974, Williamsport 1,800, Scranton 1,410 and York 1,482.

The total number in Philadelphia is much larger than in Pittsburgh. These figures do not include the girls employed in the stores. An open discussion followed. Miss Hamilton's address participated in by Miss Laura N. Platt, of Philadelphia, who spoke for the Pennsylvania Association of Women Workers; Mrs. John Cowley, Allegheny, who told of the work of the Business Women's Club of Allegheny and Mrs. E. E. Crocker, Pittsburgh, who spoke of the purpose of a club of young colored girls in Pittsburgh.

P. H. V. Hartzell, chief clerk of the department of factory inspection, read a paper on "child labor" in which he followed the history of legislation in Pennsylvania covering the employment of children, the first act having been passed in 1849. A new bill is being prepared to be presented at the next legislature. Among its provisions will be the placing of the lowest age limit for children employed in factories and shops at 14 years, 16 years the lowest age limit for girls in cigar factories, and prohibiting night work for children altogether.

New Reforms Suggested.

In the discussion which followed Mrs. John Cowley, Allegheny, suggested compulsory birth registration as a means toward enforcing the law. Mrs. Frederick Scoff, of Philadelphia, spoke on "How clubs can assist in the administration of the new laws for children." She enumerated the measures of reform secured through the co-operation and the work of women, the new juvenile court law, the probation system for childish offenders, house of detention, the provision for a board of visitors for all children's institutions in the state and the prohibition against magistrates committing children to reformatories.

Following the address, a description of the juvenile court work in Allegheny county was given by Mrs. Alice B. Montgomery. A few minutes were given Dr. Rothrock, of the State forestry commission, who congratulated the Pennsylvania women on the work which had been done for forestry in this state since they had taken up its cause.

On Saturday an excursion will be made to the forestry reservation at Mt. Alto. In the afternoon special trolley cars carried the club women out to the Carlisle Industrial Indian school on the invitation of Col. Richard H. Pratt, superintendent. Indian girls met the visitors at the entrance to the grounds and conducted them to small groups over the grounds and various buildings, going first to the assembly hall where a portion of the 600 students were gathered.

The women were received with a special musical program by the Carlisle Indian band, followed by a number of short speeches by the students on the various clubs and societies in the school, including the Invincibles, a boys' literary society; the Standard, a debating society; the Susan Longstreet club for girls; the Young Women's Christian Association; the Young Men's Christian Association, and the outing system by means of which the students are placed in country homes at some time during their stay in the institution that they may come in contact with the influences of simple home life.

Indian Students Receive Visitors.

Each of the students was introduced by Mrs. Pratt, the wife of the superintendent. After the exercises in the hall, the women inspected the institution, visiting the class rooms, the Lloyd department, the sewing and mending classes and the carpenter, tin, wheelwright and carriage shops where the students were all at work.

The following ticket was presented by the nomination committee: President, Miss Kate McKnight, Twentieth Century club, Pittsburgh; vice-presidents—Mrs. Phebe Sennett, Kennett, New Century Club; Mrs. Johnson Mackndhan, Afternoon Club, Chambersburg; Mrs. Ida M. Houghton, Woman's Literary Club, Bradford; Secretary, Miss Mary Knox Garvin, Alumnae Association of Girls' High and Normal school, Philadelphia; treasurer Mrs. Wilbur Fisk Luch, Woman's Club, of Ardmore. Directors—Mrs. Horace Brock, Woman's Club, Lebanon; Mrs. Ellis Lewis Campbell, Saturday Club, of Wayne; Mrs. Wilbur T. Rose, New Century Club, Philadelphia. Mrs. P. M. Speer, Belles Lettres Club, Oil City.

Miss McKnight Makes Address.

"Our Public Schools" was the subject of an address delivered at the evening session by C. B. Gilbert of New York City, who drew a bright picture of the ideal and possible school. This ideal school will include ample playgrounds, kindergarten, and sometimes many of them a well-equipped gymnasium, a hall which will be the social center of the neighborhood, a curriculum well-balanced and comprehensive, music, manual training and domestic science.

The opportunities open to a woman director was the subject of Miss Kate C. McKnight's address. From her personal observation gained in the position of school director in Allegheny, she advocates higher salaries for the women teachers and establishing a higher age qualification as well as educational qualifications to teach, and a more careful superintendence of school buildings as to cleanliness, sanitary conditions and janitors' service.

Mrs. Mary E. Mumford, of Philadelphia, followed with an address on "club women in relation to the schools" claiming that the next step they will take in educational work will be to secure more individual care for the scholars on the part of the teachers and advocated more laboratory work in place of lessons from text books.

This afternoon a meeting of the state board of the Consumers' league was held at the Hotel Wellington. Mrs. W. J. Askin, of Pittsburgh, presided. It was decided through the corresponding secretary to ask the co-operation of all women's clubs in Pennsylvania in the work of the Consumers' league. Reports were received from the two local branches, the one in Philadelphia, and the other in Western Pennsylvania.

AFRICAN METHODIST CONFERENCE BEGINS

Pastor Is Dropped for Permitting a Cake Walk in His Church.

The thirty-sixth annual conference of the African Methodist Episcopal churches of the Pittsburgh district opened yesterday in the Gould Avenue African Methodist Episcopal church in the East End. Sessions will be held for five days. Bishop B. W. Arnett of Wilberforce, O., called the conference to order and there were 140 delegates present.

After calling the roll yesterday morning, Bishop Arnett delivered a brief address to the delegates. Announcement was made that the name of the Rev. H. J. Williams, formerly pastor of the Duquesne church, had been dropped from the list. He was dropped because he permitted a cake walk in his church a year ago. Mr. Williams has united with the Zion African Methodist Episcopal conference.

The election of officers resulted as follows: The Rev. T. J. Askin, secretary; the Rev. S. B. West, recording secretary; the Rev. Charles Powell, statistical secretary, the Rev. A. J. Grant, Christian recorder, and the Rev. W. B. Anderson, chairman of the press committee.

A number of prominent church workers are attending the conference. They are the Rev. J. H. Jones, president of Wilberforce University; Dr. H. T. Johnson, editor of the "Christian Recorder," of Philadelphia; Prof. John R. Hawkins, secretary of the church extension societies of Kittell, N. C.; the Rev. John M. Colett, manager of the book concern of Philadelphia, and the Rev. W. H. Brown, of the Chartiers Street church, an ex-presiding elder, an old soldier and a senior member of the conference. The Rev. J. Jeffries is pastor of the church where the conference is being held.

Among the important business to come before the conference is the election of four ministerial delegates to the general conference to be held in Chicago next May. The lay delegates were chosen last May. The presiding elders who will assist Bishop Arnett in conducting the convention are the Rev. H. B. Wheeler of the Pittsburgh district, the Rev. W. S. Lowry of the Allegheny district, and the Rev. C. A. Magee of the Wheeling district.

Last night the Rev. W. C. Martin made the address welcoming the delegates on behalf of the churches of this city. Others who delivered addresses were the Rev. P. A. Scott, Oil City, Pa.; the Rev. D. F. Callman, Washington, Pa.; the Rev. C. A. MaGee, Wheeling, W. Va.; the Rev. W. H. Brown, Allegheny, and the pastor of the Euclid Avenue church, the Rev. J. W. Jeffries.

DYNAMITE SUSPECTS SAID TO BE ARRESTED

Washington County Reports Say Private Detective Agency Found Them Here.

A telegram from Washington, Pa., announces that Washington county officials have received word of the capture of two men suspected of complicity in the dynamite plot by which Contractor Samuel B. Ferguson was robbed and murdered several weeks ago. The men are said to have been located and put under arrest in Pittsburgh by a private detective agency. The two men captured are said to have between $2,000 and $3,000 on their persons.

Absolutely nothing is known by the Pittsburgh police of this arrest and there are no prisoners in the county jail or city police stations on this charge. It is possible that the men are being held at some suburban lockup, if the report of their arrest is correct. They are said to be held awaiting identification by Lewis Liggett, the farmer who saw one of the men running away from the scene of the explosion with a satchel.

Gen. Chase Placed Under Arrest.

DENVER, COL., Oct. 14.—Brigadier Gen. John Chase, who was relieved of the command of the national guard in Cripple Creek by Gov. Peabody 10 days ago, was placed under arrest today on charges in connection with his attempt to take possession of the military payrolls. He will be tried before court-martial at the capitol next Monday.

HOT BEVERAGES.

What to Use In Place of Tea and Coffee.

Many drink tea and coffee against their better judgment, because they require a hot drink at meal time.

They know that by the use of tea and coffee they are only drugging themselves but they struggle along and continue to use one or the other. To these people Postum Cereal Coffee is a great help, for many people find well boiled Postum superior in flavor to coffee, to say nothing of its great health restoring qualities.

The effect upon those who leave off tea and coffee and take to Postum is very marked, for the old time coffee ails such as heart trouble, kidney disease, nervousness and other ills soon disappear as if by magic. The Postum makes new red blood and this is shown in the rosy cheeks and clear complexion that replace the blotched sallow skin of the coffee drinker. A young school miss of Alva, Okla., says of Postum: "I have used it now for over a year and my complexion and general health show the change. Before that time I drank tea and coffee and my complexion was sallow and muddy. I also had almost constant dull headaches. I realized that I must give up tea and coffee, but held on to them because I felt the need of a hot drink at meal times.

"One day I heard Postum so well spoken of I decided to try it and bless the day did so. I dropped coffee and took up Postum and now my dull headaches have disappeared, my complexion is fresh and rosy, eyes bright and mind clear. I sleep well now and I owe it all to using Postum in place of coffee.

"The matron of the Young Ladies' Boarding house at the Alva normal school has adopted Postum as a standard drink, as she is positive the students study and get along better on Postum, than on any other drink.

"A lady friend of mine had a son who was a nervous wreck due, so his doctor said, to coffee. The lady tried Postum and the young man relished it so he drank it in preference to coffee and in a few weeks he was like an entirely new person. I know of lots more cases, too." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

THREE TROLLEY CARS RAN OVER BOY'S BODY

Fifteenth Ward Youth Killed Near Thirty-Third Street. Other Coroner's Cases.

Killed by one car and mangled by three others was the sad fate of Joshua James, a 12-year-old boy, who lived at No. 3 Hazlett alley, Fifteenth ward. The accident occurred in Penn avenue, near Thirty-second street, shortly after 7 o'clock last night. The lad with some companions had been playing on the sidewalk and started to cross the street. James was struck by a westbound car, which severed his head and body.

For almost a block the body was dragged by the car. The motorman evidently knew nothing of the accident, and continued his run to the city. Three other cars following closely passed over the lifeless trunk before it was picked up.

A report was started that the boy had been struck by an automobile and thrown under the car, but the police discredit this story. Mrs. Tillie Espy, a sister of the boy, identified the remains at the morgue. The officials of the Pittsburgh Railways Company are trying to ascertain what crews were on the cars that mangled James.

A man believed to be James Reador went into P. C. Schilling's drug store, No. 2100 Penn avenue, last night and asked for a drink of seltzer. While the clerk was mixing the drink he fell over in a faint. He was taken to the West Penn hospital, where he died shortly after his arrival. The cause of his death is not known.

Mary Lindsay, 4 years old, of No. 3442 Brereton avenue, died yesterday afternoon of burns received Sunday while playing near a bonfire.

Mrs. Mary Robertson, aged 75 years, was found dead in bed at her home, No. 814 Howard street, Allegheny, at noon yesterday. She had been in good health and heart failure is thought to have caused her death.

DOWIE AND ARMY START FOR MODERN BABYLON

Eight Special Trains Carry 4,000 Crusaders to New York—Mayor Low and His Subjects to Be Converted.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—As John Alexander Dowie, prophet, preacher and politician, self-mitred ruler of a theocracy erected by himself, captain of industry and crusader, stood on the rear platform of his palatial train, which left Zion City this afternoon for New York, he looked more like a Wall street financier than the leader of a religious movement.

He was stylishly dressed, and his silk hat glistened in the sun, which, suddenly shone out as an augury of success for his plan to regenerate the American metropolis. But, as he removed his headgear, lifted one hand heavenward and his white hair and beard were thrown into picturesque disorder by the breeze, he appeared every inch the patriarch.

"May the Lord bless you and all my people," he said simply to those who were being left behind. "May He keep watch over Zion in our absence. May He bless our work for the regeneration of the unrighteous of New York. Peace be to thee."

Dowie's standing army of peace, bear 4,000 strong, and with all the enthusiasm of middle-aged crusaders, but unarmored and swordless, and equipped only with the Bible and religious tracts, is now on the way to establish the creed of "Elijah the Restorer" in Gotham and to petition at the door of every house that the dwellers reform their lives according to Dowie's plan.

Eight special trains, over as many roads, left at different hours of the day, the first at 9:30 a. m., the last, that of the general overseer himself, at 3 p. m. One of the trains will go by way of Washington, and the excursionists will try to hold services on the steps of the capitol. Failing in that they will pray and sing at the foot of the Washington monument of the coming restoration by "Elijah."

The train of the high priest of the Christian Catholic church in Zion will proceed by the Niagara Falls route and his voice will be raised above the roar of the cataract in special exercises before continuing the journey to the "modern Babylon."

The attacks of crusaders have been pretty well set forth by the press of the entire country. Dowie has said that they "will go to the masses and visit the classes" and efforts will be made to convert Mayor Low, J. P. Morgan and all other leading citizens as well as the lowliest residents of the East Side.

There will be three meetings daily at Madison Square garden, beginning next Sunday night and lasting until November 1, and at Carnegie hall from November 3 to 8 inclusive. In bands of 10, commanded by captains, the host will carry the teachings of Dowie to hovels and palaces and hold forth in song and prayer on street corners.

The adherents who left the holy city by the lakeside today include in their ranks representatives of almost every language known to civilized or semi-civilized man, so that the heterogeneous population of New York can all be exhorted in a familiar tongue.

TO FORM NEW CITY.

Municipality Will Include Braddock, Rankin and Contiguous Territory.

An organized effort is being made to unite Braddock, North Braddock, Rankin and contiguous territory into one municipality which will make four cities in Allegheny county. For this purpose a charter will be applied for and common pleas court No. 2 will be asked on October 31 to incorporate the Braddock board of commerce.

Those applying for the charter are George Hogg, W. S. Heath, George C. Watt, George Moore, Leo A. Katz, F. C. Bishop, Joseph F. Mayhugh, D. F. Collingwood and H. J. Learn. The object as set forth in the application is the protecting, fostering and developing of the commercial, manufacturing and business interests of the boroughs to be included.

P. R. R. ENGINEERS MAKE COMPLAINTS TO MANAGER

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—A committee representing the engineers on the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad waited upon General Manager Atterbury today for the purpose of adjusting some minor grievances. The nature of the grievances or the result of the conference could not be learned. Mr. Atterbury has not yet met the general committee of railway trainmen which has been in the city for some weeks preparing grievances and awaiting an opportunity to present them.

RIVER BOOMERS ARE IN SESSION

Proposition to Ask Congress for $50,000,000 to Improve Ohio Not Favored.

PITTSBURGH IS CRITICISED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

EVANSVILLE, IND., Oct. 14.—It is estimated there are 500 delegates here for the ninth annual convention of the Ohio Valley Improvement association that met this morning for a two day's session. The various standing committees were named this afternoon and will make a report on Thursday. The resolutions committee will probably ask congress to complete the survey of the Ohio river to Cairo within the next year. This afternoon, Capt. John F. Dravo of Pittsburgh made an address on which he condemned railroad companies for obstructing steamboat navigation with bridges.

At the session tonight, Congressman Hemenway of Indiana and Congressman Stanley of Kentucky made addresses favoring a dam below this city to cost $1,000,000. The committee on resolutions is wrestling with a knotty question tonight. Some of the members of the committee want to ask congress to make an appropriation of $50,000,000 and the work of improving the river commenced at once. It is thought the convention will vote down such a proposition.

In the absence of Treasurer Parker, Secretary Ellison read his report for him. During the year the sum of $10,447 50 was collected, the expenditures were $10,440 23. In the discussion of the ways and means of raising money, the general idea was that the public should be impressed with the importance of the move and in this way they would respond more liberally.

The convention in point of enthusiasm is a success, although the attendance is not as large as the committees had anticipated. The nominating committee made the following report:

President, John L. Vance; secretary, James F. Ellison; treasurer, James D. Parker; vice presidents of Pennsylvania, George H. Anderson and W. B. Rodgers; West Virginia, Hullian Quarrier and Dan A. Mossman; Ohio, A. Bottinger and H. A. Marting; Kentucky, W. W. Hite, W. A. Patton and Sanders Fowler; Indiana, F. B. Posey and M. C. Garber; Illinois, George Parsons and J. C. Willis.

Kentucky was given three vice presidents because of her large frontage on the river. Executive committee, Col. Vance, R. W. Wise, C. D. Barrett, J. F. Ellison, J. D. Parker, A. Bettinger, Paris C. Brown, C. G. Gibbs.

It is expected the business of the convention will be finished by Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when the delegates will be given a barbecue at Cook's park.

The recommendation of the committee on nominations that there be two vice presidents from each state along the Ohio and three from Kentucky was a popular one. Donations were received this afternoon. The chamber of commerce of Pittsburgh gave $900, Cincinnati gave $2,500 and Louisville gave $300.

Col. Thomas O'Brien of Wheeling thought Pittsburgh should give more and Col. Anderson stated the city would do her part when called again. It is about settled that Huntington, W. Va., will receive the next convention. The delegation from Cincinnati did not try to land the place and it looks like Huntington will be the only applicant. Louisville wanted it, but before the delegations from that city arrived, Huntington had almost pledges enough to secure the convention.

Frank O. Fallon of the Wabash River Improvement association will probably ask to have his association consolidated with the Ohio Valley association at the session Thursday. It will not be opposed.

The convention tonight accepted the report of the nominating committee, electing all the old officers.

MARCONI EXHIBITIONS ATTRACT THE CAREFUL

Daily Operation of the Wireless Telegraph at the Farmers Bank Building Is Bringing Results.

The daily exhibitions of the operation of the Marconi wireless telegraph system, which are now being given in the Farmers National bank building, at Fifth avenue and Wood street, are attracting many of the most conservative investors of this city and its vicinity. The success of the system in actual operation and the prominence of those who have become associated with it, have brought to the company a far greater degree of public confidence than is usually bestowed on any comparatively new enterprise.

Among the directors are two of the best-known bankers of the country, E. Rollins Morse of Boston and Spencer Trask of New York. Guglielmo Marconi, the inventor, is a director, thus insuring to the company his services in the further development of the invention. Eugene Lewis, Esq., of New York; H. H. McClure of McClure's magazine; John E. Opp, Montreal; W. P. Betts, New York; Samuel Insull, president of the Chicago Edison Company; Loyal L. Smith, Chicago; Robert Goodbody, the New York banker; Cyrus S. Sedgwick of the Hall Signal Company; the Hon. John W. Griggs, formerly attorney general of the United States, and W. H. Bentley of New York, are the other directors.

The practically unlimited scope for the use of the invention has attracted to it many who have the ability to "read the future," as it was read by the backers of the telegraph and telephone in the early days. The investors who have followed the course of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of London, an organization parallel to the present Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of America, remember that two years ago its stock sold for $3 a share on the London exchange. Today it commands $25 a share.

FLINTS TO MOVE HEADQUARTERS

Glassworkers' Union Decides to Have Toledo as the Central Office.

RESULT OF REFERENDUM VOTE

Contest Had Narrowed Down to Allegheny and the Ohio City, the Latter Winning by a Small Majority—Change Next April.

The members of the Flint Glass Workers' union will remove their headquarters from Pittsburgh to Toledo, the matter having been decided by referendum vote, Toledo winning by a small majority. The result was announced yesterday.

At the annual convention held in Wheeling in July, 1902, an agitation began on the removal of the headquarters from Pittsburgh. It was contended that the national officers were too close to the principal manufacturing concerns and that in consequence the interests of the organization were affected. A resolution was passed in favor of a change. It was decided to invite nominations and submit them to a referendum vote. Nine cities were named, including Wheeling, Toledo, Columbus, Indianapolis, Anderson and Allegheny.

WILLIAM J. CROKE.
Vice President of the Flint Glassblowers' Association.

The city receiving the lowest vote was dropped on each ballot. Several ballots were taken and the contest narrowed down to between Toledo and Allegheny.

The lease on the present offices here will not expire until April 1, 1904, when the removal will take place.

The officers of the association are Thomas W. Rowe, president; John E. Dobins, secretary; William J. Croke, vice president, and William P. Clarke, assistant secretary.

The American Flint Glass Workers' union has as members about 8,000 skilled workmen, and on them are dependent fully 40,000 men and boys. There are four unskilled workmen employed in a flint glass factory to every one skilled. The union has now over $145,000 in its treasury.

FORMAL ACTION IS TAKEN COMPLETING BIG MERGER

Colonial Stockholders Vote for Purchase of Farmers Stock and for Capital Increase.

Stockholders of the Colonial Trust Company yesterday formally voted in favor of the acquisition of the control of the Farmers Deposit National bank and the increase of the capital stock of the company from 40,000 to 68,000 shares of a par value of $100.

The action was the last of the legal formalities attending the transfer of the control of the big bank to the Colonial Trust Company. The action of yesterday gives the Colonial a capital and surplus of about $18,000,000. The total resources of the trust company are now close over $65,000,000 and are expected to be $70,000,000 shortly.

It has been rumored that the company will make a Christmas present of an extra dividend to its stockholders. Officers of the company said yesterday that they could not say as to this, but one of them said, "That is President Given's policy."

The Colonial controls now 15 country banks in addition to the banks and trust companies controlled in Pittsburgh.

POLICEMEN ON TRIAL.

Three Must Explain Why a Prisoner Escaped—Discharges Fines and Reprimands.

Sergeant Thomas F. Carroll, Wagonman Thomas Kilkearney and Policeman J. W. Bennett of No. 2 police station have been placed on the books for permitting the escape of a prisoner supposed to be Thomas Quinn on Tuesday afternoon. Bennett arrested Edward McFadden and Quinn on charges of disorderly conduct. He summoned the patrol wagon and turned the prisoners over to Wagonman Kilkearney. At the hearing yesterday morning only one of the prisoners appeared. Bennett could not account for the disappearance. Superintendent John P. McTighe detailed Inspector Bernard McStay to make an investigation. It is alleged Quinn was released after he was taken to the station house.

Lieut. Charles Grimes of the first district was arraigned before the police board yesterday morning on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer and was fined $10 and costs and reprimanded. Twelve policemen were before the board on charges of neglect of duty and drunkenness. Two were discharged and the others were punished by fines and suspensions of from three to 10 days. The charges against Capt. J. N. Frederick and Lieut. Thomas Morley of No. 5 district on charges of neglect of duty will be heard at the next meeting of the board.

MISS WOOD COMPROMISES SUIT AGAINST PLATT

Jilted Woman Said to Have Accepted $15,000 for Damages to Her Affections.

SOCIAL SET TO SNUB BRIDE

Fashionable World of National Capital Disapprove New York Senator's Match. Platt Denies That Suit Has Been Entered Against Him.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 16, Postal Building. WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 14.

There is a persistent but unconfirmed rumor abroad today that Miss Mae C. Wood has compromised her claim against Senator Thomas C. Platt for $15,000. Miss Wood's friends discredit the statement. They allege that when she left here it was not so much to gain money as to compel Senator Platt to keep his promise or else to expose his alleged perfidy. They also assert that it will be more satisfactory to Miss Wood to publish extracts from his letters than to receive financial compensation.

She is beset with a feminine desire to wreak her own sufferings on the "other woman," and it will give her the keenest pleasure to publish extracts from the senator's many letters describing Mrs. Lillian T. Janeway as "that gay widow who is chasing me."

Neither Mrs. Janeway nor Senator Platt have ever been prominent in the social world of this city, but the fashionable set have made the incident the sensation of the hour. Senator Platt has engaged a handsome suite of apartments at the Arlington for himself and his bride. Since the developments of the past two days this fact has caused consternation among the exclusive coterie of officials and their wives who make this hostelry their winter home. Among these are Mrs. Payne, Mrs. Aldrich, Mrs. Dolliver, Mrs. Foster of Washington; Mrs. Marcus A. Hanna, Mrs. Orville H. Platt, of Connecticut; Mrs. Spooner, and after January 1, Mrs. William H. Taft.

Among these ladies are several intimate friends of the former Mrs. Platt. The reception they will give the senator's new wife under the circumstances will not be marked by graciousness.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Senator Thomas C. Platt, reported to be defendant in a breach of promise suit for $25,000 filed in Washington by Miss Mae C. Wood, following the announcement of the senator's engagement to Mrs. Lillian Janeway, denounced the report as absurd when seen today in the Fifth Avenue hotel. The senator greeted your correspondent who approached him with the words:

"Go away. I won't answer any questions. I don't want to see anybody."

"Senator, will you answer this question? Is it true that a suit for $25,000 for breach of promise has been brought against you by Miss Wood?"

"Absurd," replied Senator Platt, with emphasis. "It is not true. I won't answer any more questions. That is all." The senator hurried into an elevator and was whisked upstairs.

Miss Wood Saw Mrs. Janeway.

Miss Wood, or, Mrs. Wood, as Mrs. Janeway called her, is said to be in New York accompanied by an attorney. Early last summer, according to her friends, Miss Wood surprised them by announcing she was going to Europe to prepare her trousseau for her marriage to Senator Platt. She did go abroad and she has asserted since her return that she spent $4,750 for her trousseau. Upon her return, Miss Wood's friends say she was met at the pier by Senator Platt. Just before her arrival the news of Senator Platt's intention to marry Mrs. Janeway had been published, but Miss Wood, it is asserted, knew nothing of this announcement until she went to Washington.

It was reported that Senator Platt and Mrs. Lillian Janeway had been married last Saturday. When Senator Platt was asked whether there was any truth in this report he merely said:

"Absurd, nonsensical."

Mrs. Janeway is no longer living in the Holland house but is now under the roof of the Fifth Avenue hotel, and a gift from the "Amen Corner" was delivered to her there.

Mrs. Janeway said: "I have heard Senator Platt mention this Mrs. Wood. I understand she was formerly a newspaper woman of Omaha. There is nothing to be said about her in any way. Besides, the matter is quite able to speak for himself. I only know that the wedding is set for Thursday noon."

She Raised a Disturbance.

An intimate friend of the senator said Miss Wood came to the Fifth Avenue a week ago and made a disturbance. She demanded to see the "Old Man" and when her card was turned down she said she would lay in wait for him. She tried in vain to bring on a scandal then. She was a rather striking looking woman and seemed more than 30, a brunette, and wore splendid clothes. She turned to a group of porters after her card was returned.

"Well I'll go back tonight," she said, "but we shall hear some more about Mr. Platt's marriage, and I'm the one to bring down the eagle!"

"We all advised the senator to be careful lest this woman do him bodily harm," said the intimate friend of the senator, "and now the senator has detectives watching every movement. We have heard nothing of her since. We are convinced there was no promise to wed, because we know the senator has been paying attention to Mrs. Janeway since the death of his wife. Everything through the little game of Mae Wood, if she dares to more than cause a scandal, as she has already done. She will not be admitted to the church. By the way, there were no engraved invitations, and the senator is asking his friends personally."

MISS MAE C. WOOD.

WALL STREET EXCITED.

Rumors of $67,000 Shortage in Central National Bank Were Denied.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Wall street was excited late this afternoon over the rumor of a $67,000 shortage in a prominent bank in Broadway. Tonight President Langdon of the Central National bank gave out a written statement in which he said:

"Six thousand, seven hundred and fifty dollars in unsigned bills have been mislaid. Any other rumor of any defalcation, robbery or loss is without foundation."

Beyond this statement President Langdon refused to say anything further regarding the report. The late Mayor Strong was president of the Central National bank at one time.

FAIRBANKS WILL ACCEPT.

Indiana Senator Approves Plan to Make Him Roosevelt's Running Mate.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—It was given out tonight on authority that cannot be disputed that Senator C. W. Fairbanks of Indiana will accept the nomination for vice president on the Republican ticket. The information comes from a source close and intimate as to what are the senator's political plans.

The situation, according to this informant, finds the senator neither running for the office nor from it. If it is offered to him he will accept it, and that it would be offered to him there is no doubt. Such a plan is now on foot. This plan will not be opposed by Senator Fairbanks.

Assailed Man Will Lose Eye.

DECISION GIVEN IN BALLOT CASE

Attorney-General Carson Decides Dauphin Anti-Machine Men Get Party Square.

FIRST OPINION ON NEW ACT

Outcome Being Watched by Politicians Throughout State—Opinion Is Against Argument Presented by Attorneys for Republican State Committee.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, HARRISBURG, PA., Oct. 14.

Attorney General Carson today decided that the anti-machine party of Dauphin county, which has made nominations for judge and county officers, but not for state officers, is entitled to a square on the official ballot. This attorney general's opinion is a most exhaustive one and reviews all the ballot laws enacted since the passage of the original Baker act in 1891.

He examines each clause of the different acts of assembly and concludes that the result he has reached is not only in harmony with the express enactments of the legislature, but also with the constitutional provisions that all elections must be free and equal. Mr. Carson decides that every body of electors nominating candidates for office by nomination papers is entitled to a square on the left of the ballot, so that a voter may by a cross mark in that square indicate his choice for each one of the candidates so nominated, and this without regard to whether the same body of electors has nominated candidates for state officers who are to be voted for throughout the entire state.

He also decides that the old political parties are entitled to a square on the left of the ballot, in which a cross means a vote for every candidate nominated by the party.

The effect of this decision is that in counties where there is an independent ticket for judge and county offices nominated by nomination papers such party is entitled to a square like that to which the old parties are entitled.

The question was raised by the anti-machine party after the state department had decided that it was not entitled to a square on the ballot because it had made no nominations for state offices except judge. The matter was referred to the attorney general and was argued on Saturday counsel for the republican state committee contending that the new party was not entitled to a square. Charles H. Bergner and Robert Snodgrass of Harrisburg represented the anti-machine party. The questions submitted to the attorney general for an opinion were as follows:

Is a body of citizens which nominates a candidate for congress, or a senator, or a member of the house of representatives in the general assembly or a judge, or other candidate or set of candidates, to be voted for in only one district or county, but makes no nominations for state officers who are to be voted for throughout the entire state, entitled to a party name and square in the first column upon the official ballot as certified from the state department under the several acts above stated?

And if so entitled, must that party name and square appear in all the official ballots certified to in every district or county throughout the entire state?

This is the first official opinion given on the amended ballot act passed by the last legislature. The anti-machine party was organized for the election of Judge Jacobs, who was appointed by Gov. Pennypacker to succeed the late Judge Simonton and was not nominated by the Republicans.

This decision was reached between attorneys acting for the company and the mortgagees. Papers in the settlement are to be ready by Tuesday next. The parties who met were Rotherman, Junkin and Clements of Philadelphia; John R. Dos Passos of New York; Judge Noyes of Connecticut, and Guthrie, Cravath and Henderson, the lawyers for Speyer & Co.

NOVEL FEATURE FOR CENTENNIAL

Program for Second Presbyterian Church Celebration Will Be Elaborate.

OLD ORGAN IS TO BE USED

Instrument Which Furnished Music for Sunday School Service in 1854 Is Located—Handsome Souvenirs Will Be Presented.

The Rev. S. Edward Young, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, with the assistance of the centennial commission, is busy making arrangements for the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the church's organization, which begins next Sunday, lasting for three days. New and unique features are daily being added to the program, so that when the day of the anniversary arrives an elaborate observance will be held.

After considerable trouble and detective work, the managers of the centennial have found the organ that pealed forth the music on the day the Sunday school of the church first opened, in 1854. This instrument, old and worn, but still full of tone, will be used at the Sabbath school anniversary next Sunday afternoon. The organ was found by tracing it from one place to another. It was sold a few years after the Sunday school was formed and passed in and out of several families.

A handsome souvenir of the anniversary is being printed and will be distributed at the services next Sunday morning. The souvenir will contain photographs of the old and new churches, of the present and former pastors, elders, trustees and deacons, and also an historical sketch of the church. A copy of this will be presented to each member of the congregation. Among the members of the centennial commission are Col. Porter Phipps, Postmaster George L. Holliday, Elders Daniel Cooper and Thomas S. Maple, Homer Wright, Robert H. Lindsay, John T. Getzman, Charles T. Marsh, Jacob S. Reymer and W. L. Snyder.

Prof. Tall Eben Morgan arrived from New York last night to take charge of the chorus of the church. Mr. Morgan will lead the chorus and the congregational singing during the centennial. He founded the choir of the Second church five years ago and will have temporary charge of the choruses and will be assisted from time to time by local musicians. Mr. Morgan was for many years musical director for Walter Damrosch.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Maple gave a "reminiscent" dinner to the pastor and elders and their wives of church at their home in Thomas boulevard on Tuesday night. Plates were laid for the Rev. and Mrs. S. Edward Young, Daniel Cooper, Edmond Watts, both over a half century members of the Second church; Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McJunkin, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Gray, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Wright, R. D. Coulter, Mrs. S. Coulter, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Zeigler, G. Clendenning, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hays, the host and hostess and their daughters.

BRITISH BOAT SEIZED.

Venezuelan Official Stopped Her While on a Trading Trip.

GEORGETOWN, BRITISH GUIANA, Oct. 14.—It is reported from the northwest district that a boat, the property of a British subject, William Romanes, while proceeding to Haiwa, on the Yarakita river, Venezuela, after having cleared at Morawhanna, British Guiana, October 4, with British papers and flying the British flag, was seized by the commander of the Venezuelan lighiship at the mouth of the Amacura river, Venezuela.

The Venezuelan commander protested that there should be no British trade with Amacura and said he had orders to prevent the passage of British vessels. Romanes has made a sworn declaration before the government agent at Morawhanna.

EARLY FIRE IN WEST END.

Spark from a Locomotive Sets Hay on Fire—Horses Saved.

A spark from an engine on the Pittsburgh X Lake Erie railroad dropped into the hay loft of the barn owned by John Carlin on Steuben and Carson streets, West End this morning about 1:30 o'clock and the fire which resulted destroyed the entire structure. Mr. Carlin, who does the hauling for the Singer-Nimick Crucible works, had 12 horses and several sets of harness in the structure which were saved.

The pattern shop of Reitmyer & Sullivan, which adjoins the barn, was slightly damaged by water. The loss is about $500. The barn and considerable hay and feed were destroyed.

Pittsburgher Was Eelected.

Joseph A. Keeler has been elected president of the Packing Trades Council of Kansas City. Mr. Keler is a Pittsburgher, having left here a few weeks ago to accept the position of assistant secretary of the Coopers' International Union of North America. While in Pittsburgh he was district organizer for the American Federation of Labor and president of the Iron City Trades Council.

RELIEF MAP IS IN GREAT DANGER

Allegheny Select Council Defeats the Ordinance Appropriating $5,000.

DOUBTFUL LEGALITY IS URGED

That Is the Excuse Made by City Solicitor Stephen G. Porter—Dr. W. J. Holland Deplors the Council's Vote and Counsels United Action.

Without herculean efforts the $25,000 necessary to prepare the relief map of the Pittsburgh district and make the Pittsburgh exhibit at the St. Louis exposition cannot be raised. Unless the money is on hand in a short time the chamber of commerce will throw up the scheme, and from the action of Allegheny's select council yesterday it looks as if the plan for an exhibit may fall through. The council refused to appropriate the $5,000 the chamber of commerce asked.

"It will be a shame if this district cannot be properly represented at the St. Louis exposition," said Dr. W. J. Holland, a member of the chamber of commerce's committee which has charge of the preparation of the relief map, when informed that the ordinance had been defeated on the ground of doubtful legality. "Of course I know nothing of the legal features, but I am grievously disappointed with Allegheny's action. The government has been making a survey of the Pittsburgh district, as far as Trafford City in one direction and Sewickley in another, including Allegheny. The government has spent $40,000 in making that survey and it will be too bad if, because of Allegheny's refusal, the district cannot have its exhibit it ought to have. Whether the movement will fall I cannot tell.

Looking Out for Themselves.

"The spirit too prevalent here seems to be the one of 'every one for himself and the devil take the hindmost.' We don't seem to have the men who will work together for the common ends. The papers of other cities have been holding up Pittsburgh as an example of civic enterprise, ever since the nature of our proposed exhibit became known. If we had the corporate spirit of Chicago, New York and Philadelphia, there would be no difficulty in getting the money. Of course Pittsburgh councils have appropriated the $10,000 asked by the chamber of commerce, but it seems as if Allegheny leaves everything to Pittsburgh to do.

"The St. Louis exposition authorities gave us the most conspicuous place in the building of mines and mining. They are holding it for us. They probably will not hold it much longer unless we bestir ourselves. Here was a chance to show the people of the world what a hive of industry this district is, and what great opportunities men have here. It was the greatest chance to advertise the district —Pittsburgh, Allegheny, McKeesport and other places too numerous to mention. Why, 5,000,000 people will visit that exposition.

Pittsburgh Alone Should Do It.

"However, we ought to raise the money despite Allegheny's refusal to help. Let the business men, the workingmen, everybody in this district who has the welfare of the community at heart, join together and raise the money. With the $10,000 Pittsburgh councils have given and $6,000 that the chamber of commerce has raised in subscriptions there remains $9,000 to be secured. We ought to get it."

When the ordinance appropriating the $5,000 came up in Allegheny select council yesterday Morris Einstein of the Twelfth ward spoke against it. He said the city had appropriated money for Allegheny hospitals, but the legality of the appropriations was questioned and the money never paid over. Besides, the city had no money to spare, Mr. Einstein remarked.

City Solicitor Stephen G. Porter said he doubted the legality of the ordinance, and when it was put to a vote it was defeated, the vote being: Ayes, Messrs. Beatty, Brown, Kirschler and Robinson; nays, Messrs. Baldor, Bergin, Demarts, Easton, Einstein, Hock, Leckey and Tschume.

The ordinance granting to the J. M. Gilchrist's Sons' Company the right to erect a coal hoist on Water street was recalled and sent to the committee on public works on the ground that the company had not had an opportunity to be heard. The ordinance had been postponed indefinitely.

Measures That Were Passed.

The following measures were passed finally: Ordinances authorizing the issue of $21,143 worth of Shady avenue bonds; the grading, paving and curbing of Shady avenue, the issue of $25,040 worth of bonds for the grading, paving and curbing of Fleming avenue; sewers in Euclid, Elwood and Kenwood avenues, Serip alley and Mitchell street; grading, paving and curbing of Luray and Grizelia streets; requiring the director of the department of public works, when an ordinance is introduced for the grading, paving and curbing of any street or alley to transmit into the city to councils the necessity for the improvement; authorizing the purchase of two smoke stacks for the bureau of public lighting and granting the Crucible Steel Company the right to lay two switches in Belmont street.

The ordinance for the grading, paving and curbing of Compromise street was sent back to the committee and that for a public sewer in an unnamed 10-foot alley in the Fifteenth ward, was laid over one month. The ordinance for the payment of $99 to Edward Tuscher, a fireman in the bureau of water, for injuries received while on duty, passed finally.

Upon the call of wards the following papers were introduced and referred: Ordinances for the grading, paving and curbing of Ellis avenue, and authorizing the issue of $20,600 worth of Chester avenue grading, paving and curbing bonds; resolutions vacating a portion of Compromise street and exonerating Gotfried Staab from sewer assesments in East street.

AID FOR VISITING NURSES.

Money and Supplies Are Asked to Carry on the Good Work.

A shortage of money and sick room supplies threaten to handicap the splendid work being done by the Visiting Nurses' Association. At the monthly meeting of the board of managers of the association at its headquarters, No. 812 Arch street, Allegheny, the president, Mrs. Crumby Phillips, reported that the calls for help have become so great that the funds of the association are much reduced.

With the approach of winter the demands on the association, which furnishes skilled nursing for the indigent sick, will increase. Therefore, that no call need go unanswered it was agreed to issue an appeal for aid. The board of managers asks all friends of the work to donate either money or sickroom supplies to help carry on the work.

LOOTED A BANK.

Four Men Hold Citizens at Bay While Booty Is Placed in Buggy, Then Escape.

PEORIA, ILL., Oct. 14.—Four men drove into the little town of Berwick, eight miles west of Abingdon, early today, and going to the Farmers State bank picked the lock of the front door. Then they drilled the door of the vault and forced the combination, securing $2,800.

The explosion awakened a number of the residents of the town, who appeared on the scene only to be covered by guns in the hands of the robbers, who held them at bay until they had loaded their booty into a rig and escaped.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 14.—Harvard defeated the Wesleyan eleven this afternoon, 17 to 6. Last Wednesday, in halves of the same length, Yale scored 36 to 0 against the same team. The comparison has caused a deep gloom in the crimson camp, for Wesleyan [illegible] that Harvard has little chance against Yale this year. The way Wesleyan worked Harvard's end was a caution. Trick plays were worked continuously and they were successful altogether too many times. One reason why Harvard failed to score was because she played a kicking game, and Lemoine, in this respect showed up remarkably. His punts averaged 50 yards, in spite of the fact that some went high and did not carry so far. Score and lineup:

Harvard—17.		Wesleyan—6.
LeMoyne	L. E.	Goodman

GOALS FROM PLACE.

Holy Cross Secured Two of Them Against Yale and Created a Sensation.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 14.—The Holy Cross football eleven furnished a sensation on Yale field today by playing the most spectacular game of the season and scoring 10 points against Yale. Yale had scored five touchdowns and had forced Holy Cross to add a safety to her credit in the first half.

The second half opened with a number of substitutes on the Yale team. A costly fumble by Preston lost not only the ball, but ground. Holy Cross failed to gain by rushing and carried the ball toward the middle of the 30-yard line, where Reed dropped back to the Harvard line, and, with Larkin to catch and place the ball for him, sent it between the posts clean and true. Yale renewed her rushing game and followed Holy Cross down the field to a fifth touchdown. Five minutes later Yale again fumbled, and from almost the same location Reed again succeeded in placing a goal. Even Yale students cheered the plucky Holy Cross team, reminding the half Holy Cross rushed the ball for better than Yale, and once McCarthy nearly got a clear field to the goal after hooking his way through for 20 yards. The final score was Yale 36, Holy Cross 10. The lineup:

Rafferty, Hare	L. E.	Ford, McCarthy
Kinney, Andrews	L. T.	O'Donnell
Morton	L. G.	Tobin

Goal from field—Reed. Safety—Reed. Goals from field—Reed 2. Score—Yale 36, Holy Cross 10. Length of halves—20 and 17 minutes.

EASY FOR THE QUAKERS.

Gettysburg's Light Line Was Punctured at Will.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—The University of Pennsylvania football eleven defeated the Gettysburg college team today by the overwhelming score of 72 to 0 in halves of 25 and 20 minutes each.

The heavy Pennsylvania players simply toyed with their lighter and inexperienced opponents and went through the visitors' line almost at will. Only once during the entire 45 minutes were the visitors able to gain the necessary five yards, while they seldom held Pennsylvania for downs. Pennsylvania's playing was not up to the usual standard, there being no less than six fumbles between quarterback and the back field. Score and lineup:

Torrey, Weede	L. E.	Muhlenburg
Butkiewicz	L. T.	Galbraith
Piekarski, Mitchell	L. G.	Fisher, Benner
McClave, Taylor	C.	Shultz
Kase, Zilliken	R. G.	Hill
Ziegler	R. T.	Starrick, Deal
Metzger, Whetstone	R. E.	Bartholomew and Brandaugh
Corson, Mulford	Q. B.	Kaufman
Bennett, Davis	L. H.	Siebert and Bartholomew
Drake	R. H.	Jones
Smith	F. B.	White, G. Siebert

TIGERS GIVEN A SCARE.

Referee Young's Ruling Deprived Lehigh of a Score.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Princeton defeated Lehigh this afternoon in the hottest fought game of the season 12 to 0. Twice the visitors were within 15 yards of Princeton's goal, and once they came so near a touchdown that Capt. Farabaugh and Coach Newton of Lehigh were justified in making a heated protest against a decision of Referee Young. This happened in the second half, when Lehigh had the ball on Princeton's 25-yard line. On the first scrimmage Lehigh was forced out of bounds. While the ball was apparently walking in 15 yards for the scrimmage L. Farabaugh, the Lehigh quarterback, touched the ball down at the side lines and kicked it over the Tigers' goal line. Everybody realized what had happened Farabaugh had fallen on the pigskin, and the Lehigh rooters were dancing with joy. Capt. Dewitt, however, put up a strong protest, and Referee Young decided that the Lehigh player had not got the ball in play. Score and lineup:

Davis	L. E.	Brush
Cooney	L. T.	Orth
Short	L. G.	Warner
Waller	C.	Barnard
Dewitt	R. G.	Strauss
Reed	R. T.	Johnson
Crawford	R. E.	Gitt, Lange
Vetterlein	Q. B.	L. Farabaugh
Hart	L. H.	Torrey

McClave	F. B.	Landefeld

Yale's New Track Trainer.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Yale has secured a new track team trainer and coach in Steve Farrell, the world's champion professional sprinter of 20 years ago. He has just taken charge of the team. Mike Murphy, the former coach, will devote all his attention to handling the football squad this fall.

New Player for Athletic.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—Manager Mack of the Philadelphia American league club has signed James H. Mullin, an infielder of Manhattan college, for next season.

SCHENLEY TRACK RECORD BROKEN BY FLORIDA CHIMES

Lamb's Mare Paces Mile in 2:20, Beating Mark by One Second. Program Unfinished.

The last meeting of the Schenley Park Matinee club for this season, which was to have been decided yesterday, saw just half of the program concluded—three full events and a heat each in three. It was dark when Judge Billings announced that the sport of the day was over and the remaining heats would be decided this afternoon beginning at 1:30 at the track.

The pleasant autumnal weather helped to bring out a big attendance for "getaway day," and those who journeyed to track saw some exciting racing. Florida Chimes, with William Lamb up, broke again the record for the track by pacing the mile in 2:20, which beats her own mark by one second flat.

One added feature on the card was a pony race, in which two youngsters rode their animals for a whip presented by Recorder Hays. Allen Wight, with his little spotted Shetland, Spot, captured the event by a few lengths from E. Frauenheim, who rode his Major. The race was at one-half mile, and it created as much interest among the spectators as did any event on the card. It was an even race between them until the back stretch was reached, when Allen began to pull away and won pulled up.

THE MACKEY COLORS WILL BE SEEN AGAIN

Clarence Mackey Will Return to the Turf and Will Build Up a Fine Stable.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Clarence Mackay, it is understood will return to the turf next year in as elaborate a style as ever. The business representative of Jockey Frank O'Neil has been asked for terms on the rider's services for 1904 by an agent said to be acting for the Mackay interests.

The announcement that the familiar colors of Mr. Mackay would again be seen upon the turf came as a surprise. At the time Mr. Mackay withdrew from the turf, consequent upon the death of his father, Jack Hanan, he had his entire racing string, with the exception of the mare Kamara and Manastar, which were reserved and sent to the stud in Kentucky.

Before the eagle sounds at Morris Park next spring a small but effective racing string will be gathered under the banner of Mr. Mackay. Through the season his stable will be reinforced by a few horses on the installment plan that a year from now the Metropolitan turf will be enabled to congratulate itself upon the return of so good a friend and patron as Clarence H. Mackay. Just who will ride for him in the contracts with O'Neil is not consummated is hard to say.

Today Redfern is reported as in demand.

HORSE ACTED QUEER.

Will Investigate What Looks Like Case of Doping.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—The Brighton Beach stewards are investigating the alleged doping of F. S. Roberts' Rough Rider in the third race. Rough Rider did not figure prominently in the running, but before the race the horse displayed more life than usual and after the race showed great distress. Hicks had the mount on Rough Rider, which was not played.

Rough Rider was taken in charge by a Pinkerton man and will be examined by a veterinary, it is said, at the order of the stewards.

THE COLTS SHUT OUT.

Comiskey's Team Takes Another Game from Nationals.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Sensational catches in the outfield on both sides and Tannehill's brilliant work at short were the features of today's game, in which the Nationals were shut out through inability to hit Owen. The score:

Rochester's Final Game.

ROCHESTER, PA., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—The Rochester Athletic association team will close the baseball season here next Saturday afternoon when they will meet the Steubenville team. Hardie, of the Cincinnati Nationals, and Needham, of the Altoonas, will be in the box for the visitors, while Pete Zeller and Garvey will be the battery for Rochester. The proceeds of the game will be given to the local players.

Poor Work by Columbia.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—In an uninteresting game of football on the Polo grounds today Columbia defeated Swarthmore 5 to 0. While not much was expected of Swarthmore, the playing of Columbia was poor compared with that of the previous games this season. Indeed, had it not been for the good work of Capt. Richards Smith, it is doubtful if the local eleven would have scored at all.

Won by Narrow Margin.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—New Castle High school defeated Greenville High school at Greenville today. The result rested on the officials' decision. Each scored and kicked goal, but three Greenville men touched the ball on their try for goal and the point was not allowed, although the pigskin sailed squarely between the posts.

JOCKEY MILLER RACED TO DEATH

UNRULY LOT OF HORSES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—A bad accident occurred during the running of the sixth race at Brighton Beach today which resulted in the death of Jockey Frank Miller. The race was for maiden 2-year-olds at six furlongs and 18 unruly horses went to the post. The start was fair, but before the field had gone half a mile Assoono Bell, ridden by Furman, made an attempt to go on the rail, and in doing so was shut off and stumbled and fell. Clyde, with Miller in the saddle, was directly behind and stumbled over Assoono Bell. Miller was thrown heavily and died a few moments after he had been taken to the temporary hospital on the track. Examination showed the print of a horses' hoof on his chest. Furman escaped injury.

MANY FOREIGNERS GOING BACK HOME

It is estimated that during the last week more Slavs and other natives of Austria-Hungary from Braddock, Homestead, McKeesport and the manufacturing towns in Greater Pittsburgh have migrated to their native country than in any similar period of time in many years. The idleness at many of the mills and workshops caused many to return. Many of the men are going back to stay, having saved various sums of money ranging from $100 to $10,000 during their residence here. They will purchase small farms or engage in some business in their native land. A good many others will only visit their native homes and will again return in the spring. The rush to Austria-Hungary usually starts in October and continues until the holidays.

Death Took the Bridegroom.

FINDLAY, O., Oct. 14.—Charles Krause of Harrington, Kansas, came here a month ago to marry Miss Ana Mason, one of Findlay's society leaders, but was taken ill and died last night from consumption.

WASH.-JEFF. STATEMENT IS DENIED BY GENEVA

Manager Barns Says It Is Washington Collegians' Fault There Is No Game Saturday.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

The claim made by Washington and Jefferson college that Geneva college wanted too much money to play at Washington, Saturday, is denied by the latter. In a letter to The Gazette Manager John P. Barnes of the Geneva eleven has the following to say, which is self-explanatory:

To the Sporting Editor of The Pittsburgh Gazette:

Dear Sir—We write you in regard to an article appearing in the morning papers of October 14 from Washington, Pa., and dealing with the alleged cancellation of a football game supposed to have been arranged between W. & J. and Geneva, to be played in Washington on October 17. The article referred to Manager Tutt of W. & J., but we do not believe the statement was sanctioned by him, as he could not but know that Geneva was ready to play. The article referred to stated that a game had been regularly arranged for next Saturday at Washington, that Geneva had canceled, asking a higher guarantee, and although this was offered, had still refused to play. As yet no game has been scheduled between W. & J. and Geneva. Early in the present year negotiations were opened between Manager Tutt and the undersigned to arrange a date for a game. We offered $250, or 60 per cent of the gate receipts for a game at Beaver Falls, which was refused.

Manager Tutt in turn offered $125, or 40 per cent of the gate receipts for a game at Washington. This we were compelled to refuse, as that amount would not cover our expenses.

Nothing further was heard from Manager Tutt until Tuesday of this week, when he called up by phone and asked our terms for a game at Washington on next Saturday. He was answered that we already had a game scheduled with Westminster which we did not care to cancel, but that we would go to Washington for the same guarantee we had offered Beaver Falls. Manager Tutt then replied that he could not give that guarantee. This was positively the extent of the negotiation.

However, we do say that we are exceedingly anxious for a game with W. & J., but since W. & J. will not accept the offer we make for a game at Beaver Falls and will not duplicate the guarantee we offered Washington, we suggested that the only solution of the difficulty is to play the game in Pittsburgh some time during November. Pittsburgh is centrally located between Washington and Beaver Falls, can easily be reached by special trains from these points and is itself an enthusiastic football center. We think that neutral grounds would be more satisfactory to both colleges and that the game would be more successful financially than if played in either Washington or Beaver Falls. Furthermore, it would afford the people of Pittsburgh an opportunity to see a football game between the two best college teams in Western Pennsylvania. Respectfully,

JOHN P. BARNES,
Manager Geneva College Football Team.

The Shadyside academy eleven was put through two hours of the hardest kind of work yesterday by Coaches Young and Shetter. The Princeton freshmen team will be played Saturday, and the hard work of yesterday was to get the eleven in the best of condition to get the verdict over the eastern collegians, and accordingly Shadyside is lending its best efforts to get in such a state. Today and tomorrow the coaches will have the team signal practice. The signal practice Friday afternoon will not last long, and many of the players will go to Friendship park, where the Shadyside high school team will play the Steubenville high school. The only official decided upon as yet for the game Saturday is one umpire, and he will be Bob Hamiltne.

The Liberty academy team also had a hard afternoon's work, getting in shape for the game with the Pittsburgh College Reserves tomorrow at D. C. and A. C. park. The Reserves also had a good practice on the bluff.

A precaution will be taken this year at high school to prevent accidents among the football players which is followed in some schools of the east and in Chicago. City Physician Bradley A. Booth will make a careful examination of all the members of the football squad; those who fail to pass muster will have to give up the game. Weak hearts will not do. Dr. Booth is an old high school boy himself, yet he will not hesitate to decrease high school's chances, should it be necessary to order some out of training.

The Steubenville high school team, that meets Pittsburgh high school tomorrow, is reported to be a husky bunch. They are well coached and even heavier than the locals. Coach James will present a formidable lineup. He has had in the neighborhood of 40 men in the squad all week to select from.

TEN-ROUND DRAW.

Forbes and Feltz Put Up a Fine Fast Fight.

DETROIT, MICH., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Harry Forbes and Tommy Feltz opened the local boxing season here tonight and fought 10 interesting and hotly-contested rounds to a draw. The fight was a very disappointing feature of the entertainment, not over 2,000 being present, but the show throughout was a first-class exhibition and the regulars got value received for their money. The decision was generally conceded to be fair, but quite a number yelled "robber."

Forbes had the better of the early rounds, when Feltz fought poorly and was wild, but he improved with the contest and had a shade the better of it in the last.

THE TRAP EXPERTS.

Crosby Again High Gun at the Omaha Shoot.

OMAHA, NEB., Oct. 14.—William Crosby of Ofallen, Ill., was again high man in the Omaha Gun club tournament today, breaking 151 out of a possible 160 targets. Heer and Powers again were placed, breaking 150 and 149 respectively.

Cloudy skies prevented high-class shooting. Tomorrow the big handicap at 25 live birds will begin.

Chicago Defeated Rush.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—The University of Chicago eleven defeated the Rush Medical team at Marshall Field today 50 to 0. The latter school is the medical department of the university of Chicago, so not a great deal of rivalry prevailed. The regulars on the 'varsity team were not kept in the game long and subs were given a chance to show what they could do.

FASTEST HEATS EVER TROTTED

THE DRIVERS IN LIVELY ROW

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

LEXINGTON, KY., Oct. 14.—The six fastest heats ever trotted in one race failed to produce a winner in the rich McDowell stake today. The race is for the 2:10 class, trotting, purse of $5,000. Two heats have been won by Monte Carlo, Hawthorne and Dr. Strong each. The deciding heat was postponed on account of darkness and will be trotted tomorrow.

The previous world's record for six heats to a race was made in the Transylvania last year, in which the heats were trotted in an average of 2:08 11-12. The six heats today were trotted in an average of 2:08.

The McDowell stake created more excitement today than has any other race during the meeting. Dan T., the favorite, was drawn after the second heat. The first two heats were won by Monte Carlo. Hawthorne took the third heat. Monte Carlo came in first in the fourth heat, but was placed fourth and last by the judges, Scott Hudson, driver of Hawthorne, claiming a foul. The judges allowed the claim after the howling protest of the crowd, which had bet heavily on Monte Carlo.

Hudson claimed that Walker, driver of Monte Carlo, struck Hawthorne across the face with his whip at the head of the stretch. The judges saw Walker illegally using his whip. Hawthorne limped on and broke and finished second, and while breaking badly. The judges took testimony from horsemen and disinterested witnesses who saw the play, and they testified unanimously that Walker had cut Hawthorne across the face with his whip. A fight was narrowly averted in the judge's stand between Hudson and Walker. The crowd hooted the decision when Hawthorne was announced as heat winner. Fourth money will go to The Roman, the only horse except the heat winners that finished inside the flag in five heats.

Grace Bond, favorite, took the Lexington trot, the two-year-old trotting purse $2,000, in two straight heats.

C. M. B. A. COUNCIL ADOPTS NEW RATE

First Change Since 1881 Includes Increase on the Aged and Decrease on Young.

TWO NEW CLAUSES ADDED

One Is Called Prohibitory and Excludes Saloonkeepers, Bartenders, Workers in Dynamite and Powder and Structural Iron Men—Banquet and Reception.

The consideration of the proposed changes in the laws governing the Catholic Mutual Benefit association, some of which are of great importance, occupied the time of the delegates to the triennial convention of the supreme council of the association at the second day's session in the Monongahela house yesterday. The supreme committee on laws composed of Judge N. P. Whelan of Cleveland and M. J. McMahon of Pittsburgh and Robert Wiegor of New York was in conference most of the morning with the members of the sub-committee of 15 named Tuesday to consider the matter of readjusting the rates of assessment for the association.

The executive session of the convention during the afternoon received the report of this committee and when the report was received a protracted discussion followed in order to clear up the rate adjustment in the minds of the delegates. The committee has not yet finished its work, but it is expected it will finish today.

The rates submitted by the committee were adopted by the convention with an unanimous vote. The rates are based on the national fraternal congress table and contain a number of departures from the rates that have been in force since 1881 without change. A decrease on the young and an increase on the aged are among the notable changes. The table is as follows, the rate being based on $1,000 certificates and applies to the age of admission to membership:

The New Rates Proposed.

Age.	Rate.	Age.	Rate.
16	$0 85	45	$1 45
17	0 94	46	1 51
18	0 95	47	1 58
19	0 96	48	1 65
20	0 97	49	1 72
21	0 98	50	1 79
22	1 00	51	1 87
23	1 02	52	1 96
24	1 04	53	2 04
25	1 06	54	2 13
26	1 08	55	2 22
27	1 11	56	4 33
28	1 20	57	2 44
29	1 25	58	2 55
30	1 30	59	2 70
31	1 35	60	2 93
32	1 40	61	3 09

These assessments are to be made in 12 equal monthly payments.

Two new classes were created. One, known as the 3,000 class, embraces about 50 occupations, chiefly mechanical, but including as well men employed about sea ports. The rate for this class will be 20 per cent above the regular rate.

The other will be known as the prohibitory class. It includes saloon keepers, bartenders, workers in dynamite and powder mills, structural iron men and persons engaged in other particularly dangerous occupations. The committee still has before it for consideration the scaling of certificates.

The convention took up the matter of considering a number of proposed amendments to the laws which had been reported by the committee on law, and these, which were mostly minor, were rejected. The most prominent was a proposed clause by which suicide invalidated a certificate.

Thos. W. Immekus of Pittsburgh was accorded the privilege of the floor and he addressed the delegates in behalf of all Catholic societies. He spoke on behalf of the federation and invited the Catholic Mutual Benevolent association to affiliate. A motion to that effect was made and it was referred to the finance committee, as the question involves an expenditure. It is likely favorable action will be taken before the convention adjourns today.

Last night there was a reception and banquet at the hotel, followed by a dance in the assembly hall. This was given by the advisory committee in honor of the visitors. The women's reception committee, which acted in conjunction with the advisory committee, was composed of the following members: Mrs. T. M. Popp, supreme trustee of the L. C. B. A., chairman; Mrs. M. C. Cullinan, Mrs. J. T. Battles, Mrs. W. C. Neagle, Mrs. C. C. Reed, Mrs. Mary Rowe, Miss Kate Barry, Miss Lizzie Roman, Miss Bertha McEntee, Miss Lizzie Medetrigan, Miss Mamie Petty, Miss C. A. O'Donell, Miss Anna O'Neil, Miss Anna S. Woods.

PERSONALS

Capt. T. W. Griffiths of the Eighteenth United States infantry, in charge of the local recruiting station, has been transferred to the Twenty-seventh infantry. The latter is now on its way from the Philippines and will reach this country in a few days. It was thought Capt. Griffith would be sent to the Philippines, but the transfer will relieve him of that journey.

A few veterans of the civil war, members of the famous Ringgold cavalry and the Fifty-fourth Pennsylvania infantry, left last night for Winchester, Va., to participate in a reunion of McNeil's rangers and Ashby's cavalry. They left over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, going by way of Cumberland and Romney. The invitation to the reunion was needed the same order issued during the civil war, when the Ringgold cavalry and the infantry were ordered to that place. In part the invitation reads: "I have reliable information that Mosby's rangers and Ashby's cavalry are at Winchester and are supplied with provisions for a long siege. In order to capture the entire outfit Companies A and B, under command of John Everson and Adam Wolfe, left Pittsburg Wednesday and Allen Worcester will leave Pittsburgh October 14 as advance guards and scouts. Al Romney put out pickets on the Winchester road and scour the entire country night October 20, and then move to Winchester, via Blue Gap, coming in the enemy's rear in the early morning of October 24." The order issued during the war is to be carried out as far as possible.

Charles Emory Smith of Philadelphia passed through the city last night on his way to Chicago. "I am on my way to Chicago on a business trip. I have nothing to say on the political situation. The money market is causing more uneasiness than is warranted."

WASHINGTON RETURNS.

Says Negroes in America Have Surpassed Russian Serfs.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—In a speech delivered before 1,500 persons in the Abyssinia Baptist church in West Fortieth street, Booker T. Washington, who has just returned from a short vacation abroad, said that the business and educational opportunities of the negro here were far superior to those enjoyed by negroes in Europe.

Dr. Washington also said that while abroad he had been told by an eminent Russian scientist that the negro has in this country during the last 40 years made greater headway toward civilization than had the serfs of Russia in the same time.

SNAKE GOT AWAY AND CAUSED PANIC IN CROWDED STREET CAR

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—A black snake was the cause of much excitement on a southbound Broadway car early today. The reptile, which was about three feet long, was being carried in a stout paper bag by a passenger. The car was crowded at the time with people going to work, and in the crush the bag containing the reptile was knocked from the owner's grasp.

Before he could recover it the snake had escaped. The owner warned the passengers of the reptile's presence by shouting:

"Snakes! Snakes! Look out!"

Some took the warning as a joke, others thought the man had gone crazy, but when the snake was finally seen writhing on the floor and gliding in and out among the legs of passengers, there began a general stampede for the doors. The car was stopped near Twenty-first street. Many of the passengers were women and their screams could be heard for a block. Some had their clothes badly torn in the struggle to get out.

After the stampede the snake was found lying in the middle of the car mangled. It was stone dead. Its owner carried it away wrapped in a handkerchief and the car proceeded.

PLAN TO FIGHT AT THE CAPITAL

TO CROWD OUT THE "ANTIS"

Convention Will Close Its Sessions Today—St. Louis Likely to Be Chosen Next Meeting Place—Few Changes Among the Officers.

A $250,000 building in Washington is contemplated by the National Retail Liquor Dealers' association. Last night an hour's discussion was given to the project by the delegates at the session in the Hotel Henry. It is the intention of the association to establish national headquarters in the capital city, providing a suite for the legislative committee and at the same time to have the material provision at hand to combat the efforts of the Anti-Saloon league.

The plans have in view the erection of a fireproof building containing five store rooms, 80 offices, convention halls, committee rooms and such other space as may be required by the national association. A charter has been secured and the stock in the company is to be floated at a par value of $100 a share. It is planned to begin the erection of the building in two years hence. Definite action on the matter was not taken last night and the subject will be discussed today.

The building corporation has issued the the following statement to the retail liquor dealers of the country:

Space forbids an elaboration upon the necessity for establishing national headquarters at the seat of the national government, where so much legislation affecting the trade as a whole is enacted, but our enemies, the Anti-Saloon league, has established national headquarters in the shadow of the capital building, and, as we all know, they are on the alert to induce legislation inimical to our interests, and it behooves us to have our strongest representation and most formidable showing right here.

Today's session will close the convention. St. Louis is likely to be selected as the place of next year's meeting, although San Francisco will be an energetic competitor. Few changes are looked for in the election of officers. The meeting will close with a banquet at the Pittsburgh Central Turner hall in Forbes street. Yesterday the delegates visited the Carnegie steel works at Homestead, while the women of the party were driven through the parks and the East End residence district.

THEATERS NEXT WEEK.

Drama, Comedy and Farce Without a Single Musical Show for Next Week.

There will undoubtedly be a great line of people at the box office of the Alvin theater this (Thursday) morning, when the sale of seats opens for Julia Marlowe's engagement. There is an eager curiosity to see Miss Marlowe this season, for she appears for the first time in her career in the role of a society woman of fashion in H. V. Esmond's brilliant new comedy of English society life entitled "Fools of Fashion." Miss Marlowe's gowns are declared to be the most beautiful and distinguished ever seen on the stage. They are exceedingly rich, yet are, withal, extremely refined and simple.

"On the Quiet," the merry, farcical, humor-filled and rollicking play, will be in evidence at the Grand Opera house next week, when Mr. Ingersoll and Miss Taylor will be seen in the name parts. The company supporting them includes and Louise Allen Collier. A special feature will be an elaborate scenic investiture, including a full-rigged yacht sailing on Long Island sound. It will be presented at the Empire exactly as given in New York and Chicago, with the big cast and all special scenery and properties.

Pleasing, rollicking, light-footed Nellie McHenry will be at the Bijou next week, beginning with Monday's matinee in that old favorite, "Miss Hamlet," then which there have been very few plays better received, and which has always been considered the best of all Bret Harte's books that have been dramatized.

That popular comedienne, Amelia Summerville, will head the all-star continuous vaudeville program at the Avenue family theater next week. Among the other celebrated performers engaged by Manager Davis may be mentioned Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Crane, Nonpool's trained birds, the Wilton brothers, the World's trio and Alice Raymond.

The standard vaudeville attractions well known as Hyde's Comedians will present, as usual, one of the best specialty and novelty bills of the season at the Duquesne next week. Pile Fonc Mortons, Sam Kittie, Clara and Paul, one of the best acts in vaudeville, is the headliner.

Reilly and Woods' big company of burlesquers is the underline for the Academy next week, and that means that one of the best shows of the season will be at that house. Pat Reilly is a host in himself.

AMERICA'S NEEDS ARE POINTED OUT

WE NEED A LOFTY PURPOSE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—"Give our people something that will concentrate their common affection and solicitous care—and let that be their country's good; give them a purpose that stimulates them to unite in lofty endeavor—and let that purpose be a demonstration of the efficiency and beneficence of our popular rule."

This was the solution offered by Former President Grover Cleveland, as a remedy for corrupt politics, in a speech before the members of the Commercial club at their annual banquet given at the Auditorium hotel tonight. The subject discussed by Mr. Cleveland was "American Good Citizenship," and he pondered and dwelt at length on the necessity of every citizen doing his part to make political action what it should be. This is the first time in eight years that Mr. Cleveland has visited Chicago, and he received an enthusiastic ovation from the 200 banqueters when he appeared at the speaker's table. He said in part:

The withdrawal of wholesale sentiment and patriotic activity from political action on the part of those who are indifferent to their duty, or foolishly disgusted with existing ills, is the way for a ruthless and unrelenting enemy of our free institutions. It is useless for us to blink the fact that our scheme of government is to be upheld upon the intelligence of interest and purpose among those who make up the body of our people. Let us be honest with ourselves. If our nation was built upon mistaken sentiment, if the rules of patriotism and benignity that were followed in its construction have proved too impractical, let us frankly admit it.

Co-Operation for Good.

But if love of country, equal opportunity, and genuine brotherhood in citizenship are worth the pains and trials that gave them birth, and if we still believe there is in them preservation, and that they have the inherent vigor and beneficence to make our republic lasting and our people happy, let us strongly hold them in love and devotion.

Give to our people something that will concentrate their common affection and solicitous care—and let that be their country's good; give them a purpose that stimulates them to unite in lofty endeavor—and let that purpose be a demonstration of the sufficiency and beneficence of our popular rule—and we shall find that in their political thought there will be no place for the suggestions of covidness and peli—

Who will say that this is now our happy condition? Is not our public life saturated with the demoralizing influence of selfishness? More than this, can any of us doubt the existence of still more odious and detestable evils which, with steady, cankering growth, are more directly than all others jeopardizing our safety and national life? I speak of the corruption of our suffrage, open and notorious, of the buying and selling of political places for money, the purchase of legislative favors and the prostitution and thriftless use of official duty for personal gain. These things are confessedly common.

Resulting from these conditions in a manner not difficult to trace, wholesome national sentiment is threatened with utter perversion. All sorts of misconceptions pervade the public thought, and jealousies rapidly taking on the semblance of hate find a perverse corner of the land. A new meaning has been given to national prosperity. With a hardihood that savors of insolence, an old pretext, which has been dead for ages, of ancient experiments in popular rule, is daily and hourly dinned in our ears. We are told that the national splendor we have built upon the showy ventures of speculative wealth, is a badge of our success.

Unsharing contentment is enjoined upon the masses of our people, and they are invited, in the exact substance of their sentiments, to patriotically rejoice in their country's prosperity. This is too unsubstantial an enjoyment of benefits to satisfy those who have been taught American equality. Because this has arisen by a perfectly natural process, a dissatisfied insistence upon a better distribution of the results of our vaunted prosperity.

We now see its worst manifestation in the apparently incorrigible dislocation of the proper relations between labor and capital. This, of itself, is sufficiently distressing; but thoughtful men are not without dread of sadder developments yet to come. There has also grown up among our people a disregard for the restraints of law, and a disposition to evade its limitations—while querulous criticisms touching the action of our courts tend to undermine popular faith in the course of justice; and last, but by no means least, complaints of imaginary or exaggerated shortcomings in our public service furnish an easy excuse for the flippant exploitation of all sorts of monetary nostrums.

If good men are to interfere, to make political action what it should be, their efforts must support them will come upon an open field uncumbered by an opposing force. On the ground they have neglected they will find a host of those who cringe in the utilities of personal ends and selfish purposes; and this ground cannot be taken without a hand-to-hand conflict. Plain creed should bind together in generous co-operation all who are willing to fight to make our government what the fathers intended it to be. This creed should teach the wickedness of attempting to make free opportunity the occasion for seizing especial advantages, and should warn against the danger of ruthless rapacity. It should deprecate ostentation and extravagance in the affairs of people and demand in the management of public affairs simplicity and strict economy. It should teach toleration in all things save dishonesty and infidelity to public trust. It should teach that the interests of labor and advocate its fair treatment, but should sternly forbid its interference with those contented with their toil and its attempt to control force or restrict its demands by violent disturbances of peace and good order. It should be recognized in the wise distribution of capital and industrial enterprises, the best assurance of intelligent, wholesomely interested political conduct, and should condemn unnecessary, unnatural and speculative combinations in trade or enterprise, as teaching false business lessons and putting our consumers at their mercy.

Mr. Cleveland arrived at Chicago early this morning, and went direct to the Auditorium hotel, where he greeted a number of friends who were waiting to meet him.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon he was the guest of Cyrus H. McCormick and David B. Jones, at a luncheon in his honor, at the Chicago club. Concluding this he attended the Studebaker theater as the guest of James H. Eckels, comptroller of the currency during Mr. Cleveland's second administration.

Aside from a public reception to be given in Mr. Cleveland's honor from 3 to 4:30 p. m., in the auditorium, the program for tomorrow has not been definitely decided. In the morning he will ride with friends and may visit the University of Chicago and Armour institute. After the reception he will leave for his home in Princeton, N. J.

EXPO audiences tonight will be privileged to hear Miss Ninon Romaine Curry of New York city play the famous Liszt E flat piano concerto, also the Hensel etude, "If I Were a Bird," and the Liszt "Tarantelle."

WHEELING, W. VA., Oct. 14.—At a meeting of directors of the LaBelle iron works today, John E. Wright tendered his resignation as president and general manager, and while the directors say it has not yet been accepted, it is understood that John A. Topping, until recently first vice president of the American Sheet Steel Company, will be Mr. Wright's successor. Mr. Wright has been ill for several months.

Mr. Wright's father was one of the founders of the LaBelle works, and the son has been connected with it since his youth, becoming president when C. A. Robinson resigned in 1895 to accept a position as district manager of the American Tin Plate Company. The directors fully authorized the issuance of $2,000,000 of two per cent bonds most of which have already been subscribed for, the money to be used as working capital.

WELL-KNOWN YOUNG MEN IN JAIL IN ALLEGHENY

The arrest of three young men belonging to prominent families caused a sensation wherever it became known in Allegheny last night. Officers Paul Davis and Joe Mahaney locked up George Ogden of No. 108 Sterling street, John Connors of No. 1816 Sheffield street, and James Connors of No. 1516 Lafayette street, on a charge of highway robbery by W. E. McKenzie of No. 1014 Beaver avenue. The mother of John Connors is seriously ill and the news of her son's arrest almost prostrated her last night.

It is charged by McKenzie that on Saturday night before last, shortly after midnight he was knocked down by the three young men in Greenwood street, near the Ohio river. He had been with them for a short time in the evening and had showed a large roll of money. McKenzie asserts he was beaten and robbed by the men and that three of them are those under arrest. The police were looking for the fourth man last night. McKenzie refuses to make known how much was stolen from him.

Ex-Attorney General's Visit to Philadelphia Said to Have Political Importance.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Former Attorney General John P. Elkin called today at the office of William A. Patton, assistant to President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad. As Mr. Elkin is credited with being very close to the Wabash railroad, much interest is attached to his call on Mr. Cassatt.

Some pretended to see in Mr. Elkin's visit a confirmation of the report that efforts are being made to heal political differences that might eventually, if not healed, work possible injury to great corporate interests. It was denied, however, that any significance attached to Mr. Elkin's visit.

PEDDLER IS ACCUSED.

WILKESBARRE, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Accused by 4-year-old Elmer Ninch, John McKee, a peddler, was brought to jail this afternoon in connection with the death of Mrs. William Ninch, who was found dead on the mountain at midnight. Mrs. Ninch and the little boy were gathering firewood and did not return home last evening.

A searching party was formed and they were found at midnight. The woman was dead, the little boy asleep beside her. He said that late in the afternoon when they were ready to return home an old man with a beard, one leg and using a crutch, came out of the woods and, striking up to his grandmother, threw her down.

"Gramma screamed," he said, "and the man put his hands around her neck. After that she made no noise."

There are no marks about the woman's neck and the police believe she died from natural causes or that she may have been frightened by the strange man.

LUTHERAN SYNOD HAS INTERESTING DAY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LEECHBURG, PA., Oct. 14.—The sessions of the Lutheran synod in Hebron church were of unusual interest today. The home mission address was delivered by the Rev. S. T. Himes of West Sunbury, Pa. The Rev J. H. Poffinberger of Vandergrift made a stirring appeal in behalf of the church lot fund to be used by the advisory board of missions for the purchase of locations of new congregations. Over $800 was secured in cash and pledges toward this fund.

The Rev. C. P. Wiles gave an address on "Christ, the Captain of Our Salvation." The report of the board of directors of Pittsburgh seminary at Gettysburg was presented by the Rev. Poffinberger. This showed that all the obligations of the Pittsburgh synod toward this fund had been met in full. This was accomplished by the munificent gift of Harry McCreary of Indiana, Pa., who paid $12,000. The Rev. Dr. N. Valentine has resigned as president of the Gettysburg seminary and the Rev. Dr. J. A. Singmaster was chosen in his stead. The Rev. Dr. Luther Kuhlman of Frederick, Md., was elected to succeed Dr. Singmaster as professor of Biblical theology.

The report of the committee on state of religion revealed a splendid condition in the entire synod on the part of all congregations. The sacrament of the altar is well attended and all branches of church work are engaged in heartily by the membership. The treasurer's report showed a great increase in the receipts toward all objects of benevolence. The statistical secretary's report showed accessions to the membership from 80 congregations and a slight loss from some. Mrs. S. T. Nicholas of Bellevue presented the greetings of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society in a pleasing way and was responded to by President J. E. Bittle.

The work of education was reviewed by the Rev. J. E. Markward of Wilkinsburg in a fine argument. In the evening the ordination service took place.

A Mahogany Bookcase

The designer of this bookcase evidently believed that the contents of a bookcase are of more importance than the case itself. Cultured people, generally, share this view. Not that such an idea leads to carelessness with regard to the design and beauty of the bookcase. On the contrary, the lover of books cannot see his treasures housed too well. But as a rule he prefers simplicity of design and decoration. That such simplicity is not incompatible with real elegance the bookcase shown above fully proves.

Made of either mahogany or golden oak—55 inches wide, 18 deep and 73 high; claw feet; fluted columns; carved top.

TWENTIETH WARD RESIDENCES SOLD

No. 916 College Avenue Brings $26,000 and No. 307 South Negley Avenue $13,500.

PERRYSVILLE SALES OF $43,500

Allegheny Warehouse Will Cost $50,000. Bank President Tells Property—Two Wylie Avenue Houses Bought for $16,000—Minor Realty Transactions.

The Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company has sold for D. M. Clemson to E. J. Blair the residence at No. 916 College avenue, Twentieth ward, for $23,000. The house is a 12-room brick of the reception hall type and was built several years ago by Architect Harry Orth. It has all the modern conveniences and is considered one of the best bargains secured lately in East End houses. The lot faces 60 feet on the west side of College avenue, between Howe street and Kentucky avenue, and has a depth of 110 feet. Directly across the avenue from this property is the handsome residence of Mrs. A. Kim and near by the Charles Lockhart home. The buyer of the Clemson house will occupy it as a home.

Another Twentieth ward residence that changed hands yesterday was that of the Rev. Joseph T. Gibson at No. 307 South Negley avenue. The house is a three-story brick dwelling, of the reception hall type, containing 11 rooms, and stands on a lot 60x113 feet, facing on the east side of South Negley avenue near Friendship avenue. The deal was made through Samuel W. Black & Co., who conveyed the property to a prominent local professional man for $13,500.

Rapid Sales in Perrysville District.

Very substantial evidence that the Perrysville avenue district is in popular favor for residence sites on the North Side, is furnished by the rapid sale of lots in Dunlap place, the new addition opposite Riverview park, which is being marketed by the Real Estate Savings and Trust company of Allegheny. Although the streets are not yet graded and no sale has been held, over $45,000 worth of property has been sold to individuals who will improve their sites with houses costing from $8,000 to $10,000 each, making a very high class neighborhood. The property was owned until lately by the Dunlap heirs and extends from Perrysville avenue to East street. Two cross streets, Ritchie avenue and Gould avenue will be opened shortly to connect these two streets, thus affording frontages on five different streets.

The purchasers of the Perrysville avenue frontage follow: Robert J. Graham, 50x165 feet, for $9,625; Charles Dunbar, 50x158 feet, for $3,750; T. G. Marshall, 50x158 feet, for $3,500; R. H. Hadley, 50x170 feet, for $3,750; James G. Wyman, 50x189 feet, for $4,000; H. W. Watkins, 50x189 feet, for $4,250; John A. Hunter of New Brighton, 50x159 feet, for $4,000; A. A. Bamford, 50x159 feet, for $4,000. In Ritchie avenue seven lots, 50x100 feet, have been sold to the following parties for $1,875 each: No. 54, to Arthur L. Wyman; No. 51, to Charles Bonnin; No. 52, to R. W. Watterson; No. 49, to Clarence W. Watkins; No. 48, to John B. Textor; No. 47, to Thomas E. Long; No. 45, to R. D. Hunter. A 25-foot building line has been established for Ritchie avenue and the building restrictions will be in force to prevent any but high class houses being erected anywhere on the plan.

Model Furniture Warehouse.

Clarence Pettit, the produce commission merchant, has had plans prepared by Architect Thomas H. Scott for one of the finest furniture warehouses in Western Pennsylvania. It will belong to the Household Storage Company and will be erected on a lot, 50x217 feet, in Church avenue, opposite Mr. Pettit's present warehouse in South Canal street, Allegheny. The building will be a six-story brick of the slow burning type and will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000. Instead of the usual inside elevator shaft and stairway which afford such a tremendous draft for fire in a furniture storage house, the elevator shaft will have fireproof solid brick walls, and the stairway will be inside of this opening. The first story will be 21 feet high, affording abundant room for the highest load to enter and be stored away in dry quarters. Bids are now being taken on the job.

Work on the new Wabash passenger station at Liberty avenue, Fourth avenue and Ferry street, has reached a point where some idea can be gained of the size and form of the structure. The steel frame is going up rapidly and unless strikes delay the building, will be enclosed by January 1. All the old buildings to the south of this, facing on the west side of Ferry street, have been razed, after deals with owners, and property values are likely to advance as a result.

Choice Frontage Secured.

Through the office of A. B. May, Jr., J. M. Donaldson, president of the Second National bank of Allegheny, has sold to L. C. Sadd 234 feet of frontage in Perrysville avenue opposite Riverview avenue for $14,500, or $62 a front foot. The plot has an average depth of 150 feet extending back to Valley street. It is in a most desirable part of the Perrysville district, being opposite the fine home of Joseph Hunter and near that of Alfred Hamilton. Mr. Sadd will improve the property by building five brick houses to cost $8,000 each.

The sale is reported of two of the W. C. McElhenny houses at the northeast corner of Wylie avenue and Crawford street for $16,000. The houses are 10-room bricks, standing on a lot 44x70 feet. The buyer's name was not learned.

Allegheny—W. F. Weltershausen sold for Philip Papert to Mrs. Wilhelmina Gums a three-story brick house, lot 20x75 feet, in the south side of Liberty street, near Madison avenue, Fourth ward, Allegheny, for $6,000.

Shingler street—W. J. White sold to Susanna Boley, No. 17 Shingler street, a brick house, lot 21x60 feet, for $6,000.

Scattering Houses for Sale.

Clark street—The Arcuson Realty Company sold for Attorney Robert E. Heineman to M. Shullat two brick houses, lot 23x114 feet, in Clark street extension, for $4,500.

Meade street—James H. Young sold to Beulah W. Gartner an improved lot, 28x150 feet, in the south side of Meade street, near Homewood avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $7,500.

Reynolds street—Hartley B. Rose sold to the Liberty Real Estate Trust Company a plot 529x153 feet in the east side of Reynolds street, near Harrison avenue, Thirty-seventh ward, for $6,250.

Meadow street—Mrs. Margaret Rodgers sold to Herbert M. Hildeffer an improved lot, 25x100 feet, in the west side of Meadow street, near Lowell street, Twenty-first ward, for $4,500.

Eldora—Williams, Evans & Co. sold in the Eldora allotment, on the line of the Pittsburgh and Charleroi street railway, opposite Monessen, the following lots: No. 9 to J. H. Fell for $725; Nos. 10, 11 and 12 to E. B. Wilson for $1,600; No. 41 to Mrs. M. Landerfelds for $575; No. 40 to John R. Banson for $600.

Spurt in Buildings Authorized.

Ten building permits, aggregating $36,185, were issued in Pittsburgh yesterday as follows: W. S. Coe, 12 brick-veneered dwellings, Webster avenue and Duff street, Thirteenth ward, $18,000; George I. Seibuhl, frame dwelling, Irvington avenue, Twenty-seventh ward, $2,000; David Kerr, brick-veneered dwelling, Witherspoon street, Eighteenth ward, $3,000; Henry L. GRANDMA'S NOTE ENDS IN CONTEST

Appeal Follows Register's Admission of Letter as Codicil to a Will.

UNDUE INFLUENCE CHARGED

In orphans' court yesterday a petition appealing from the course of Register George H. Stengel in admitting to probate as a codicil to the will of the late Catharine Schuchman, a writing dated January 23, 1900, was filed by Mrs. Anna Nagher, a daughter of the decedent.

The petition sets forth that the deceased was not capable of making a will; denies that the paper is a will, and alleges that it was procured by undue influence exercised by Mary Ellen Neun and others. It is also stated that the decedent was 86 years old, childish and weak-minded, and did not know her own children, having been in the condition for six years. The paper in question, as by the copy attached to the petition, is as follows:

Gastord P. O., Avon Co., Pa.,

Mr. Bruce—Dear Sir: This day my grandma requests me to write to you. Sometime ago she made a will that is in your care or keeping. Now she is not satisfied with it and wants it changed. She is not as contented with the way things are. I do not know what the will contains, but she says she does not want it that way, that she has lived longer now and says the will must be changed.

She wants all to go to the one that has been keeping her and taking care of her all these years. Now I don't know if this can be changed or not and grandma does not want me to ask anyone. Now if you can make the change, please do so and destroy the other at her request. She would like for her oldest daughter, Mary Ellen Neun, to whom she has been living all these years, to have whatever is left after she is buried. Grandma was too nervous to write herself, but she will write her name to it. Please let me know at once if anything can be done, and oblige.

Grandma, Etc.,
ELMA HARVEY.

KATHERINE SCHUCHMAN.

Thomas Jones was acquitted on a charge of assault and battery and on one of forcible entry and detainer in Judge Elliott Rodgers' branch of criminal court yesterday. The charges were made by Margaret McTighe of Ohio street. Jones, who alleged that Jones went into her home, beat her and cut her on the arm. Later she claimed he threw her and her children out into the street, along with some of the furniture, making possession of the premises. In both cases Jones was acquitted, but was ordered to pay the costs.

Benajmin Schwartz was acquitted of a charge of felonious assault and battery, made against him by Louis E. Rotzsch, chief of police of McKeesport. He shot Michael Homac on August 23, while, he said, three men were trying to break into his confectionery store. He shot to scare them away and one of them ran at him. He shot at this man and Homac was wounded. The injured man was in the hospital for eight days. The defendant showed that Homac's reputation was not the best.

Thomas Hughes was acquitted of felonious assault and battery on Cornelius Winters and the costs were divided. The prosecutor said Hughes cut his head with a knife.

A decree in distribution was made yesterday in the estate of Henry Bigley, by which T. C. Noble, as escheater, receives $316 60. Bigley died without heirs, or at least none can be found, and by a decree his estate was escheated and the money goes into the state treasury.

News of the Rivers.

The stage of water at 9 o'clock last night at the Davis Island dam was 3.6 feet and the river was stationary.

Harbor 25, Masters and Pilots, will hold a meeting in the rooms of the harbor in the Iron Exchange building Saturday morning.

The big Sprague, which is bringing a tow of record-breaking size up the Mississippi from New Orleans, will reach Cairo today. She will then drop off the empty craft and go on to St. Louis with six barges of lumber which are included in her tow.

The harbor lines of the Monongahela river at McKeesport are to be considerably changed by reason of the officials of the United States Steel Corporation in order to permit of the proposed extensions of the plant at that place. The National Tube Company mills occupy practically all of McKeesport's Monongahela river frontage and the city will not be affected.

The steamer Elizabeth, which was purchased by Theodore A. Miller at the United States marshal's office sale some time ago, has been sold to S. W. Carpenter, who bought the Gertrude at the same sale. Mr. Carpenter repaired the Gertrude and sold her to Florida parties, who are taking her to the Chattahoochee river, along the gulf coast.

THIEL COLLEGE WANTS TO STAY IN GREENSBURG

In the supreme court yesterday steps were taken to get the Thiel college troubles finally settled. The college authorities decided to move the institution to Greensburg and practically did so. Residents of Greenville went into the Mercer county courts with a suit to prevent the removal of the college and the case was decided in their favor. Yesterday an appeal was taken from the action of the common pleas court of Mercer county by the officers of the college. A motion will be made to place the case on the argument list of the present term that the matter may be decided at once. The case of the Greenville people is based on the claim that subscriptions were made on condition that the college be maintained in Greenville.

The appeal of Mary L. Knee vs. A. McDowell, executor, was quashed on the ground that the question involved was not presented in the paper book. It was an appeal from Mercer county on a check.

The court heard the arguments in the appeal of Sarah E. Rudolph vs. Jacob G. Rudolph, common pleas of Jefferson county. The case concerns a piece of land in Jefferson township claimed by both parties to the suit. The question involved is the competency of one of two surviving parties holding title under a common grantor, who was dead at the time of the trial, to testify to a conversation between them, being plaintiff and defendant in the case, that took place prior to the death of the grantor.

A number of Clarion county cases were argued. The appeal of E. M. Summerville vs. the Apollo Gas Company is in an action in ejectment. A tract of oil and gas land is affected. Both claim title and the case turns on the construction placed on the terms of the leases. The appeal of L. C. Boyd vs. John Snyder et al involves the statute of limitations. On account of a fire Boyd was charged with arson, tried and acquitted. Subsequently he entered suit for $50,000 damages and the Clarion county court held the action was barred by the statute of limitations. The appeal of Elizabeth Klein Schoppele et al. is from the finding of the orphans' court of Clarion county in the estate of Frank Klein, deceased. Klein was married twice and his children by his first wife allege mental unsoundness and testamentary incapacity at the time of making his will.

The appeal of Jessie A. Jameson from the orphans' court of Mercer county concerns the settlement of the estate of Brenda Allen. Charles B. Allen and the appellant were the heirs. The question was raised as to the competency of Allen as a witness to matters occurring in the lifetime of Allen when it is charged that advancements were made to the son, or to testify to relieve himself from being charged with advancements; as to what constitutes advancements and as to what amount of advancements should be charged against an heir-at-law.

FEW AMERICAN BONDS HELD BY FOREIGNERS

Annual Report of Register Shows National Credit Upheld by Domestic Money.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The annual report of the register of the treasury shows that an aggregate of $15,085,750 of the registered bonds are held by foreigners. Of this amount $3,911,250 are credited to individuals and $11,154,500 to foreign insurance companies. The latter amount is all on deposit in this country.

"The amount of United States bonds thus held by foreign individuals," says the register, "is so insignificant that it may be said that the national credit is entirely upheld by domestic money."

An analysis of the domestic holdings show that the consols of 1930 is the popular one with national banks. Out of a total of $506,463,350, the banks have on deposit with the treasurer of the United States $458,458,100, leaving to be accounted for $48,025,250. Of the latter amount $26,732,850 are held by individuals, the balance by the corporations, such as banks, insurance and trust companies, lodges and societies. The bonds of the various loans, on June 30, 1903, were held in this country as follows:

Lodges, $1,750,410; societies, $2,439,340; individuals, $205,846,810; with treasurer of the United States in trust, $498,877,140; in banks, $83,098,890; insurance and trust companies, $13,294,570; total, $786,262,100.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Mary A. Snead has filed a libel in divorce against Arthur H. Snead, charging desertion.

Jane H. McAllister has entered suit against Banker Bros. Company for $2,500 alleged to have been paid for an automobile that did not prove satisfactory.

Mary McCracken King has sued the Pittsburgh Railways Company for $25,000 damages for the death of her husband, who, the bill avers, was killed by the Lincoln bridge accident of July 4 last.

A writ of habeas corpus was issued against Supt. William Hill of the workhouse, directing him to have Dennis Clifford in court on October 17 next. The petition states the latter is imprisoned without being charged with crime.

In the suit of Patrick Gallagher against the firm of Booth & Flinn, a verdict was returned for the defendant. Gallagher sued for $7,500 to recover for horses sold the firm in 1891. The suit was entered in 1894 and the defendant firm claimed the bill had been paid.

In the divorce suit of Elmira C. Wray against Joseph G. Wray, an answer has been filed by the respondent, in which he denies he treated his wife in a cruel manner, giving her cause for leaving his home. He makes an admission of wrong-doing, but claims his wife was covenant with the fact, as he told her about it. He asks a trial before a jury.

In the equity proceedings of Samuel Holmes against the Journeymen Stonecutters' Association of North America, Pittsburgh branch, and others, in which the plaintiff, who is a contractor, seeks to enjoin the defendants from interfering with his employes, the court decided to let the motion for an injunction stand open, with the understanding that the defendants do not interfere with plaintiff's workmen.

The following executions were issued yesterday: George M. Sloan vs. W. J. Stewart, $1,602 27; First National Brewing Company vs. Frederick W. Entze et al, $2,000; Georgia M. Sloan vs. W. J. Stewart, $1,593 27; Eugene C. Winterstein vs. H. H. Archer, $116 66; First National Brewing Company vs Entze & Lindner et al $500; George Werner vs. P. Tysurd et al, $68 46; John Mulholland vs. Josephine Kent et al, $257 65; Mrs. E. J. Horst vs. W. Pipes et al, $7 02; J. M. Rice vs. Leona B. Ringgold, $47 30; First National bank, Oakdale, vs. Pittsburgh Automobile Company, $2,099 56.

Young Politician May Die.

James C. Sullivan, of East Pittsburgh, who resigned his office of justice of the peace last Saturday, is at the Mercy hospital suffering from an attack of serious liver and stomach trouble. He was unconscious when taken to the hospital and there is small hope for his recovery. He is 28 years of age and prominent in Turtle Creek valley politics.

COLLISION IN FOG.

Two Passengers Were Seriously Hurt in Forbes Street Trolley Wreck.

While running at a high rate of speed through the fog yesterday morning a collision occurred between two cars on the Pittsburgh Railways Company's line at Forbes and Shingiss streets, resulting in the serious injury of two passengers. A car on the Suburban line was crushed like an egg shell by a heavy double-trucked cruiser on the Center and Negley avenue division.

Frank Zelauski, an inspector for the department of charities, residing at No. 2016 Sidney street, suffered a fracture of his left leg, and Raymond George, a schoolboy, residing in South Twenty-second street, was injured in the spine. He was removed to the Mercy hospital.

The accident occurred shortly after 9 o'clock. The rear platform of the Suburban car was crowded and many passengers were hurt in their efforts to escape.

There are people who say that the benefit derived from the use of put-up medicines is imaginary. It is not the case with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which makes weak women strong and sick women well. A woman may imagine she's weak, or may fancy she's sick, but her imagination can't add forty pounds to her weight. The positive proof of the curative power of "Favorite Prescription" is found in the restoration of health which is recorded in face and form, of strength which can be tested, and weight which can be registered in pounds and ounces.

The general health of women is so intimately connected with the local health of the womanly organs that when these are diseased the whole body suffers loss. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, stops weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I am very glad to let other poor sufferers know what Dr. Pierce's medicines have done for me," writes Mrs. Edwin H. Gardner, of Beechwood, Norfolk Co., Mass. (Box 79.) "You know I wrote to you last summer. I read what your medicine had done for other people, so thought I would try it, and I found it was a blessing to me and my family. I began in June and took six bottles of your medicine, and three vials of 'Pellets.' I took your medicine a year when I had a ten-pound girl. I had the easiest time I ever had with any of my three children. I have been well ever since I took your medicine. I took three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' three of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and three vials of 'Pellets.' I had no appetite and could not eat much without it distressing me before I took your 'Favorite Prescription,' and I only weighed 135 pounds. Now I weigh 175."

DOINGS IN SOCIETY

EXCEEDINGLY dainty was the wedding last evening of Miss Elizabeth Atwood Biggs and William Kuhn Dunbar, which took place at 7 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Biggs, in South Craig street. About 125 guests witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. William L. McEwan of the Third Presbyterian church. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Elmore Biggs, as maid of honor, and by Mrs. George W. Biggs, Jr., as matron of honor. The maids were Miss Fannie and Miss Sallie Dunbar and Miss Winifred and Miss Rebecca Jones. Dr. Herbert Van Kirk of McKeesport acted as Mr. Dunbar's best man, while the ushers were Herbert Barnard, Morgan D. Hays, Bissell Speer, Alexander Speer, Lucien Hill and Edward O'Connor of Savannah, Ga.

The bride wore a lace-trimmed gown of white crepe de chine, with a full court train. Her veil was fastened with orange blossoms, and she carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. White crepe de chine was worn by the maids, each carrying white chrysanthemums, the matron of honor wearing her wedding gown. Miss Biggs was gowned in green crepe and carried a shower of maidenhair fern. To the sweet strains of the wedding march the bridal party entered the library, where the ceremony was performed, the bride being given away by her brother, George W. Biggs, Jr.

The Biggs home has most picturesque apartments, and the decorations were especially dainty. The yellow parlor looked well in its adornment of cut flowers in vases. A long, low window seat in the library was hidden beneath a mass of delicate maidenhair fern and palms, and clusters of flowers found their places about the room. Even more beautiful than the other apartments was the reception hall, where an archway at the foot of the stairs was outlined with trailing asparagus fern and crimson autumn leaves. A large vase of white daisies was placed at the foot of the stairs, where the orchestra was stationed behind a screen of palms.

A centerpiece of American Beauties occupied the bride's table, while on the china closet and sideboard were huge clusters of yellow and white blossoms. Asparagus fern decked the opalescent sconces. Mr. Dunbar and his bride left for an eastern trip after the wedding supper, at the conclusion of which they will be at home in Darlington road on dates after November 1. Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were the Misses Bushnell of Hartford, Conn., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bushnell of Philadelphia.

Haymaker—Fronheiser.

Yellow and blue were the colors at the wedding of Miss Marguerite McKnight Haymaker and Jacob A. Fronheiser last evening. At 8 o'clock the Rev. Richard S. Holmes, D. D., of the Shadyside Presbyterian church performed the marriage ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, District Attorney and Mrs. John C. Haymaker of South Negley avenue. The bride, in a handsome gown of white satin, shirred and trimmed with rose point lace and pearls, was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Haymaker, who wore a dainty robe of pale blue chiffon and carried yellow chrysanthemums. The bridal bouquet was of white orchids and valley lilies. Mr. Fronheiser's best man was Frank Hannan and the ushers were Dr. J. B. Lowman, Frank Rosensteel, Benjamin Williams of Denver, William Kelley of Jersey City and John Fox of New York. A number of out-of-town guests were present, among them being Mrs. Moore and Miss Ethel Moore of Philadelphia, Miss Barber of Englewood, Mrs. H. W. Nott of Stamford, Miss Dorothy Fronheiser and Dr. John Service of Philadelphia.

At the bridal table, whereon was a centerpiece of chrysanthemums, were seated the members of the bridal party, with Miss Ethel Griffin, Miss Hemmick and Miss Mary Guller, all of whom entertained within the last week for the bride. At this table, which was placed in the home of Mrs. C. H. Babcock, adjoining the Haymaker home, the chairs were of gold and the place cards further carried out the golden idea. The mantels in all the rooms were banked in green, and chrysanthemums prevailed in the color touches. The gas being turned low, a soft effect was given in the library, where the wedding took place, by the light of candles. Palms formed an alcove at each side of which was a tall brass standard of flowers. White was used exclusively in the pink parlor. The home of Mrs. Babcock was also decorated in the feathery blossoms, these showing of particularly well in the parlor of pale green.

The porches of both houses were enclosed and numerous little cozy corners formed with palms. Mr. and Mrs. Fronheiser are now on their way to Colorado Springs, and after spending some time there, will go on to the California coast, returning to make their home in Johnstown, where they will receive their friends after December 1.

Francis Keane, rector of the church, celebrated nuptial high mass at 9 o'clock, assisted by the Rev. Patrick Hesson and the Rev. Philip McDonald.

The bride wore an imported gown of white crepe de chine, with a veil. Her gown was trimmed with clumy lace and she carried roses and lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a pendant, the bridegroom's gift. American Beauties were carried by the matron of honor, who wore white crepe with trimmings of duchesse lace and a white chiffon hat. The maids all appeared in gowns of white voile and hats of chiffon. Autumn leaves and green were used in the church decorations, where standards of white chrysanthemums were placed in the aisles. A quantity of green was used about the chancel and altar. At the Murphy home the library was done in American Beauties, the dining room in pink roses, with an elaborate centerpiece of the same, and the reception hall had decorations of yellow chrysanthemums.

RAILROADS ARE NOT CANCELLING ORDERS

Official of Pressed Steel Car Company Says Dividends Are Being Paid.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—A director of the Pressed Steel Car Company is quoted today as follows: "The reports circulated to the effect that the railroads have been cancelling orders which had been placed for cars are absolutely without foundation in fact. I do not know of a single order that has been cancelled. The affairs of the Pressed Steel Car Company are in good condition. The company is strong in financial resources. Last year the company earned about 27 per cent on the common stock, but we only paid four in common dividends.

"We do not, of course, expect to earn 27 per cent on the common stock every year. When our earnings were large we paid small dividends, enabling us to strengthen our financial condition. With the return of more confidence the railroads will be in the market for more cars, and while we do not expect the volume to be as great as it has, there can be no great falling off in the earnings without jeopardizing dividends.

"The dividends that are now being paid quarterly on the common shares were established at the beginning of the fiscal year, and were based upon the earnings of the previous year.

"At the directors' meeting to be held shortly the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock will be declared, and the regular quarterly dividend of one per cent and ¼ per cent extra on the common will be ordered paid."

MINISTER IS ARRESTED AS "JACK THE PEEPER"

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The Rev. John F. Bevin of Brooklyn was arraigned as a "Jack, the Peeper," in the Adams street police court today, before Magistrate Dooley. He was accused of having spent considerable time last night peeping in the window of Mrs. Bernard O'Donnell's home.

The Rev. Mr. Bevin explained to reporters that he had heard Mrs. O'Donnell sing some time ago and that he was so impressed with her beautiful voice and form that he could not resist the temptation when passing her home last night to peer in the window hoping to catch another glimpse of her.

"I was born in Harrisburg, Pa., Bevin said, "but my folks are now living at Natchez, Miss. I have been in the west most of my life and have had charges in Harrisburg, Pa., and Ilion, Ill. Some time ago I came to Brooklyn and for a time I had charge of the Lutheran mission. Not long ago I heard Mrs. O'Donnell sing. She has a beautiful voice and is a beautiful woman in every way.

"On my way home from work last night I had to pass her home and I could not resist the temptation to stop and look in the window."

One of the policemen present, in a jocular way, asked Mr. Bevin if he had ever suffered from any mental trouble and the clergyman laughingly said that he had not and that he was perfectly sane.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—The Dauphin county courts today decided that the nomination papers of the Socialist labor state nominees were defective and issued an order allowing the party until Monday to amend them, provided they do not use the appellation, "Socialist."

To the Editor of The Gazette—We have been asked recently if the advertisements printed in your columns regarding Hyomei were true, where we offer to refund the money if this treatment does not cure catarrh and catarrhal deafness. We wish you would please print this letter in as conspicuous a place as possible in your paper, saying that we absolutely agree to refund the money to any purchaser of a Hyomei outfit if it does not cure catarrh.

This outfit consists of an inhaler of a convenient size to be carried in the vest pocket so that the user can breathe Hyomei four or five times daily. With this is included a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The outfit sells for $1, and is a most economical treatment, for the inhaler lasts a lifetime and there is enough Hyomei for several weeks' use, while extra bottles can be obtained for 50c.

We trust this letter will settle any doubts that may have arisen as to our willingness to refund the money for a Hyomei outfit in case the purchaser is not perfectly satisfied.

We wish to say emphatically that our guarantee on Hyomei holds good, and we will refund the money to any dissatisfied purchaser who simply states that he has used the treatment according to directions and has not been helped.

Respectfully yours,

MISTRESS and... MAID

The Pittsburgh Gazette invites the contribution of articles not to exceed 300 words, describing with as much detail as possible the best system of household management, including the division of work, the schedule for the various days of the week, privileges accorded to help, etc.

The Gazette believes that the secret of a smooth-running household lies not so much in any special good fortune in securing unusually competent help, as in the capable direction of affairs by the mistress, a proper division and schedule of work for each day in the week, and in treating the help with at least as much consideration as a business man accords to the people he employs to assist him in his business, and in order to promote practical and thorough discussion, not of the "Servant Problem," but of the systematizing of housework and the administration of the "business" of keeping house,

The Pittsburgh Gazette

WILL GIVE CASH PRIZES, AS FOLLOWS:

For the best article on the Management of a House in which one maid is employed $25

For the best article on the Management of a House in which two or more maids are employed $25

Articles to be eligible for this competition must be received at The Gazette office not later than Oct. 31.

The Articles Will Be Published Anonymously in the Home Journal Section of the Sunday Gazette

The result of the competition will be decided by vote of the readers of the Sunday Gazette by means of coupons, which will be printed in the Home Journal section.

Further details as to publication of the articles and award of prizes will be published later in this paper.

FRESH VEGETABLES STILL ADVANCING

The advancing tendency of fresh vegetables noticed at the beginning of the week is still to be observed, and any changes in price made yesterday were in the direction of a higher range of values. Cabbage went forward about 25 cents a barrel. Radishes are in more limited supply and are higher. Cauliflower is bringing much higher figures with demand good. Lima beans have reached the top point of the season and fancy stock is readily salable at the advanced quotations. Tomatoes, which went forward earlier in the week, are holding firm at the advance, and are being brought to market in greatly reduced amount. Watercress is firm at advanced quotations. The weak point in the market is celery, which dealers find a dead weight, and are willing to let go at buyers' prices. Demand for this vegetable is very slow, and, while there is not more than could be readily handled under ordinary conditions, popular favor has not commenced to desire it, and request is light.

Fruits are holding their own, with only fair receipts coming in, and prices are unchanged. Concord grapes are firm, but they have been in scant supply all season and are kept steady for this reason. Tropical fruits are good sellers and bring full quotations.

Within the last two days millers have advanced the price of flour 10 cents a barrel, but local quotations have not changed. It is not so much a question of price with wholesalers as it is of securing stock, and just now some of them find it very hard to get enough flour to fill orders of customers. The market is very firm, and demand is excellent. Coffee holds its own as quoted, but no further advances have as yet occurred. Sugar is maintaining its position as quoted figures, no further attempt having been made to advance prices.

Poultry is selling fairly well, but there is no haste to buy on the part of consumers, and the trade orders in moderate quantity. Quotations are firmly maintained on account of the lightness of offerings.

Eggs have not yet commenced to arrive with sufficient freedom to affect prices, and the market is steady at former prices. Some southern stock is coming forward and finds sale, but demand is sufficient to absorb all receipts of fresh stock. Cheese is in good request and there is no trouble found in maintaining prices. Butter is easy as quoted.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 23 cars hay, 1 car straw, 8 cars oats, 3 cars corn, 4 cars bran; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 6 cars hay, 1 car oats, 1 car corn, 1 car rye; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 13 cars hay, 4 cars oats, 1 car feed, 1 car corn. Total receipts, 72 cars.

A MUCH BETTER TONE TO THE STOCK MARKET

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

There was a better tone in the stock markets yesterday. Here in Pittsburgh there was a strong rally in the Crucible Steel stocks, not one of the gloomy forebodings of the day before was realized, and there was evidence of good support that would prevent any such slaughter of values as was witnessed on Tuesday. The eastern stock market also displayed a better tone, and Wall street advices stated that it was largely due to the improvement noted in the initial transactions on the Pittsburgh board. Evidence is accumulating that the extreme weakness in our market on Tuesday was largely due to manipulation and that this manipulation originated in Wall street. The result might have been worse if persons who had been invited to contribute to the demoralization had not promptly refused to have anything to do with a speculative movement that would mean sacrifice to thousands of holders of stock for the benefit of one little clique. A better understanding of the situation has been followed by a relaxation of the strain and people were more disposed to take a less pessimistic view of the outlook.

London prices for American securities came higher and foreigners were buyers in the eastern market at the opening. Particular interest was manifested in a small group of stocks that had been vigorously attacked just before the close of the market on Tuesday. These were Canadian Pacific, St. Paul and Amalgamated Copper. The first-named opened 1 per cent higher at 117¾ and held most of the gain until well along in the session, when the rumor-monger got to work with reports of impending trouble in Montreal, which later caused a decline in the stock to 115¾, but there was a rally at the close to 116⅜ bid. St. Paul also opened higher at 126 and advanced to 126⅝, but late in the day was sold down to 124½, and closed at practically the lowest. These two stocks, with Southern Railway preferred, were the only really weak members of the railroad group. The fluctuations in Pennsylvania were spanned by ¾ per cent, the stock opening at 117¾, advancing to 117⅝, declining to 117⅛ and closing at 117¼. The fluctuations in Baltimore & Ohio were equally narrow. In fact, a noticeable feature of the railroad list was the comparative steadiness of stocks of those companies which are closely identified with the manufacturing sections of the country. Reading was one of the strong features, advancing from 45 to 46¼. The directors are scheduled to meet today and there was some expectation of dividend on the second preferred. New York Central advanced to 136¾, declined to 135¼ and closed at 135⅝ bid.

Amalgamated Copper was the pivot around which the industrial stocks moved. It opened ¾ per cent higher at 58½ to 59⅜, but later turned decidedly weak, selling down to 53¾, the lowest price in the history of the company, and closed at 54⅜. The Amalgamated directors are scheduled to meet today to take action on the quarterly dividend. The company has been paying ¾ per cent quarterly, and rumor was current that this would be passed at the meeting today. It is looked upon as a Standard Oil stock. It is now generally admitted that Rockefeller interests in United States Steel were responsible for the cut in the dividend of the latter last week. The allegation is openly made that this interest desired the dividend to be passed entirely, and the street yesterday thought that an example in dividend policy would be furnished by the Amalgamated directors today. The weakness in the stock, together with that of St. Paul and other specialties of the same financial group, was construed as meaning that this group was not yet favorably inclined to an upward movement in the general market.

In United States Steel securities there was less activity and a steadier tone during the greater part of the day. The common stock rallied to 13½, the preferred to 58⅞ and the bonds to 70⅝. The pressure of liquidation seemed to be over, but later in the session extreme weakness developed in some of the minor iron and steel issues and United States Steel declined fractionally. The common closed at 12¾, the lowest, but the preferred, after selling down to 57¾, rallied to and closed at 58¼ bid. The final sale of the bonds was at 69¾.

American Car and Foundry stocks suffered the greatest declines. The common broke from 24⅞ to 18½ and the preferred from 68 to 61¼. Republic Iron and Steel preferred broke from 96¼ to 93½ and closed at the lowest. Tennessee Coal and Iron made a new low record by selling down to 26½. The tone of the general market at the close was rather heavy, but save in a few specialties there was no evidence of forced liquidation, and the volume of trade was small. The total sales were 450,000 shares.

There was no change in money rates, but there are indications of an accumulation of funds, and the feeling is growing that from this time to the end of the year there will be a steady increase in the supply. Such accumulation would be altogether natural under prevailing conditions. The demands of business are smaller than at any previous time in months. Brokers are not encouraging speculative operations and the requirements for carrying stocks on margin are now smaller than at any previous time this year, for the reason that prices are at the lowest average level.

There was a falling off in total transactions on the Pittsburgh board, but with one or two unimportant exceptions prices closed at net gains. Crucible Steel preferred led in point of activity, nearly a third of the dealings being in that stock. It opened at 47, which was $7 a share above the close of the day before and $12 a share above the low price reached on Tuesday's raid. The advance represented very handsome profits for those traders who had the cash and courage to buy on the break, and the taking of these profits caused a reaction to 43½. Later there was a recovery to 45¾, at which the stock closed. The common rallied $1 a share to 6 and closed at that price bid. It was pretty generally known on the exchange that a meeting of members of the Crucible board was in progress during the greater part of the day, but its results were not known until after the close of the market.

The only incident that was at all disquieting occurred shortly after 2 o'clock, when 1,000 shares River Coal common was thrown upon the market, breaking the price from 9 to 8¾, the lowest on this movement. Traders feared that a new object for attack had been found, but the recovery was so prompt and vigorous that fears were allayed. One of the official summary of the day's transactions shows that the highest sale of River Coal common was at 9 and the last sale at 8¼, the closing bid was 9½, and there was no stock offered under 10. Only one small lot of the preferred changed hands at 30, which was unchanged. Pittsburgh Coal common and preferred recovered a portion of the loss of the previous day, and Manufacturers Light and Heat and Westinghouse Air brake also closed at handsome net gains. While the market did not close at the highest, it showed very plainly that the strain had been relieved.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The fact that the Crucible Steel people were in session during the greater part of the day was known in the street, but the conclusion reached was not announced until after the close of the market. It will be interesting to observe how the market will take the official statement that "it is probable that the larger operations of the Clairton plant will temporarily require the company to discontinue dividends on the preferred stock." This statement will no doubt neutralize the announcement that "interested allies" have subscribed the funds necessary to take care of the Clairton indebtedness, but with Mr. W. G. Park in full control, and with the implied intention of enlarging the original scope of the Crucible-Clairton combination, investors will feel that even if it should become necessary to temporarily forego dividends, actual value will be added to their property, and that the dividends, which are cumulative, will ultimately be paid in full.

A number of brokers were interviewed last night regarding the probable effects of the announcement that it might become necessary to defer or reduce dividends on Crucible Steel preferred in order to carry out the larger operations of the Clairton plant. At first sight it was thought that the effect would be to depress the value of Crucible Steel preferred stock. Several brokers, however, referred to the entrance into the management of the company of William G. Park, James H. Park and Wm. Mellon, as a strong bull card, and the additional fact that Pittsburgheers had contributed the fund necessary to finance the debt of the company and furnish additional working capital was looked upon as evidence of the soundness of the company. Several of the Crucible directors who expressed opinions with the reservation that their names should not be used were jubilant over the fact that the company has been able to take care of its affairs without aid from the United States Steel Corporation or any other outside source. The head of one prominent brokerage house, however, thought that while the market might be supported, the disappointment on the part of the numerous small stockholders who had confidently bought the stock for an investment would lead to liquidation that would cause a dull and sagging market.

The recovery in the local market was quite general, nearly every stock on the list showing a gain, ranging from small fractions to 2 per cent.

There was very little doing in the banking group, and the only change was a 2 per cent decline in German American Savings & Trust, which sold at 150.

National Fire Proofing common rallied to 11⅝ and the preferred to 24½, and both closed at about the highest.

The announcement of the regular dividend on Pittsburgh Coal preferred caused a rally in that stock, and the common advanced to 19.

Whitney, Stephenson & Co. bought 1,000 shares River Coal at 8¾ and later bid the price up to 9½. H. M. Long was the largest seller.

On the New York board Colorado Fuel & Iron preferred closed at 60 bid, 90 asked.

A prominent Wall street money broker states that he has recently borrowed $2,500,000 for six months at 3 per cent on collateral consisting entirely of undigested securities.

It is stated that Anaconda directors will not meet to take action on the dividend until the A. C. P. meeting today.

The merchandise imports in September decreased nearly $6,000,000; exports decreased $11,000,000; excess of exports over imports, decreased $5,000,000.

A Wall street dispatch said: The stock market situation at Pittsburgh was much improved today and market values of Crucible Steel preferred went far toward repairing the damage done by yesterday's bankers' break. The reassuring pressure upon United States Steel preferred, which broke that stock in yesterday's market, was relieved in consequence. The official denial of some of the disturbing rumors regarding the business of some of the industrial corporations, indicated the activity of bear manipulators in disseminating the rumors and prompted to some recovery.

MONEY MARKET AFFECTS STEEL

Business in Manufacturing Circles Quiet, Small Quantities Being Specified.

BESSEMER PIG IRON IS DULL

Foundry Iron Sells Slowly, but Quotations Give Evidence of Increased Firmness. Better Demand for Plates—Tin Plate Continues Active.

Producers will not acknowledge their belief that the quietness now reigning in the Iron and steel market is due to the upset condition in financial circles, but all will concede that there is a lack of life in the business situation which must be accounted for in some way. The majority of those who have opinions to express say it is all up to the money market when trade will grow brighter, however, and that there is nothing to do but wait until the stock market is adjusted and money is less tight. Others there are who attribute the dullness entirely to labor troubles, and this cause, as well as the financial stringency, has undoubtedly much to do with the result. As it is, one fact stands out in bold relief, and that is that there is very little doing in the market for raw materials, and, though a few lines of finished steel are moving freely, there is not a heavy volume of new orders. That the situation is worse in some ways in Pittsburgh than in other centers seems to be the case, to some extent at least, and sellers refer to the fact that collections are easier outside than in the city, as substantial proof of this statement.

Bessemer pig iron is practically not selling at all at the present time, only an occasional sale of a small lot being reported. Prices are nominally the same as those which ruled a week ago, but in the absence of conditions to make a market and establish values, there is difficulty in arriving at just what quotations should be regarded as prevailing. Forge iron is in much the same condition and has but little call, many of the regular consumers are not running their plants at present, so quotations must be considered as standing where they did a week ago.

Foundry Iron Firmer.

Sellers of foundry iron state that, while there is little new business going, prices are really a little stiffer than they were at this time last week, furnaces having refused orders at less than $15.50 Pittsburgh delivery. They will acknowledge that there have been sales at lower figures, but do not believe there is much more stock to be disposed of at profitless values, and think, therefore, that they will be righted. They make the claim that there is considerable business known to be waiting until the financial pressure is removed.

Manufacturers of finished steel say that orders are coming in regularly, amounts being less on each order than ordinarily, but the aggregate of selling reaches a good total. Some little improvement is noticed in structural shapes, and plates are being specified much more freely than earlier in the month.

Tin plate is still very active, and prices are firm. In sheet iron and steel there is a fair amount of trade going, but the tendency of prices is in an easier direction. Nominal quotations are unchanged, but the concession which has been in vogue for some time is more generally conceded than heretofore.

Coke producers could sell more foundry coke than they are able to manufacture, and are being urged by consumers to make hurried shipments. Foundries are receiving iron on deferred shipments and are using it up, as the demand for coke shows they are not idle. This means that stocks of foundry iron will be increased, and furnaces will be called upon for quick shipments when present contracts are exhausted. Furnace coke is quiet and not being taken out so rapidly as foundry grades.

Manufacturers generally take a hopeful view of the iron and steel situation and believe that demand will brighten before long. There is no fear expressed that business is permanently injured, but there is a universal belief that the future will show it. In support of this claim they urge that buyers are not out of the market altogether, but are simply purchasing cautiously, and covering their wants closely rather than take any risks in laying in large stocks.

Hardware Trade Good.

Hardware trade is still in good shape, and buyers seem to be as anxious for goods and best lines of goods as ever. From this it is argued that they are not much affected by the unconfortable conditions in the stock market, but are attending to their own particular lines, and allowing the stock market to remain in the hands of those professionally in the business. The volume of trade shows a condition equal to and at times a little better than during the same period last year, which was a record breaker, and reports generally indicate that this condition will continue in the hardware business. A large quantity of nails and wire move out, mills reporting the demand as almost greater than the supply on certain sizes, and, when it is considered that the supply has been greatly enlarged, it speaks volumes for the trade in this line. Specifications for builders' hardware are coming forward with great regularity, showing a good class of goods going into buildings now being erected. Seasonable house furnishing goods move out in large quantities, embracing lines of fire shovels, coal hods, Albion gas stoves, oil stoves, stove pipe, sheet iron and goods of like kind. Window glass is moving along at the recently established price in good shape, orders being for better quantities, the trade apparently feeling that a more satisfactory condition has come to pass. A good movement also continues in Masury paints, colors and varnishes. Albion tools continue to be called for with great regularity and in increasing quantities. Prices continue firm, with some advances in certain lines.

MOVEMENT TO CURTAIL OUTPUT UNDER WAY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The Iron Age tomorrow will say: Our monthly blast furnace statistics, which represent conditions as prevailing on October 1, deal with affairs as existing before the measures to restrict pig iron production, were put into effect. They must, therefore, not be taken as indicating the present state of the pig iron industry. The figures show that the production of coke and anthracite pig iron in September was 1,558,711 gross tons, as compared with 1,571,120 tons in August.

The production was, therefore, at practically about the same rate during both months. During September the number of coke and anthracite furnaces blown out was 27, as compared with seven blown in, showing a net reduction of 20. This was sufficient to reduce the weekly capacity of active coke and anthracite furnaces from 580,197 tons on September 1, to 534,474 tons October 1.

A still greater reduction is shown in comparison with the figures for June, when the capacity of the active furnaces was 588,178 tons. Since the beginning of the current month nine blast furnaces are stated to have been blown out in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys, as well as quite a number of stacks in other parts of the country, and still more furnaces are being prepared for blowing out. The movement to restrict production is therefore fairly under way.

The stocks of coke and anthracite pig iron increased during September to the extent of 84,802 tons. This increase is by no means as large as had been expected. Evidently consumption is keeping up much better than would be supposed from the discouraging reports in circulation.

The Chicago market is practically the only important pig iron market showing much life. The demand there has been considerably better the past week, the lower prices now ruling having proved more in line with the views of buyers. Charcoal pig iron was reduced $1 50 per ton, bringing it more closely to coke iron.

The interesting statement is made this week that the negotiations for the purchase by the United States Steel Corporation of a half interest in the Bessemer blast furnaces of the Clairton Steel Company, Pittsburgh, which were supposed to have been completed, have fallen through. The Clairton Steel Company will now be operated as an independent plant.

Inasmuch as the proposition to purchase an interest in these works had been induced by the necessity of the United States Steel Corporation to secure a greater supply of raw material, it is now reasonable to assume that the corporation has decided that conditions have changed since the original plan was framed of additional supplies of pig iron and steel billets.

The trade was greatly disturbed during the week by reports that the Cambria Steel Company of America were about to be placed in the hands of a receiver, but the report was apparently circulated for stock jobbing purposes and has not been confirmed by the executive officers of that company. Conditions in the stock market during the past week have been peculiarly conducive to reports affecting the financial standing of industrial corporations or of officials connected with such companies.

While reports of better business are coming in from some branches of the finished iron and steel trades, these are offset by reports of diminished trade in other branches. Inquiries are again beginning to be received from some of the large railroad systems, but they had not yet placed their rail orders for next year, the reports from steel car companies are more encouraging as to the outlook for business.

Merchant mills are actively employed and the wire trade continues in exceptionally favorable condition. On the other hand a large percentage of the sheet mill capacity of the country is idle and the plate industrial are feeling a slackness of trade in their line to such an extent that important mills are laid off to await an improvement.

IN THE OIL FIELDS.

Developments in the lower southwest continue dull. Nearly all of the new wells are coming in light and a large number total failures. The best well reported yesterday was drilled in by the Carter Oil Company. It is this company's first venture on the Wesley Musgrave farm, located near Wick, Meade district, Tyler county. The oil was developed in the Big Injun sand and the well is flowing at the rate of 300 barrels a day. The location is inside of defined limits and within a short distance of the Ankrom farm, on which some good producers have been drilled in.

In the Elk Fork district, in the same county, several tests are being made. It is the impression with some operators that if the salt water can be disposed of a pool of Big Injun oil can be developed in that locality.

On the west side of the Pine Grove extension, in Wetzel county, the Southern Oil Company & Grenles have drilled their No. 2 on the Furbee heirs' farm into the top of the stray and have a show for a good producer. To the east of the Furbee farm, the Kanawha Oil Company has drilled its No. 2 on the George Morris farm into the top of the stray and will have a good producer.

The South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 2 on the John McElroy farm into the stray seven feet and has no show of oil or gas.

On the east side of the Folsom district, in Harrison county, the South Penn has drilled its No. 5 on the G. W. Talkington farm into the stray 45 feet and has no oil or gas.

The South Penn Oil Company's No. 1 on the N. D. Hunter farm, reported dry a few weeks ago, has been shot in the Gordon and will make a small pumper.

The same company's No. 4 on the Samuel Barker farm, formerly a gasser, is now spraying oil at the rate of 5 barrels a day. Southwest of the Fallen Timber run district, Treat, Crawford & Trees have plugged their No. 4 on the Cosgray-Stewart farm, below the Big Injun and will have a light gasser in that formation.

In the Saleh district, Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the Samuel Cain farm into the stray three feet and has developed a strong gas pressure. They have shut down to move back the boiler and will then drill deeper.

On Buffalo creek, Mannington district, Marion county, the Freeland Oil Company has drilled its test on the F. Michaels farm into the Big Injun and the hole has filled up 800 feet with fluid.

The Butt Oil Company has completed its No. 8 on the Watson Bros.' farm and has a 50-barrel producer in the Big Injun. On Indian Fork, Lewis county, the South Penn Oil Company has completed its test on the J. W. Moody farm and has a duster in all sands.

On McFarlan creek, Ritchie county, the South Penn Oil Company has completed its No. 12 on the Ritchie mines tract and will not have better than a 5-barrel pumper in the Salt sand.

The Burke Farm Oil Company has completed No. 3 on the Burke-Morris farm and has a show for a small pumper.

In the Little development, near New Galilee, Beaver county, Pa., Thompson & Co. have completed and shot their second test on the Martin McGeorge farm and have a show for a small pumper in the Berea grit.

In the Prunes district, Greene county, the Venture Oil Company has drilled its test on the Wolf heirs' farm through the sand and has a producer good for 150 or 175 barrels a day natural. The location is about 800 feet southwest of the well completed several months ago by Ross & Co. on the Dr. Thockmorton farm.

In the Bristoria district the South Penn Oil Company has completed a second test on the Spencer Wade farm and has a small pumper. The American Natural Gas Company's well on the M. A. Leight farm, near Underclitfe, is holding up at 120 barrels a day. Surrounded by small wells, it is quite a remarkable producer.

Northwest of the Ribards Mills district, on Clear Fork, Monroe county, O., William Gordon has completed his test on the Mary Lindewood farm and will have a better than a 2-barrel pumper in the Keener sand.

In the Dexter City district, in Noble county, the Otter Slide Oil Company has completed its No. 1 on the Casper Knopf farm and has a 10-barrel pumper in the 600-foot sand. In the same district, J. H. Mosley has completed No. 9 on the E. C. Clark, jr., farm and has a 12-barrel pumper in the stray below the 600-foot.

On Wolf creek, Washington county, D. B. Allewelt & Co. have completed No. 3 on the Daniel Coleman farm and have a 2-barrel pumper.

In the same district, E. H. Jennings & Bros. have completed No. 12 on the John Zumbro farm and have a duster.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 5 points, for a time it ruled very quiet and featureless, in keeping with the early news, but later became active and firm on a resumption of the demand from various sources recently noted, reports of an improving spot demand, continued apprehensions as to the growing crop and covering. The market closed steady at an advance of 50@10 points. Sales were 68,750 bags, including November at 4.80c, December, 5.05c; January, 5.15c; March, 5.30c; May, 5.45@5.50c; July, 5.60c; September, 5.65@5.70c; No. 7 Rio, 6¼c. Of the great inventions and discoveries of the world probably Steam, the Telegraph, Telephone, Electric Light, Electric Power and the Phonograph are the greatest, and they have paid large profits to the investors, ranging from hundreds to thousands per cent. Admittedly the greatest of all inventions, and destined to be the most useful and profitable, is the Wireless Telegraph invented by Marconi.

The people of America are familiar with the experiments and tests that have been made with the Marconi System in the past three years and of its successful application to commercial purposes. It is no longer an experiment, but a demonstrated success. The system has been adopted by the New York Herald for its great shipping news department, by Lloyd's, the world-renowned agency, and it is in use by all the leading Ocean Steamers in the world. The English and Italian Navies have indorsed the system, and it has the favorable consideration of all the leading governments. Three stations are now being built for the United States Government and others are in operation.

The Marconi Company has plants in operation at South Wellfleet, Cape Cod, Mass.; Nantucket Land Station; Nantucket Light Station, Siasconset, Mass.; Sagaponack, L. I.; Babylon, L. I.; Chicago, Ill., and Milwaukee, Wis.

The United States Government has awarded the company contracts for installing the system in Alaska, and the Cuban government has given the company the privilege of installing the system in that Republic, which will communicate with plants on the Florida Coast. Enabling, as it does, communication with vessels at sea, travelers in all parts of the world may be in constant touch with their offices and homes.

The present stockholders of the company include leading men of the Bell Telephone Company, Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies, high railroad officials, large copper mine operators, and leading bankers, merchants and professional men of the United States.

It is estimated that one Marconi Station will earn $830,650 per year net, or 12 per cent on the entire capital stock, and with fourteen stations, the number of trans-Atlantic cables in operation, earnings would be over $10,000,000 per annum net, or 150 per cent on its capital stock, which would make the stock worth at least 1,500 per cent above par.

The possibilities of increase in the value of securities of this character are illustrated by the following examples: Edison Electric Light shares, which sold at $4,000 cash within one year after they were first offered at $100; purchasers of the shares of the Edison Illuminating Company, a corporation doing business only in New York City, made over 600 per cent on the original investment.

The profits to an original investor of $100 in the Bell Telephone Company during the 25 years of its existence has been over $200,000; those who bought Eastman Kodak shares when first offered may now live comfortably without work from their original investment.

NEW YORK WORLD, Oct. 4, 1903.

"When the Bell Telephone stock was first put upon the market twenty-five years ago, it went begging at $1.00 a share, but $1.00 then invested increased to more than $1,000.00 and the profits of an original investor of $1,000.00 are more than $200,000.

"The scope of the Wireless System is wider than that of the Bell Telephone. It is not unreasonable to assume, therefore, that great fortunes can be made by moderate investments in the Marconi securities, and that small investors will become independently wealthy within a few years. It is likely that certificates representing $5.00 will increase in value 200 or even 300 fold."

THE PITTSBURGH PRESS, Oct. 4, 1903.

"The future earning capacity of the MARCONI WIRELESS TELEGRAPH COMPANY OF AMERICA is believed to be, conservatively considered, the superior investment that has been presented to the public for many years.

"Bell Telephone stock could scarcely be sold at $1.09 a share 25 years ago, yet it increased in value so greatly that the profits of $100.00 invested then would be more than $200,000 now. Edison Electric Light shares, which were offered at $100, sold for $4,000 a year later. Investors in the Edison Illuminating Company, a corporation doing business only in New York, made more than 600 per cent on their original investments.

"The possibilities of an increase in the value of Marconi securities are even greater than they were in the stocks mentioned above."

THE PITTSBURGH TIMES, Sept. 29, 1903.

"The Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company is anxious that the public become interested in the company. Large blocks of the stock have been taken already, and as the company, when properly installed in this country, will be under small operating expense, it is expected that large dividends will be earned."

THE PITTSBURGH DISPATCH, Oct. 10, 1903.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR THE MARCONI SYSTEM.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Sixty warships of the British and 20 of the Italian navy are equipped with the apparatus of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company. Nearly 40 great trans-Atlantic liners use the Marconi, enabling travelers to communicate with the land at will. On a recent voyage of the Lucania more than $800 was collected in tolls. Installation of inland stations is progressing steadily. There are stations at Milwaukee and Chicago, and others will soon be erected. The purchase of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company, of America promises to be a profitable investment, and F. P. Ward & Co., Pittsburgh, are offering a limited amount for sale.

PHILADELPHIA PRESS, Oct. 10, 1903.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9.—The London Times maintains a daily Marconi Wireless Service from Cape Cod. The New York Herald uses the Wireless for the collection of its shipping news. The British Lloyd's have a 15-year contract with the Marconi system. F. P. Ward & Co., Pittsburgh, offer a small block of stock in the MARCONI WIRELESS TELEGRAPH COMPANY for sale at $5.00 a certificate. A rapid advance in price is looked for.

NEW YORK EVENING SUN, Oct. 10, 1903.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9.—(Special.)—Five-dollar certificates in the English company are selling now in London for $18. The field of the MARCONI WIRELESS TELEGRAPH COMPANY OF AMERICA is far wider and will yield greater profits than that of the English corporation. The five-dollar certificates of the American concern, which are offered for sale by F. P. Ward & Co., Pittsburgh, are likely to increase to 200 or even 300 fold in value. The supply is limited.

AN ATTRACTIVE INVESTMENT.

Limited Amount of Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company's Stock Offered for Sale.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9.—Among the directors of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company are: E. Rollins Morse, Boston; Spencer Trask, New York; former United States Attorney General J. W. Griggs, and Robert Goodbody, New York.

THE CINCINNATI ENQUIRER, Oct. 11, 1903.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 10.—The securities of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of America which are offered to the public by F. P. Ward & Co., Pittsburgh, promise to rival in value those of the Bell Telephone Company. Stock in the latter company increased nearly 200 fold in value, and it is believed that Marconi securities will show a greater increase. Only a limited amount of the stock is offered to the public.

NEWS FOR OCEAN TRAVELERS.

The Papers Made Possible by Wireless Telegraphy.

The week spent on the water used to be one during which it was impossible to know anything of the doings of the outside world, and this was rest; but now with the use of the wireless telegraph, vessels often keep in touch with the shore on one side of the ocean or the other all the way over.

Only last week the steamship Zeeland and Minnehaha left different ports on the other side about the same time. They did not sight each other until nearing this port, but they were in communication all the way. A game of chess was arranged between them, one board being on the Zeeland and one on the Minnehaha. The Minnehaha won; and in the paper which is published on the Zeeland a full account of the game was printed, giving every move made.

WORLD'S NEWS IN MID-ATLANTIC MARCONI'S FEAT.

A 1,500 MILE MESSAGE.

By PERCIVAL PHILLIPS, Staff Correspondent.

(Special Cable to The Dispatch.)

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 10.—Signor Marconi, who arrived on the Lucania this morning, was jubilant over the success of his experiments conducted on the way over. His chief achievement was the transmission of news 1,500 miles, a new record.

But the spectacular feature of his work was the publication of a daily newspaper in mid-ocean containing the news of both sides of the Atlantic, received by the wireless system.

Marconi described his experiments to The Dispatch correspondent, who met him on arrival. "I was in constant communication with the shore during the whole voyage," he said. "Daily news bulletins from the American and English stations were printed in the first daily ocean newspaper. The dispatches received and published included a summary of Secretary Chamberlain's speech at Glasgow, which was printed in mid-Atlantic, establishing a new record.

"News messages from Poldhu, Cornwall station, 1,400 miles distant, were received at the same time as those from Glace Bay, Canada, a distance of 1,500 miles. The daily paper published on board contained the world's news. No long-distance messages were s

ANGLO-FRENCH PACT IS SIGNED

ALL EUROPE IS INTERESTED

Coincidence in the Time of King Victor's Visit to Paris May Mean a Similar Treaty Between France and Italy.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The arbitration treaty between Great Britain and France was signed here today by Foreign Secretary Lansdowne and the French ambassador, M. Cambon. The text of the treaty is as follows:

Article I—Differences of a judicial order, of such as relate to the interpretation of treaties existing between the two contracting parties, which may arise between them and which it may not be possible to settle by means of diplomacy, shall be submitted to the permanent court of arbitration established at The Hague by the convention of July 29, 1899, on condition, however, that they do not involve either vital interests or the independence or honor of the two contracting states, and that they do not affect the interests of a third power.

Article II—In each particular case the high contracting parties, before addressing themselves to the permanent court of arbitration, shall sign a special arbitration bond setting forth clearly the subject under dispute, the extent of the powers of the arbitrators and the details to be observed as regards the constitution of the arbitral tribunal and the procedure.

Article III—The present arrangement is concluded for a term of five years from the date of the signature.

CAMBON.
LANSDOWNE.

PARIS, Oct. 14.—The signing of the Anglo-French arbitration treaty in London divided attention with the visit of the king and queen of Italy to Paris. The government regards the treaty as one of the most important achievements of Foreign Minister Delcasse and as likely to exert a far-reaching political influence upon the relations between France and Great Britain and to indirectly influence favorably the relations of all the European powers. The serious journals congratulate the French and British diplomatists, but some of the anti-government newspapers criticise the treaty. The prevailing public sentiment, however, is favorable to it.

The fact that the treaty was signed on the day of the arrival here of King Victor Emmanuel is considered significant, as it is believed that King Victor Emmanuel's visit to President Loubet and the latter's projected visit to the Italian king at Rome may have similar treaty results to the visit of King Edward to President Loubet and the president's return visit to the British sovereign in London.

KING VICTOR IN PARIS; TALK OF NEW TREATY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARIS, Oct. 14.—Republican France gave a royal reception today to King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena of Italy. From the moment when the train bearing the Italian sovereigns stopped at the Bois de Boulogne station until the nation's guests were safely conducted to their apartments at the D'Orsay palace, Paris resounded with acclamations of welcome, the booming of guns and the playing of the national anthems of Italy and France.

It was a welcome which both France and Italy can be proud of, making easier the negotiation of the arbitration treaty which is considered to be one of the important objects of the king's visit.

The train bearing their majesties crossed the frontier early this morning, but the official welcome to French territory was not extended to the sovereigns until their arrival at Dijon at 9:30 o'clock. Only a short stop was made there and the train resumed its journey.

President Loubet, in evening clothes, and Mme. Loubet reached the station at 3:25 o'clock and entered the passage leading to the platform, upon which was drawn up the band of the Republican guard. The station was magnificently decorated with red velvet. There was a canopy over the entrance and the audience salon was ornamented by magnificent draperies, flowers and palms, with the headlight of an engine, a shield and the flags of France and Italy interlaced.

King Victor Emmanuel, in the uniform of a general of the Italian army, stepped from the train, the queen and the suite following. M. Loubet cordially greeted the royal visitors as the band played the Italian national anthem, while the guard of honor presented arms. The party walked to the salon, where the president presented the members of his suite to their majesties.

M. Loubet and the king afterward entered a carriage drawn by four coal-black horses with outriders and escorted by a detachment of cuirassiers. The appearance of the king was the signal for enthusiastic cheers for him. Through a double line of soldiers the president and the king, followed by Mme. Loubet and the queen and their suites, drove down the avenue du Bois de Boulogne, around the Arc de Triomphe.

The royal couple was driven to the D'Orsay palace. At the moment of the start from the station the sun pierced the clouds, adding to the spectacle even more magnificent than that which marked the reception of King Edward by France. Later the Italian king and queen drove to the Elysee palace to formally present their respects to President and Mme. Loubet.

MITCHELL IS LIKELY TO GO.

President of Miners May Be Sent to England to the Trades Congress.

The United Mine Workers of America likely will be the first independent American trade organization to send an official representative to the British trades congress. At present only the American Federation of Labor is represented at the great international labor meeting, but next year President John Mitchell of the miners probably will take part in the deliberations of international labor questions. The British trades congress is made up of representatives in every country where labor organizations exist.

Patrick Dolan, president of the Pittsburgh district of the miners, represented the American Federation of Labor last year, and it was while attending the meeting that he was convinced the miners should have a special representative. Upon his return he agitated the movement to send a representative. It will be decided at the next convention of the miners in Indianapolis on January 1. The various local delegates to the convention are instructed to support President Mitchell for the honor.

Kain's Body Lies in State.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 14.—The body of Archbishop Kain who died last night in Ellicott City, is lying in state at St. Agnes sanitarium. Hundreds of friends and members of the Catholic clergy viewed the remains today. The relatives of the archbishop are awaiting instructions from St. Louis where it is believed the funeral will take place.

COAL WILL COST MORE.

This is the last day for non-consumers of natural gas to take advantage of the great offer of the Philadelphia Company to make service line connections and set meter free of charge. Gas is cheaper than coal, which will cost more this winter. Thousands of small householders who never used gas before will use it this winter. Are you among them? REVIVAL SHOWN IN STEEL STOCKS

FRICK VISITS ROCKEFELLER

Evidence of Standard Oil Company's Efforts to Dominate United States Steel Corporation—Some Bonds Held by Carnegie and Others Sold.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
NEW YORK, Oct. 14.

Wall street was pleased today by the strength shown by the steel stocks. There was not a great deal of activity, but the buying was good. Harris, Gates & Co. were among the buyers of steel as were also Strong, Sturgis & Co. and Coster, Knapp & Co. There were strong indications that the Pittsburgh liquidation is at an end, and this is enough to bolster up the market.

A block of $26,000 steel first mortgage 5 per cent bonds, series A, sold on the curb today at 100 and 100¼. Last week these bonds were quoted at 103 bid, and 106, asked, without any transactions. Shortly after the United States Steel Corporation was formed these bonds sold above 112 and sales at private contract are reported to have been made at 114.

These are the bonds held by Andrew Carnegie and certain other of the Carnegie Steel Company interests, who received the main part payment for their Carnegie stock. The entire issue of $304,000,000 in five series, from A to E, Mr. Carnegie received a large majority of them, not all of them, as many have assumed. Messrs. Schwab, Frick and others were allotted some. It has been reported for some time that these bonds were changing hands.

"I have a pretty good understanding of the United States Steel situation as affecting the control and finances of the corporation. I understand, also, something of Standard Oil methods. The Standard Oil people are determined to dominate the United States Steel Corporation, and they will make more money out of it than they ever made in oil, if they succeed in their plans.

"They have opposed the payment of dividends upon the common stock and they are planning to increase the cash in the company's treasury to $100,000,000, and when their plans are completed they will have the disposition of that cash and the distribution of the greatest railroad tonnage that exists under one management in the United States today.

"I saw James Stillman take H. C. Frick in an automobile from the side door of a New York hotel after everybody was at church Sunday morning and then I learned later where he was taken. It was to the Rockefeller house, where he spent the day. At the United States Steel directors' meeting no Rockefeller was present, but Mr. Frick moved to secure the reduction in the common stock dividend to the basis of the Amalgamated company dividend."

The Pittsburgh correspondent of one of the large brokerage houses here sent the following: "We think Pittsburgh went through the crisis of its liquidation Tuesday and that things will be better from now on. Our banks are in good condition, taking liberal care of every customer who deserves it."

Autumn Excursion to Rhododendron Park.

JUDGE WILSON SAW GOVERNOR

THEN WENT TO PHILADELPHIA

Committee of Beaver Man's Supporters Also Called Upon Pennypacker and Attempted to Get Some Expression on Situation from the State's Executive.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
HARRISBURG, PA., Oct. 14.

Judge J. Sharpe Wilson of Beaver, who is an applicant for appointment to the vacancy in the state supreme court, created by the death of Chief Justice McCollum, was in Harrisburg today and called on Gov. Pennypacker. His visit to the governor had no connection with his candidacy for the supreme court. With him was ex-Representative Kennedy of New Brighton.

They went to Philadelphia this afternoon to confer with Senator Penrose. After Judge Wilson left Harrisburg a delegation of his friends called on the governor to urge his appointment. The governor declined to commit himself on the matter or indicate when the appointment will be made. The delegates consisted of W. Frank Penn, recorder of Washington county; Dan H. Stone, Republican County Chairman Gerr, Prothonotary Judd of Beaver county and Postmaster McDowell of New Brighton.

Rodney A. Mercer of Towanda, son of the Republican chief justice, Mercer, who is also an applicant for, would decide to give the appointment to Northwestern Pennsylvania, was here today in conference with his political friends.

Insurance Commissioner Durham was in Harrisburg this afternoon for the first time since his return from Europe and had a long conference with the governor. Mr. Durham said he had simply called for the purpose of paying his respects. He had nothing to say in regard to the vacant supreme court judgeship, but it seems to be accepted that the appointment will not be announced until the return of Senator Quay from the Maine woods.

BIG BAKERY DESTROYED.

McKeesport Concern Suffers Its Third Disastrous Fire in Two Years.

The plant of the McKeesport Baking Company in Market street, McKeesport, was destroyed by fire at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, the fire being the third that has been suffered by the concern within two years. The loss is $30,000 and the insurance is about $12,000.

The firemen are alleged to have been delayed in reaching the burning building on account of obstructing trains on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad. The baking company has threatened to bring suit against the railroad for damages.

Dwelling houses on either side of the bakery were damaged and the occupants were obliged to flee in their night clothing. Tuesday night's baking, consisting of 6,000 loaves, was destroyed, and 2,000 families were forced to bake their own bread or to seek their supply in grocery stores.

Pittsburgh Orchestra Concerts.

One week remains in which to subscribe for the Pittsburgh Orchestra season tickets. All subscribing now have equal opportunity with those who subscribed at the election on October 22, of the sales on following days. There are seats remaining at the three evening prices of $20, $15 and $10 and for the afternoon concerts. The list of soloists this season includes many of the best artists of two continents. The opening concerts are Founder's day evening, November 5, and Saturday afternoon, November 7, with Louise Homer, contralto soloist. No single tickets will be sold until November 2.

Pennsylvania Leads Plan to Keep Its Cars Off Negligent Lines

The Pennsylvania has taken the lead, closely seconded by the Lake Shore and other Vanderbilt lines, in a general refusal to allow its freight cars to be used on roads which have made bad records for promptness in returning these cars. Certain lines west of Chicago have been the worst offenders in this way, it is claimed, and the plans now being made will result in the traffic to be delivered to them by the eastern lines being much lessened.

The inadequacy of terminal facilities is the reason for the adoption of the regulations. Cars which go off the eastern roads are liable to be tied up for weeks on some siding in the west awaiting unloading, and even the "per-diem" system of car charges does not compensate the owning roads for the loss of their equipment for this time.

It was expected that the per-diem system would cause many of the lines which depend largely upon borrowed cars to make large additions to their equipment. It has, to a certain extent, done this, but it is considered necessary by transportation men to make the per-diem charges still higher to insure the use of cars by the lines which own them.

Pennsy Operating Officials Meet.

The regular meeting of the operating officials of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh will be held today under the chairmanship of General Manager G. L. Peck. The subject of winter traffic and the needs of the system at large, as well as the individual parts, to take care of the prospective business will be discussed. The meeting is one of the monthly gatherings which take place at regular intervals in the departments of the Pennsylvania, and are intended to facilitate business through the benefit of close personal acquaintance as much as to solve any particular problem that arises from time to time.

Lines West Inspection Next Week.

The annual track inspection of the Pennsylvania lines west will take place next week. The start is being made from Pittsburgh this Monday morning. About 200 officials of the operating and engineering departments will make the trip. The inspection will require five days and will include the greatest part of both the southwest and the northwest systems. The prizes given for excellence of road work are awarded on the basis of the showing made by each party. The trip ends Friday, and it is expected that the announcements of awards will be made about the following Wednesday.

Big Deal Involving the Erie Is On.

Despite the lack of official statement, there are many who believe the report that a consolidation of the Erie and the Chicago & Alton is foreshadowed by the recent election of E. H. Harriman to the board of the Erie. Mr. Harriman is the principal owner of the Alton. The visit of James J. Hill, who is one of the controlling interests in the Erie, to Presidents Cassatt and Loree of the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio, is also connected with this move. The Erie is one of the community-of-interest properties, and the sentiment of the other trunk lines toward an amalgamation of the kind would need to be considered. Important plans of this character are undoubtedly under consideration, but the details are being kept very quiet.

Railroad Notes.

An additional ticket window is to be built at the Union station where the check window is now located. The latter will be removed to a place provided for it in the lobby between the waiting room and the trainshed.

The announced entrance of the Pacific Express Company into Cincinnati over the line of the new Chicago, Cincinnati & Louisville is taken as an indication that the Goulds are the backers of the mysterious new road, despite the denials that have been made.

Chief Engineer W. H. Brown of the Pennsylvania railroad spent yesterday here inspecting the new work being done in his department. Mr. Brown has just let the contracts for the shops, etc., of the big new yards under construction at Fairview, on the Northern Central.

Found Counterfeit Money and Dies.

The finding of a glass jar of counterfeit money in a mountain near Mill Run, Fayette county, caused the arrest of William Hostetler, who was brought to Pittsburgh by Deputy United States Marshal George S. Ownes to be tried on a charge of making spurious coin. Upon investigation the dies were found with which the coin was made.

Glass Scales to Be Settled.

Two important glass conferences will be held in Pittsburgh next week, Wednesday the scale agreement of the shade and castor workers will be adjusted. Thursday the scale for the mold makers will be settled.
